AROUND THE WORLD . . . with PICTURES

LOG CABIN, traditional birthplace of fa nous Americans, was brought to Washington week by a young New Yorker as a personal gift to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. er of the cabin, Cary Lourie, 13, heard Sec etary Dulles on TV speak of his log cabin in New York state and produced this replica with his toy log set. The only complaint was e chimney was slightly misplaced.

ONE-LEGGED war veterans from Queen Mary's Hospital, Roehampton, England, enjoy a game of soccer on the lawn at Buckingham Palace. They were attending a garden party held by the

"Not Forgotten" Association, which works for the welfare of Britain's war-disabled veterans.

Prince Kupert Dany News

Friday, August 21, 1953

SISTER JEAN PATRICK of Grand Crossing Park, Chicago, follows through as her bowling ball rolls straight down the alley. She was among a group of 180 Roman Catholic sisters who enjoyed a training outing: Bowling, soft ball, races and plane rides were on the day's schedule. Some of the nuns will staff Catholic Youth Organization vacation centers in Chicago parks.

ile he was in a 28-day

he emerged, he

in real estate. Now

a food-supplement

in Azusa, he also an-

a weekly TV show.

Here, lovely a ol-pound sturgeon

reeman, standing on

s own plane and rides

dele Mara lends weight.

theory that you can't

good man down.

Given only five days to

from his New York state

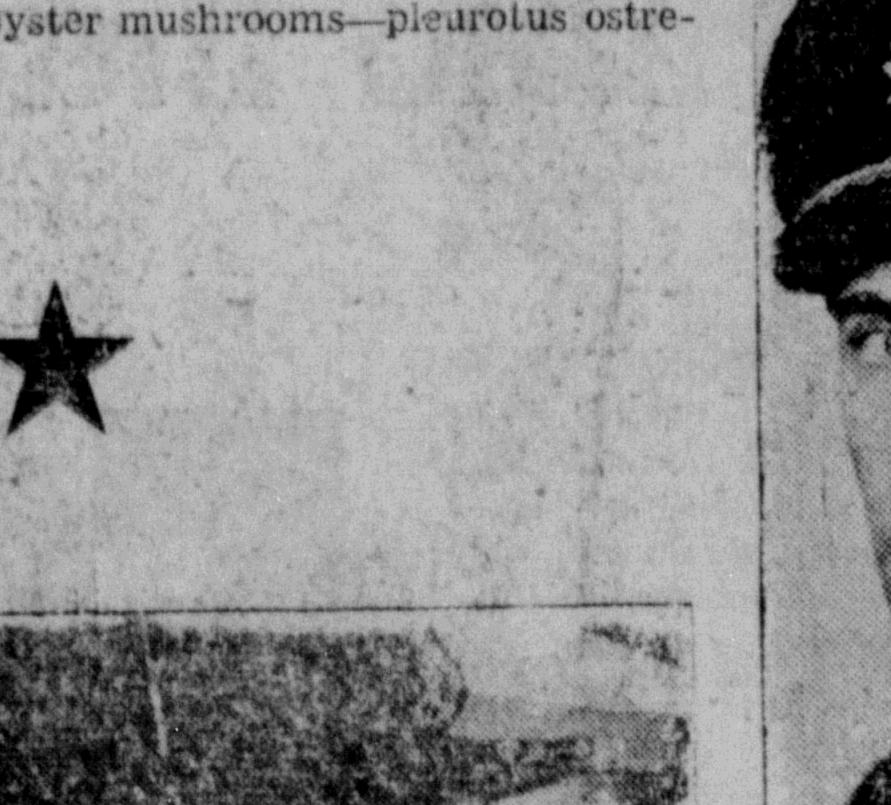

PLENTY OF SIRLOIN steaks could be smothered by this giant mushroom cluster, held by Stephan Kantorowicz, who found it in Minneapolis. The "caps," each of which grows on a septo California and made. arate stem, are identified as cyster mushrooms-pleurotus ostreatus-and grow on wood.

TRICK-SHOT SPECIALIST Paul Hahn is an expert at hitting the ball, no matter what his stance. Here liahn gets ready for some hard drives from a position that would stymie even an expert golfer. As would be expected, Hahn is an ace even when he's down on the ground!

EDMUND HERZ, who spent his youth in the Swiss Alps, never forgot the beauty of the deer in his mountain environment. And, in 1946, Herz decided to re-create a setting he still longed for. In the midst of city drabness, in a sector of Chicago gloomy with dark tenements and factories, Herz built a picturesque little park adjoining his home. To dwell in the green oasis, complete with fountain and lily pond, Herz imported two Japanese deer. They had triplets right in the heart of Chicago. Then Herz sold. them and bought Jack and Jeff above, who are now two years old: The deer, smaller than the American species, eat oats and corn hay and alfalfa, content with their life in the big city.

Cmdr. R. C. Chenoweth of Montreal, commanding officer of destroyer muron, and two other offi ers this week faced court martial arising out of grounding of the Huron off the west coast of North Korea July 12. Courts martial were adjourned indefinitely.

selection as "Queen of Roses"

in the Festival of Roses held at the Ambassador Hotel, Fallsburg, N.Y. Among her prizes was the unique award of a bou-quet of 50 American Beauty roses every birthday until she marries.

POPULAR VISITOR to RCAF's No. 1 Fighter Wing at North Luffenham, Eng., recently was Duke of Edinburgh. Dressed in uniform of Air Marshal of RAF, Duke examines F-86 Sabre jet and thats with WO. R. J. Bowes of Dartmouth, N.S.

EGYPTIAN PREMIER General Mohammed Naguib distributes the first land under the new Agrarian Reform Law during a to the ferry ceremony in the Nile Delta city of Itay El-Barud. Top: Naguib Sault Ste. Marie, Ont... hands an ownership deed to an Ald peasant woman. Each poor landless peasant is given from two to five acres of land expropriated from big landowners. Bottom. (left) a poor peasant tries to decipher the writing on his deed while at his side a blind peasant's face registers blissful content as he feels the paper that makes him a landowner.

SIX SAILORS AND A GIRL-Martha Wright, co-star of the Broadway hit, "South Pacific," busses lucky crew members of the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Bennington, who convoyed her from Boston recently to her stage door. The Bennington's sailors named Martha "The Girl We'd Like to Have in Every Port."

HIGH LIFE—This cottage on Frentress Lake in Dubuque, Iowa, is getting a "high rise." The uplifting, accomplished by wooden blocks, will bring the dwelling out of the reach of flood waters in case the Mississippi River rises to flood level again. The area is on a "cut-off" from the river and was flooded in 1951 and 1952.