HIGH SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE

Mothers and Fathers Visit Booth Memorial to See What Goes On

Open house at Booth Memorial High School Thursday afternoon brought out seventy-five mothers and a few fathers for a tour of the school. Guides from the senior classes met the visitors at the door and conducted them to rooms in which their children were taking classes, then throughout the school.

Classes continued, as usual, insofar as possible in order that parents could see a routine afternoon. Pounding of typewriters, English compositions, turning of lathes, painting of murals, sewing fine seams, working mathematical problems were viewed in various rooms.

Tea was served by Home Economics classes who had been busily baking cookies and cakes. Over the tea cups parents and teachers discussed "Johnny's" progress.

The farad, a measure of electrical energy, takes its name from Michael Faraday (1791-1867), an English pioneer in electrical research.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a good wall brush?

A. A good wall brush can be improvised by covering the broom with clean flannel. Brush the ceiling and walls with a downward stroke. Replace the flannel as it becomes soiled.

Q. How can I mend a large hole in a woollen sweater?

A. Try basting a piece of material on the wrong side and darning through the patch. It will make the darn stronger and will keep the shape of the garment.

Q. How can I save time

THIS AND THAT

"I didn't think I got it in."

DEWEY BACK ON THE JOB—Three's still a smile on New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey's face as he settles down to his governing job in Albany, in spite of his startling defeat in the U.S. presidential election. An aide hands him some papers and Dewey knows that win or lose in the presidential election, he's still got a lot of state business to take care of.

Jasper Scenes Are Appealing

"Emperor Waltz" Is Picture of More Than Usual Local Interest

The gorgeous mountain scenery of Jasper Park, where the outside locations were taken, makes "Emperor Waltz," with Bing Crosby and Joan Fontaine, showing at the Capitol Theatre here until the end of this week, a picture of more than usual local appeal. In fact, the scenery is the big feature of the picture. Many Prince Rupert people have been at Jasper—among the mountains, along the roads and amid the various resorts—and for these it is interesting to see in beautiful technicolor so many familiar scenes.

Rockies of Jasper are used to represent the background of the Tyrolean Alps for a romance between Crosby, as an American salesman of a new musical recording invention, and Miss Fontaine, as an Austrian countess. The court of Emperor Franz Josef is shaken by the romance in which Crosby's aristocratic dog and the countess' pet dog play a prominent part. The story is set to a delightful musical score. Crosby features some modelling in his singing and echoing Tyrolean choruses are very effective. "Emperor Waltz," "Friendly Mountains," "The Kiss In Your Eyes," "I Kiss Your Hand, Madame" and "The Whistler and His Dog" are featured.

CABIN ROBBERS ON Q.C. ISLANDS

John Anderson, who formerly lived on the east coast of Graham Island where he engaged in extracting gold from the black sands, called at the Daily News office to complain of persistent robbing of not only his but the cabins of other men similarly engaged. In fact, it got so bad that Mr. Anderson decided to leave the Islands. It was the custom to leave cabins stocked with provisions and even ammunition but every time they were left alone, the same thing happened. They were broken into and rifled.
