Big Leagues—

All Stars For Season

NEW YORK—Seven players from the American league and four from the National make up the 1950 major league All-Star team selected for the Associated Press by 381 sports writers and sportscasters from coast to coast.

Half of the 16 big league clubs, four in each circuit, are represented in the AP's fifth annual All-Star squad.

The world champion New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox are the only clubs to have more than one representative. In addition to short-stop Phil Rizzuto, the most popular of the 11 selections, the Yanks landed Outfielder Joe DiMaggio and Catcher Yogi Berra. The Red Sox provide first baseman Walt Dropo and Utility Man Billy Goodman. PHILLIES OMITTED

Not a single member of the National league champion Philadelphia Phils made the team. In fact the only first division club to be represented is Brooklyn. One man from St. Louis, one from Pittsburgh and one from Boston complete the National league entry. Detroit and Cleveland of the American league also placed one each.

All-Star team:
First base—Walter Dropo, Red Sox.
Second base—Jackie Robinson, Dodgers.
Third base—George Kell, Tigers.
Shortstop—Phil Rizzuto, Yankees.
Left field—Ralph Kiner, Pirates.
Right field—Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinals.
Centre field—Joe DiMaggio, Yankees.
Catcher—Yogi Berra, Yankees.
Righthanded pitcher—Bob Lemon, Indians.
Lefthanded pitcher—Warren Spahn, Braves.
Utility—Billy Goodman, Red Sox.

Five of the players are hold-overs from the 1949 All-Star. They are Jackie Robinson, Dodgers; George Kell, Tigers; Phil Rizzuto, Yankees; Stan Musial, Cardinals; and Ralph Kiner, Pirates. Ted Williams, who finished fifth among the fivebatters, failed to make the team for the first time since the ball was inaugurated in 1946. The Red Sox slugger was sidelined for two months with a fractured elbow.
