CLIC—This bullet-riddled, bloodstained union jack told the story of the Second World War. Captured and Canadian Infantry Division at Dieppe seven years for two years in the Dieppe office of a German when the colonel attempted to ship the flag to German woman, Madame Jovens of Dieppe, stole it and until the 2nd Division returned Sept. 1, 1944. Now in the Canadian War Museum at Ottawa, the flag is owned by Pte. Alex McDougall to two Ottawa girls, Claire and Huguette Carriere. (C. P. Photo)

YOUNG PAL—Thirteen-year-old Lai Gang Yim picked a travelling companion to tell him what Canada would be like. He struck up a friendship with Dave Rogers, editor of the Leader-Post during their flight from China to Vancouver. The youngster is joining his parents at Woodville, B. C., after Rogers returned from a tour of Australia and China to the Orient on the Canadian Pacific Air Lines in flight to Australia. (C. P. Photo)

CRIPPLED SHIP MAKES HARBOR

HALIFAX—One of the two ships crippled by storms off the Nova Scotia coast headed for port at the week-end. The other was waiting help. The Panamanian freighter Evgenia escorted by the Canadian destroyer Iroquois was due in the harbor about noon. She was bound from New York to Halifax when she lost her steering and emergency gear.
A tug raced to Scatar Island off the east coast of Cape Bre-ton Island where an 1800-ton floating drydock was beached yesterday after having sprung a leak. It will be refloated.

EARL JOHNSON (Continued from Page 1)

"I said: 'You'll have to load first.'"
The woman raised the axe, but Tony Silvey stopped her from striking, she said. Then she ran from the wheel house.
Mrs. Johnson said that Earl and Vic were always threatening each other.
Mrs. Johnson went to the Standard Oil dock and telephoned the police. When Corporal Taylor came aboard the boat, the woman struck Earl with the axe, wounding him on the left arm.
As Mrs. Johnson and Corporal Taylor entered the forecastle, Clifford left the boat through a skylight.
When the shooting occurred, Mr. Johnson and Silvey were in the galley and Clifford and Earl Johnson and Dolan in the forecastle with Vic.

Clifford Johnson testified that Vic was "after me, no one else" when he drew that knife.
Dolan testified that Earl had accused Clifford of attempting to become familiar with Mrs.
Johnson.

Corporal A. H. Taylor of the city police said that Earl had appeared to be "very intoxicated" when he came aboard the boat after the shooting. Corporal Taylor said that Vic was slumped against the engine with the knife in front of him when he appeared.

Crown counsel T. W. Brown called Constable Fred Gibson to the stand. Constable Gibson stated that when he went aboard the Izuimi III on Saturday evening, Dolan and Silvey were both intoxicated. Cliff Johnson was not on board at the time. Mrs. Jenny Johnson appeared sober. He went on board with Corporal Taylor, Mrs.
Johnson was in the galley.

The three went into the forecastle with Mrs. Johnson leading, followed by Corporal Taylor. On the way down Mrs.
Johnson grabbed the hatchet off a seat and went towards the accused who was sitting on a bunk, wielding it in the air.
The accused grabbed her left shoulder. The body of Vic Johnson was beside the engine and the witness had to step over it.
A knife lay between the deceased's legs.

Mrs. Johnson said nothing when Corporal Taylor took the axe from her.
In the forecastle Mrs. Johnson accused Earl Johnson of having shot her husband. Corporal Taylor arrested the accused after Dr. Macdonald said that Vic Johnson was dead.

Witness corroborated statements made by previous witnesses.
Mrs. Ray, defence counsel cross-examined Constable Gibson as to the order in which he, Corporal Taylor and Mrs. Johnson had gone into the forecastle, also when the axe was picked up by Mrs. Johnson.

Crown prosecutor T. W. Brown then called Sergeant Potterton to the stand. The various steps taken in the arrest of the accused, the identification of various exhibits, the proceedings at the autopsy were reviewed. Sergeant Potterton said that he had known the deceased reasonably well for the last twelve years. He had seen the various witnesses and had spent an hour with Mrs. Johnson. She was sober and at the first, excited. There was no indication that she had consumed any liquor.

