

Saturday Sermon

MAJOR W. C. POULTON, Salvation Army
"Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners."—1 Timothy 1:15.

Apostle ends his writings by saying that of the sins there is no end. My Principal at College used to say barrels make the most noise and empty freights.

It leads me to remember that you quite well, namely, my Bible wastes few words in its story. It believes its story. It must be a reason? In the lives of people it accept the story of and find that it is just true, but truth again, just and yet they tell us: men are—"sinners."

Note that it does not say "bad, immoral person, thief, perjurer, or the word sinner reading. A sinner is still set in opposition to God. In that sense of society can be not a failure to be accepted, but it is to prefer one's own way to another.

What can be done they can be saved. The word must not be used. The observances of respectability. A when, whilst known judgments, he ex- for the past and the God's obedient future. In response (submitted love) is given that desire into

Who can do this—The nine words are understood, so aptly so definite and there is no need to be shown.

Dramatic Film on Luther Showing Here Next Week

A religious film which was expected to create controversy but instead was acclaimed for its brilliant technique and acting is to be shown at the Totem theatre, May 3 to 6 inclusive. It is "Martin Luther," a dramatic picture photographed in Western Germany close to the scene where the 16th century Protestant Reformation leader lived and preached.

By special arrangement, tickets at reduced prices may be obtained from churches in Prince Rupert. A percentage of the picture's receipts will go to the Lutheran organization for the production of other religious films.

Speaking of preparations to shoot the picture, producer Lothar Wolff said that "in Germany the natives were as sceptical about foreigners making 'Martin Luther' as Americans would be if Europeans came to the United States to film the life of George Washington. Even the sponsors, a group of six Lutheran churches of the United States, didn't believe the film could be made acceptable to Luther's countrymen. To everyone's surprise they liked the finished film, and a German language version has also been made."

Most of the action of the film was photographed in the actual streets, monasteries and castles of the period. Since the town of Wittenberg, in whose church Luther preached, is now in the hands of the Russians, the Maulbronn monastery church was used instead. However, the com-

"Shooting of Dan McGrew" Highlight of Air Cadet Dance

Featuring the occasion with a skit of "The Shooting of Dangerous Dan McGrew," members of the Prince Rupert air cadet squadron held an enjoyable Easter dance at the Armory last night. Sea Cadets and members of the sponsoring committee were present as guests.

With Phil Lyons junior as narrator, the air cadet dramatic club staged an entertaining version of Robert Service's epic poem. Guns flashed with a cap-shattering bang and the miner who fell in love with the "woman known as Lou" played a moving piano rendition of "I Love Coffee, I Love Tea" as the barroom scene swept to its emotional climax.

Members of the cast were Roy Pedersen as Dangerous Dan, Bill Holgate as the miner, Ken McKinnon as Lou and Bob Petersen as bartender. Also at the bar were Howard Johansen, Lawson Hewitt, Fred Wong and Monte Engelson. Rod Bruce was a card player and Allan Rithie set the atmosphere with a tune at the piano.

Guests present were Mrs. Gabel, Mrs. J. MacDougal and Mrs. H. Tweed, and members, Mrs. T. Glen, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. S. Antonie and the chairman, Mrs. R. Montgomery.

Place-Nilson Vows Pledged At Lutheran Church Here

Motoring through the B.C. Interior this week are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Place, whose marriage took place at an evening ceremony Saturday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church with the Rev. H. Olsen officiating.

The bride, Judith Minerva, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Nilson, 522 Eighth Avenue West and the groom, well-known boxer Chuck Place, is son of Mr. and Mrs. George Place, 328 Sherbrooke Avenue.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a gown of traditional white, featuring nylon lace bodice and scalloped Dresden neckline and flaring embroidered peplum over a bouffant skirt of nylon tulle. A juliet cap, studded with seed pearls, secured her chapel veil and she carried a spray of red roses. Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Lenore Nilson was her sister's bridesmaid, wearing a pretty gown of pink with taffeta bodice, topped by a brief jacket, and a full nylon tulle skirt. A matching headpiece and spray of pink carnations completed her ensemble.

Mr. Dick Wesch was best man. At the reception at the home of the bride's parents, a two-tier wedding cake centred the lace-covered bride's table.

Assisting in receiving were the parents of the bridal couple, Mrs. Nilson wearing a green crepe afternoon dress with matching accessories and rose carnations en corsage. Mrs. Place chose a dress of French crepe in midnight blue with matching accessories. Rose carnations formed her corsage.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. A. Kaardal, and assisting in serving were Miss Muriel Shier, Mrs. C. Nilson, Mrs. K. Myers and Mrs. J. Prescott.

The couple will make their home in Prince Rupert following their two-week honeymoon.
