Rupert will be the Warren Allister Santi bride, the former Vera Larson, daughter of Mrs. H. J. Larson, who resided in St. Thomas in Vancouver recently. Frank Butler officiated. The bride's sheer white gown was characterized by a neckline, lily point and a flowing skirt on Queen Anne headress. Her finger-tip length train was her only ornament was her ruby pendant. She carried a bouquet of red and white carnations.

Keep Children Away
From Septic Tanks

City engineer Don Stewart issued a warning yesterday regarding overflowed septic tanks. He stated, a youngster was playing around one of these tanks and picked up a chunk of ice obviously contaminated. "This is very dangerous," the engineer stated, "and it would be a good policy for parents to keep their children away from septic tanks, overflowed or otherwise."

TO START GOAT FARM IN CANADA—Canada's goat population is increased by 30 with the arrival in Canada of pure-bred Nubians, bound for Vancouver Island. Mrs. May Stansby, shown here bottle feeding one of the kids, raised the herd in England, intends to start a goat dairy farm in British Columbia.

BUILT FOR TWO—A motorcycle built for two is this fuel-saving streamlined model on display at a motor show in London, Eng. It is one of the models Britain hopes to export to capture dollars.

2,000 - YEAR - OLD BIBLE PARCHMENT—His grace, the Rev. Athanasius Yeshue Samuel, archbishop and metropolitan of Jerusalem and Trans-Jordan, is shown with a 24-foot roll of parchment containing virtually the entire text of the Book of Isaiah from the Old Testament. It is one of the three ancient Hebrew scrolls placed on public display in the Library of Congress. The first time they'll be seen by the general public anywhere in the world. They were found in a cave south of Jericho in 1947 by two Arab shepherds when their wayward goat, seeking greener pastures, led them to the secret hideaway. Believed to be over 2,000 years old, they're hailed as the greatest find of biblical documents in history. Archbishop Samuel is lending them to the Library of Congress.

IT CAN BE DONE — Housing problems are being solved by co-operation in Clarkson, Ont. A group of professional men have banded together to build their own homes in their spare time, saving, they estimate, $50,000. Here is one of the houses under construction.

MISS THE PAS—One of five candidates for the title of Fur Queen of the North, to be selected at the third annual northern Manitoba trappers' festival, Feb. 1-4 is Helen Fossuin beauty parlor operator, who was elected Miss The Pas at meeting of The Pas Community club. She is sponsored by the community club.

Water Crisis Continuing
Even though weather ameliorates the critical condition of the city's water supply continues. Don Stewart, city engineer, announced yesterday that 125 calls had been put in to the water department requesting the services of a thawing machine. He was considering putting two shifts to work to speed up the release of water to many frozen up business and residential premises throughout the city. Two commercial water-thawing outfits have been assisting the city crew and equipment. Buildings on higher levels are taking the greatest beating. A dwelling on Fourth Avenue West has sufficient water on the first floor but pressure is not great enough to boost it to the second storey. In many cases water is nil in residences. Arising in the morning, wife and husband discover no water in the taps. Wife goes to the neighbor's house and does her daily washing chores while husband treks with her or visits the Civic Centre for a wash and shave. Frozen ground is making matters difficult for the waterworks department. In order to thaw out many of the frozen pipes, a drill is required. In many cases the pick and shovel are leaving employees with aching backs and cold hands. Booster pumps continue to flow about 3,500,000 gallons of water a day into the city lines and, unless a major fire occurs, no further crisis is expected. Should a large fire occur, connections from the main line would be shut off. The Fire Department announced chemicals would not be of much help in a large blaze. Department announced chemicals would not be of much help in a large blaze. Police and firemen have been making personal calls appealing for utmost caution against fire. The city has two thawing rigs at work. In some cases, a pipe can be thawed out in a few minutes, while another may require three hours labor.
