

Wedding Fair

Garnet Jackson was groomsman and Mrs. Norman McNabb was her mother's attendant.

The bride was charming in an afternoon gown of dove grey crepe with embroidered flying panels. Her small plumed hat and accessories were in tone. She carried an ivory prayer book and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. McNabb had chosen a gabardine suit in wine color with matching accessories and corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at which the happy couple received the congratulations of many friends.

Mrs. W. C. Osborne, as hostess for the guests was assisted by Mrs. McNabb. The hostess was gowned in an afternoon dress of soft blue, with embroidered panels and corsage of white carnations.

A dainty buffet supper was served from a lace covered table in the dining room. The table was centred by pink and white chrysanthemums and white tapers as was the smaller table from which the bridal cake was cut and served. The cake was very unusual, the lower layer being in the form of a Maltese cross.

Toasts to the bride and groom were proposed by Rev. P. H. Mallett, Harry King and Garnet Jackson to which the groom responded.

Mr. King also proposed a toast to the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Osborne, whose thirty-fourth wedding it was.

Congratulatory telegrams were received by the newlyweds, including one from Hon. and Mrs. E. T. Kenney in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Newhouser left on the early morning train for a honeymoon trip to Edmonton, Alberta. On their return they will reside on Lakelse Avenue East.

Cold But Plenty Of Water, Power

TERRACE—Zero weather still prevails in Terrace, with some parts of the town experiencing a stiff wind, which is not at all comfortable. When the wind dies down, the weather although cold, is not too bad but many parts of the business section have been without water for some time, due to the freezing of the mains. Most houses, even if frozen temporarily, manage to get thawed out, and there is a plentiful water supply, while electricity is abundant.
