POLIO FUND GETS BOOST FROM KING ED STUDENTS

The Kinsmen Polio Fund received an unexpected boost this morning when R. G. Moore, principal of King Edward School, handed President Bill Bond a bag containing $25 in nickels and dimes.

The money was raised by the children when they held a tea for their parents and guests at Open House day last Tuesday. The gift was half the sum collected—the other $25 being sent to the Queen Alexandra Solarium near Victoria. The annual polio campaign comes to a close with the staging of the last variety show of the winter in the Capitol
