RCAF XI Joins Soccer League
 LANGAR, Notts, England (P)—Primed with lectures and demonstrations on the intricacies of soccer, a Royal Canadian Air Force team from this air material base shortly will become a full-fledged member of a 14-team amateur league.
 The big date is Sept. 12. The RCAF team will be playing in the "good class" Midland Amateur Alliance League.
 The coach is a Royal Air Force liaison officer, Sqdn. Ldr. N. Allatson, who doesn't expect a winner the first year, although he feels the boys "won't disgrace themselves." He's amazed, he says, at their fitness and enthusiasm. They groomed the football field themselves.
 Players include FOS H. D. Pierce of Charlottetown and W. Morgan of Ottawa, LACs H. R. Hunter of Calgary, N. V. Davis of Nelson, B.C., J. J. Roop of Moncton, N.B., and A. R. McPherson of Glace Bay, N.S., Cpl. T. M. Davidson, Ayshire-born Scot, and Sgt. G. V. Torranceville, St. John's.

Hands Across Sea
 OSLO (CP)—A new Lutheran church, built with funds collected by the congregation of Riverside Presbyterian Church in Jacksonville, Fla., was dedicated on Maasoy Island in the Arctic province of Finnmark. The original church was burned during the German invasion in the Second World War.

Freed Corporal Still Cheerful Despite Wounds
 VANCOUVER (CP)—Cpl. Alvin Deveau limped off a plane from Tokyo here late Tuesday night, his right arm in a cast and the sight from one eye gone, but still managing a wide grin.
 Deveau, 25, from Comeauville, N.S., was the 15th returned Canadian prisoner of war to arrive in Vancouver en route home. Eight more are scheduled to arrive today.
 The corporal, who spent three months in a Communist prison camp, said he was treated "very well" in a Chinese hospital.
 "They did their best for me although they were terribly short of supplies. We couldn't have been treated better with what they had to work with."
 When asked what he missed most in the hospital, Deveau replied: "I missed being normal, living a normal life. You can say I missed just about everything other people not in my position take for granted."
 He said he had no Communist indoctrination lectures and had not heard of anyone else in his hospital who had.
 Deveau was wounded on Hill 212 when three Chinese grenades landed near his 11-man patrol. His arm was broken and his legs are still stiff with shrapnel wounds.
 He will enter a military hospital here for a few days for a complete checkup, and specialists will tell him if he will ever regain the sight of his left eye.
 Before he joined the Royal 22nd Regiment Deveau worked on the British Columbia coast as a logger.
 He has "some ideas about marriage" in the near future, but "I'm still not too sure of the girl."
 He smiled: "I've been away almost a year."
