MANCHESTER, England — Economy thy for fuel-short Britain—share your bath water.
Mrs. Mary Hargreaves, chairman of the National Council of Women, said husbands and wives could easily share the same water.
"Of course," she said, "we don't think more than two people could properly do so."
In the case of a family of small children, however, the practice would do no harm.
Here are some other economy suggestions made by family women:
Calendars and greeting cards should be smaller, and thinner paper should be used for letter writing; paint just the initials "E.R." or "B.R.S." on state transport instead of the full "British Railways" and "British Road Services;" and use flint lighters for gas instead of matches.

SPRING PROJECT
GLACE BAY, N.S. — Work of beautifying the town park will get under way early in the spring. Plans completed in recent months include the planting of upwards of 500 trees and shrubs.
FREDERICTON — Figures for the 1951 hunting season in New Brunswick showed a total of 64,115 partridge, 21,745 ducks, 2055 woodcock, 677 pheasants, 500 geese and 83 brant. The big majority was bagged by resident hunters.