Crown counsel recalled Corporal Taylor and cross-examined him with reference to the clothing and the state of the tear in the sleeve. No blood was then visible from the outside.
In reply to a question from defence counsel, Corporal Taylor stated that the cut in the sleeve was "approximately where Mrs. Johnson had hit him in the arm" and hit him hard.
After the summing up by Magistrate Vance the accused said that he had nothing to say.
Magistrate Vance then ruled that a prima facie case had been made out against the accused and committed him for trial at the Fall assizes to begin September 26th in Prince Rupert.

At the suggestion of Crown Counsel T. W. Brown Magistrate spoke to the witnesses Michael Dolan, Tony Silvey and Cliff Johnson. The magistrate expressed his appreciation of the way in which they had conducted themselves and had appeared for the trial. He was willing to release them in the meantime on their undertaking to be present when the case came up for trial in September.
The witnesses gave the necessary undertaking.

SMITHERS PAIR ARE JOINED IN MORNING RITES

SMITHERS—A popular wedding ceremony was solemnized at the St. Joseph's Catholic Church on Wednesday when Margaret Mary Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dunn became the bride of James Ronald Goodacre, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Goodacre. Both families are of Smithers.

The lovely morning rite was performed in a floral setting by Rev. E. M. LeRay, O.M.I., of Smithers, assisted by Rev. O.
Mohan, O.M.I. of Telkwa.

The bride's wedding costume was a gorgeous, trained white satin gown, low cut and buttoned down the back. Her flowing veil was held in place with a band of orange blossoms and "mother-of-pearl." The train was carried by two small page boys, Casey and Dinty Moore. She was given in marriage by her father and carried a white prayer book and bouquet of white carnations and heather.
Matron of honor was Mrs. J. Silver, in a rose taffeta gown with picture hat and matching accessories. Bridesmaid was Margaret Le Doux of Victoria who wore a floor length gown of pale yellow nylon with picture hat to match. Each carried a bou-quet of Michaelmas daisies and roses.

Attending the bridegroom was his brother Clarence Good-acre. Ken Warner, Walter Watson and Mickey Dunn were ushers.

Miss Cecilia Hibber sang Panis Angelicus at the offertory and during the signing of the register, Carl Spicer sang Ave Maria. Miss M. McDonnell was organist.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the parish hall for the immediate families and friends and a reception in the afternoon at the Anglican Hall. The couple left after the reception for a short honeymoon at Kamloops. For travelling, the bride wore a wine-colored gabardine suit with black accessories and corsage of white carnations.

WED QUIETLY AT UNITED CHURCH

A quiet informal wedding in the presence of a few friends took place at the First United Church, Prince Rupert, on the evening of August 19, when Miss Ramona Mae Tarlishy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Tarlishy of Prince Rupert, became the bride of William Andrew Patterson, also of Prince Rupert. Reverend Lawrence G. Sieber, minister of First United Church, performed the wedding ceremony.

Mrs. Myra Gilchrist was matron of honor and John Young, Foxwarren, Manitoba, was the groomsman.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Gilchrist when the newly-weds were the recipients of hearty congratulations from their friends.

TERRACE— DOLLY HAUGLAND SHOWER HONOREE

Miss Elizabeth (Dolly) Haug-land, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Haugland, who is to be married next week to Pete Murie of the Terrace Hotel, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower at the I.O.O.F.
Hall on Wednesday evening.

Taken by surprise the bride-to-be was brought into the hall and seated at a small table, where her mother, Mrs. Emil Haugland, and Mrs. Murie, mother of the future bridegroom were already seated. The table was lovely with a pretty lace cloth, and tapers in crystal holders, flanked a small wedding cake, iced and beautifully decorated.

Numerous parcels, daintily wrapped, were placed in a cleverly contrived "Wishing Well," and handed to the guest of honor to unwrap.

Over sixty ladies were present at the affair, and after the bride to be had thanked those present in a very nice little speech, refreshments were served at long tables, decorated with bowl of gorgeous sweet peas, and dianthus, the gift of Mrs.
Claude King.

Hostesses for the happy affair were Mrs. Delma Frank, Mrs.
Carmen McIlroy, Mrs. Josephine Harrison, Mrs. Ken Kerr, Mrs.
Flo Campbell, Mrs. Eva Pache, Mrs. Pat Judd, Mrs. Doris Finlayson, Mrs. Kay Graaf, and Miss Ina Smith, and Mrs. Edna Cooper.
