

In This Corner

By DICK AYRES

Play in Prince Rupert Basketball association Senior B league gets underway in earnest tonight when the last year's champions Gordon and Andersons take on the Columbia Cellulose 300 Club in the second game of the newly-inaugurated 1953-54 season. Saturday night G & A didn't look particularly effective against Manson's but the same could be said about CCC who finally got around to trouncing a disorganized Terrace squad. Thus the way is open tonight for a much closer game with Pop Pay's Millers and Minor Simundsen's hardware crew both out for their first win. With only one league game played Danny Bill has set 16 points as a mark for which to shoot.

As a matter of interest this corner is keeping a game-by-game point race schedule although we sincerely hope that it doesn't result in any break-up of combinations or perpetual solo efforts by point-happy sharpshooters.

Basketball commission chairman Fred Jones has located all the seven or eight trophies yet to be presented to outstanding cagers and the silverware is being polished up and repaired at the moment. The prizes, which include the Civic Centre Most Valuable Player Trophy and the Bobby Houston Memorial Trophy for the most sportsmanlike player, will be presented in about two weeks time. A committee made up of Bob Armstrong, Howard Hogan and Bill Brett are in charge of making the selections.

Also getting underway tonight are Inter-A and Inter-B leagues, both expected to provide plenty of talent. Art Olson is coaching the Manson Inter-B entry which meets General Motors in the opener. Don Hartwig will call the plays for the Motors squad which has enough players to use the platoon system on a grand scale. General Motors had 14 players signed up to last night to the Manson's seven.

Signed with Manson's are Al Hodgkins, Harold Webber, Billy Sedgewick, Tommy Sedgewick, Bob Barnes, Mel Anderson and Chris Erickson. The Motors roster includes Ted Leask, Charley Lewis, Jimmy Saville, Bert Tipton, Mike Jones, Jim Carlson, Morris Dean, Terry Auld, Terry Shenton, Bruce Forward, Bob Pedersen, Bruce Stanwood, Phil Lyons and Eugene Nelson.

While kicking around all these names, which will appear throughout the season in sports writeups, we would appreciate it if any of those mentioned who have double-barreled names or whose parents blessed them with handles like Throgmorton Percival Fogbound, would inform us personally, by phone or by letter to the sports department as to whether they are known, sportswise, as Bud, Bill, Hank or Stinky.

Inter-A league play, now set for the season after the high school informed the cage commission that it wouldn't be providing senior talent this year, sees Fraser & Payne meet North Star Bottling Works in the middle fixture tonight.

Don Hartwig will be doubling in brass tonight since he will also be coaching the Fraser & Payne entry, composed mainly of the players for whom the Inter-A age limit was raised to 23 for the Prince Rupert league only. Scheduled to see action tonight for the drygoods squad are Ron Ciccone, Henry McKay, Gary Morison, Fred Kristmanson, Greig Forbes, Jim Stewart and Doug Sankey.

The North Star aggregation with Jack Evans as coach will have eight players from which to choose including Richard Austin Hickerson (see what we mean), Bill Donaldson, Art Turcotte, Art Helim, Raymond McKay, Ron Black, Bill Morrison and Rod Tait.

Prince Rupert curlers have been betrayed by the mild weather and the rink, just in the midst of Gordon Hardware trophy play has been closed down due to soft ice which was proving dangerous for play. Curling club president Jack Laurie said this morning that the condensation machine, expected to remove moisture dripping from the girders, is being shipped from Vancouver today and will arrive Friday. That means a work bee will be slated for the weekend, so any of you broom and stone men who figured on getting the weekend off have another think coming. While on the subject of curlers we have a correction to make. In our last column we said that Fred Aston was the chairman of the draw committee and t'aint so. Bill Baxter is the boss of the draws and has been out of action due to illness. Hope we're forgiven.

For some strange reason news editors have the mistaken idea that chess constitutes a sport and whenever a chess story comes along they immediately pass the buck to ye sports ed. Now if ever there was a past-time, a most excellent one we will agree, that required or featured less physical energy, it's chess. Participants have been known to go as long as five hours without twitching an eyelid lest their opponent read their minds.

However, James Wilson, tournament director of the B.C. Chess Federation informs us that the seventh annual correspondence Chess Tourney gets underway December 1. All persons interested may take part, providing they renew their memberships and make arrangements before the starting date. No special skill is required to play correspondence, Mr. Wilson assures us, and enquiries and applications should be sent to James Wilson, 230 Maple Avenue, Chilliwack, B.C.

Four Aces blanked Luckies Sunday in the Mixed Ten-Pin league and Tynymites won double team honors when they rolled a high single of 700 and a high triple of 1899. Alan Sheppard collected men's high single with a score of 217 and high triple was won by Bob Rudderham when he rolled 516. Maresa Windle took high single for the girls with 210 and Jean Sharpe captured high three game total with 507. In team play M & M's beat Timberticks, gaining 3 points to the latter's 1 and Tynymites garnered 3 points to Dominoes's 1.

