Companies claimed that they had done what they could in the present "but if we are penalized for giving service, such as water, we are the time is opportune for us to demonstrate that it is not prepared to give the service for the charges they are making."

Letter also termed the in-meter rentals as "unreasonable by such a drastic stage of increase."

Letter also urged city council to immediately proceed with "proper and adequate facilities" for acquiring water at an accessible place to the waterfront.

Letter also informed that the letter had also been sent to the Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber, Fishermen's Association, Deep Sea Fishermen's Union and the
