97 Selected To Contest B.C. Seats

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ninety-seven candidates already have been nominated for the June 9 provincial election.

Social Credit has 32 nominated in the 48 ridings and plans to contest all seats.

The CCF has named 27 and have 20 still to choose, but do not plan to contest Fernie, the Labor stronghold of veteran Tom Uphill.

Liberals have nominated 17 candidates, and the Progressive Conservatives, 12.

Six members of the Labor Progressive party and three independents make up the total.

It is expected that the final total on nomination day—May 19—will be more than 220.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Give Muzzy a Little Help And He'll Hang Himself

Mr. Heinsite frequently tells Mr. Muzzy a little knowledge is a dangerous thing. However, if he had a little more knowledge about Mr. Muzzy, he would realize how dangerous it is to teach Mr. Muzzy anything at all.

For example, he recently delivered an unsolicited lecture on the subject of safety plays in the trump suit. He told Mr. Muzzy that with a nine-card trump suit missing only the jack and three small cards, it is always best to lead first the top honor from the hand holding two of the top three honors.

Unfortunately Mr. Muzzy took this to heart. At least he remembered his interpretation of it. In today's deal, the defenders took the first three tricks in the diamond suit. Mr. Abel won the third trick and shifted to the 10 of spades.

This was won on the board with the ace and now Mr. Muzzy led a small heart and put up the ace after Mr. Abel followed suit with the deuce. At this point, there was no way to avoid the loss of a trump trick and the contract was down one.

Left to his own devices, Mr Muzzy undoubtedly would have led the first heart at random from his own hand or dummy. That would have been a 50-50 chance. All Mr. Heinsite's lecture did was to reduce those chances exactly to zero.

If Mr. Abel had held J 4 3 2 in spades, then of course the right play would have been to lead the ace of hearts first. This would have made sure that no heart trick would be lost.

When the jack 10 and two small cards are out against you, however, that is another matter. It was impossible for Mr. Muzzy to protect himself against all four hearts on his left. The right play with this combination is to play first the high honor from the hand with one high honor, in this case the king of hearts from dummy.

If Mr. Muzzy had won the fourth trick with the king of spades in his hand and then led a low heart to dummy's king, he would have made his contract. Mrs. Keen would have shown out on the first heart lead and, subsequently, two heart leads through Mr. Abel would have brought the suit in without loss.

BLONDIE —His Two-Cents Worth! By CHIC YOUNG

The Cathedral of St. Canice at Kilkenny, in Ireland's Leinster county, dates back to 1255.

cal nomenclature is largely due to Antoine Lavoisier, great French chemist who died in 1794.