CARTER

SAVOIE

THIS IS THE TALE OF THE TAPE for the world's lightweight title bout to be held in Montreal Wednesday, Nov. 11. Savoie once beat champion Carter in a non-title bout.

Manager of Jimmy Carter Says Nix to Local Judges

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal's Athletic Commission today meets the managers of champion Jimmy Carter and Montreal's Armand Savoie to work out details of Wednesday night's lightweight championship fight.

Willie Ketchum, manager of the champion, has made it clear he considers his side as gyped in last spring's non-title fight here when Savoie took the decision over the champ.

Willie wants no part of the judges who wrote the decision to that scrap. "They're prejudiced; they see only one man in the ring," says manager Ketchum, "and I'm going to insist none of them be on the list again."

Willie would also like to see Jack Dempsey as referee, or a referee attached to either the New York or Pennsylvania commissions. He figures a Montreal referee is far short on experience.

Names of the officials won't be announced until a few minutes before the fight. Tommy Sullivan and Maurice O'Connell are senior men on the Montreal commission staff.

LIGHT WORKOUTS

Both fighters had only light workouts Monday. Savoie weighed himself at 134 1/2. Carter wouldn't give his own weight. The official weigh-in will be at noon Wednesday, along with the final medical examination.

During the heaviest part of his training, most of it at a camp in the Laurentian mountains, Savoie boxed 140 rounds, his handlers report. Carter is said to have engaged in only 55 rounds with his sparring partners, but he has had three fights in the last couple of months.

Advance sale of tickets was reported at $30,000 Monday night. Promoter Raul Godbout was hopeful a sell-out $70,000 would be reached, which would mean an attendance of around 17,500. Carter has a choice of 40 per cent of the gate or $25,000. Savoie's share is 12 1/2 per cent of the gate.

BUFFALO BISONS LINE SHARE AHL HONORS

NEW YORK (AP)—Veteran wingers Ed Slowinski and Gaye Stewart and rookie centre Don Marshall, all of the leading Buffalo Bisons, share the American Hockey League's scoring lead with 22 points.

These three members of Buffalo's high-powered first forward line hold a one-point lead over Johnny McCormack, another teammate.

Slowinski and Parker McDonald, Pittsburgh rookie, lead the circuit in goals with 11 each.

Larry Cahen of the Hornets is the loop's bad man with 38 penalty minutes while Jacques Plante, Buffalo's goalie, leads his rivals with a 2.33-a-game average.

CYO Captures Soccer Trophy With 2-0 Win Over Gunners

CYO captured the Manson trophy Sunday afternoon when they defeated Heavy Battery seven 2-0 in a sudden death final at Roosevelt Park.

Despite the fact that Battery had 70 per cent of the play, the gunners were unable to capitalize on their scoring chances. Time and time again Battery was close to scoring only to be robbed by the stalwart work of fullback Alf Ratten. Lacking finish around the CYO goalmouth, Battery saw CYO score two goals in the first half and never relinquish the lead.

Tambourini opened the CYO scoring about 20 minutes after the game began when, unassisted, he rifled a shot past Battery goalie Father Mohan. Just before the end of the half Cor Verhaar dribbled one against the Battery goalpost which deflected off the custodian's foot to roll into the net.

Battery made valiant efforts during the second half to tie up the game but every drive was thwarted.

The trophy will be presented to the winners at the annual football dance to be held later this month.

Lineups:
Battery—Ted Gofers, Frank Belmont, Alf Maron, Sig Maron, Ian Dunbar, Nick Mazzoni, Oliver Febris, Ray Kretzky, Ralph Kuhn, O.P. Mohan, Kees Meyer.
CYO—Gerard Tuerlings, Alf Ratten, Frank Ratten, Ed Ratten, Cor Verhaar, Hank Nuyter, Derrick Letourneau, Adriano Tambourini, D. Quinto.

Baltimore Orioles' Boss Not Sold On Marty Marion as Manager

BALTIMORE (AP)—The official word is due today whether Marty Marion is to manage the Baltimore Orioles next year, and the conjecture is that the answer will be no.

Marion and Art Ehlers, general manager of the new American League baseball entrant, who is making the decision, talked four hours behind closed doors Monday but enough seemed out to make the odds appear against Marty.

Ehlers said, "Marty's position will be determined in the next 24 hours," and some thought it was to give Marion time to get out of town and back home to St. Louis.

Ehlers let it be known beforehand that Marion was no cinch to come here along with the Browns. He said he already had been thinking about others in case he wasn't cold on Marion. Among the others are
