PALM BEACH TO PRINCE RUPERT

WELL-TRAVELLED STATION WAGON ARRIVES HERE

Out of West Palm Beach, Florida, since June 16 and planning to be away until September or October, Brothers A. W. and Clyde Wyndham, Uncle J. G.

Wyndham and Stepther J. R. Land are in Prince Rupert for a few days in their well-travelled 1940 Pontiac station wagon carrying the publicity legend: "Come to West Palm Beach, Florida to Alaska and Back Again." There is no contest or stake involved in the trip which is merely a leisurely holiday, taking things as they come and seeing the country.

The men with their car have booked to proceed to Ketchikan on the Prince Rupert tomorrow night and plan to head from there, if they can obtain the necessary transportation, to Anchorage or Seward and on to Fairbanks over the Alaska Highway and thence home. They had never heard of the Haines Cut-off until they arrived in Prince Rupert and called at the Daily News office yesterday afternoon. Thereupon they started to look into the possibilities of taking their car to Haines and entering Alaska from that point.

on the roadside. Their trip from Florida has so far registered 5,117 miles. Lashed to the top of their car is a round-bottomed rowboat which they launch in likely looking roadside lakes or streams to do a spot of fishing.

Compared to the paved highways of the United States the party has found the British Columbia roads "dusty and rough but passable," adding that they are used to roughing it, however, and there was really no particular bother.

A. W. Wyndham and his uncle J. G. Wyndham are engaged in the construction trade at West Palm Beach. Clyde Wyndham is just out of the United States Navy after six years' service and plans on going to college, this fall. J. R. Land is a diesel mechanic.

ALIVE, LUCKY

American Geologist Takes Three Weeks For Four-Day Trip

EDMONTON, @—An American geologist, Robert Parry of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, started from Mile 363 on the Alaska Highway on a planned four-day trip to Fort Nelson. It took longer than he expected. He arrived last night, three weeks from the starting date, lucky to be alive. Parry had been rescued from a rocky ledge overlooking the Dunedin River where he had been stranded in a gorge unable to climb after his dinghy capsized enroute.

More than a week previously he had been located by a Royal Canadian Air Force search plane but it was another week before rescuers could reach him.

MAYOR ARNOLD OFF TO REGINA

To Be Honored As Canada's "Woman of the Year"

Mayor Nora E. Arnold, who has been chosen Canada's "Woman of the Year" by the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, left Monday by car for Regina where she will be formally invested with the honor at the group's annual convention next week.

With her on her way to the Saskatchewan capital is Mrs. Basil S. Prockter. They plan to motor as far as Prince George, then ship the car to Jasper, continuing by highway to Edmonton, Calgary and Regina.

They are expected to return about July 26 after driving over the Big Bend Highway to Kamloops, then over the Cariboo and northern trans-provincial highways, a total distance from Regina of about 2,000 miles.

During Mayor Arnold's absence, Alderman T. B. Black is acting Mayor.

MOTOR NOMADS

A California couple who live a nomadic life for about 10 months of every year in their elaborate aluminum trailer which is just about the last word as far as appointments and equipment in the modern covered wagon is concerned are in Prince Rupert on their way to Alaska. They are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Peterson of Oceanside, near San Diego, who arrived at the week-end in their Dodge car with canoe on top and will sail tomorrow afternoon on the Prince Rupert for a brief visit to Ketchikan unless they can make arrangements in the meantime for transport of themselves and their outfit to Haines in which case the night head for the Alaska Highway cut-off and thence return home.

Mr. Peterson is a retired automobile dealer and, with Mrs. Peterson, now spends most of his time enjoying life on the highways of the continent. They left Oceanside on the present trip May 17 and came north via the Okanagan. They have no complaints about the roads although it was "a bit rough" between Terrace and Tye. They were impressed with the magnificent scenery of the lower Skeena valley and approach to Prince Rupert.

Defence Talks

Canada, States Meet with Western Powers in Anti-Soviet Move

OTTAWA, @—The government disclosed yesterday that the United States was initiating "exploratory" discussions with defence-pooling countries of Europe's western union—talks which may lead to formation of an anti-Soviet Atlantic pact.

The discussions opened in Washington today, marking the first long-awaited step toward a security arrangement with five western powers who are already pledged to defend their democratic way of life against any aggressor—with arms if necessary.

In making the announcement, the Department of External Affairs said that the discussions "at this stage at least will be purely exploratory and on the diplomatic and not the government level."

INDUSTRY FOUNDED IN 1720

The first establishment of tin plate manufacture in Britain was in South Wales in 1720, and the replacement by hammering and rolling came eight years later.

"Ike" Chooses Not To Run

WILL NOT BE DEMO PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE

NEW YORK (CP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower last night flashed the "stop" sign at the "Ike for President" band wagon but many Democratic supporters ignored the signal while other anti-Trumanites started desperately to find another candidate who might be acceptable to the forthcoming Philadelphia convention.

The General said: "I will not at this time identify myself with any political party and I could not accept nomination for public office."

President Truman, enroute back to Washington from a speaking trip to Missouri, was reported cheered at Eisenhower's action. He said Eisenhower "is one honorable man" and he had not expected him to be a candidate.

EISENHOWER

EVACUEES BACK

Most of the residents of the Usk and Terrace area have returned to their homes which they were forced to evacuate during the recent floods, according to information received at the local social welfare office. Only two houses at Usk were rendered permanently uninhabitable—those of Miss Barbara Post and the Mackenzie family—and one at Terrace, that of Mrs. Nigel Sherwood.

Department of Lands officials, including Hon. E. T. Kenney, the minister, personally, have completed a survey of the situation with a view to drawing up a program of flood protection for the future.

The provincial police have made a valuation of the actual damage. Usk's main industry, the Adams mill on the south side of the river—is running again, transport for the workers being by a rowboat ferry for which new towers and cable were speedily rigged up. The former ferry was carried away by the flood waters.

With the possible exception of one family, it is expected that the people of Braun's Island, near Terrace, will be able to return to their homes.
