Mayor Extends Greetings Of City to RCN Training Ship

HMCS Sault Ste. Marie, training vessel attached to Royal Canadian Navy Reserve establishment HMCS Malahat at Esquimalt, B.C., docked at the CNR docks late yesterday to give the reserve officers and men a break in their training schedule. Under the command of Lt. D. Rigg, RCN, the Sault Ste. Marie, first docked at the B.O. Oil dock where it took on approximately 80 tons of fuel. The vessel, which left Esquimalt last Saturday, made calls at Port Hardy and Butedale on its way up the coast. Training in navigation and pilotage for the officers of the crew constituted the bulk of the syllabus on the trip north. More navigation work, mine-sweeping exercises, dropping of depth charges and a full calibre shoot for the members of the reserve will be undertaken on the return trip. She sails Friday morning.

In charge of the RCN reserve officers and men aboard the Sault Ste. Marie on their annual two-week cruise is Lt. Cmdr. J. D. Garrard, executive officer of HMCS Malahat.

Greetings of the city of Prince Rupert were extended to the ship last night by Mayor Harold Whalen. Also paying his respects to the ship's company was RCMP Sub-division Inspector Taylor.

Officers and men of the mine-sweeper will be on hand tonight, when Rear Admiral J. C. Hibbard, RCN arrives by train from Edmonton.

Berthing at the CNR dock this morning was the tribal class destroyer HMCS Cayuga, veteran of the Korean war, here to pick up the admiral.

Officers and men of both the Sault Ste. Marie and the Cayuga will be guests Thursday night at a dance being staged by HMCS Chatham.

The admiral will leave on the Cayuga Friday morning, independent of the Sault Ste. Marie. Visiting officers and local sports officials have arranged sports events for the sailors during their stay.

Premier Says Two By-Elections To Be Held After Fall Session

Second Cabinet Minister Beaten

Premier Bennett said today two by-elections will be held after the fall session of the B.C. Legislature in an effort to obtain seats for defeated cabinet ministers.

His statement came only a few hours after it was announced that Liberal leader Art Laing had defeated Education Minister Tilly Rolston on the fifth count in Vancouver-Point Grey riding.

Mr. Laing, who resigned his federal seat to contest the riding, thus became the fourth Liberal to be elected.

The result and final standing became known exactly four weeks after voters went to the polls on June 9.

Finance Minister Gunderson was the other cabinet minister defeated in his bid for re-election. Last year he won a by-election in Similkameen but in the June 9 election he sought the Oak Bay seat, which was won by Liberal Reeve Percy Gibbs.

Last riding to report was Vancouver-Point Grey where the outcome on one of three ballots was a surprise.

Mr. Laing's victory brought his party's strength in the next Legislature to four, compared with six after the 1952 election.

Social Credit under Premier Bennett will have a clear majority. The party captured 28 of the 48 seats.

The CCF will again form the official opposition, holding 14 seats, four less than their total in the last house.

The remaining two seats are held by Progressive Conservative Larry Giovando and Labor member Tom Uphill.

Premier Bennett has offered to keep both Mrs. Rolston and Mr. Gunderson in the cabinet.

Mrs. Rolston said she would accept but Mr. Gunderson has not yet decided whether he will remain in the government.

"I haven't made a decision yet," Mr. Gunderson said today. "I am just biding my time. I want to think the matter out."

Asked if he will decide within the two weeks he was expected to advise the premier, the minister said he may or may not.

Reds Ready To Discuss Armistice

By The Associated Press

SEOUL.—The Communists said today they are ready to negotiate final details of a Korean armistice even though South Korea objects violently.

There was still no indication that stubborn President Syngman Rhee would accept any truce which fails to guarantee unification of his war-battered nation.

The Communist reply to Gen. Mark Clark's June 29 proposal to sign an armistice now was delivered by liaison officers in a five-minute meeting at Panmunjom.

The letter laid down what appeared to be some tough conditions for Communist acceptance of a truce negotiated in two years of hard bargaining, but observers said the Reds might waive some of these when the truce talks resume.

The Reds said the United Nations command must:

- "Take effective steps" to assure South Korean compliance with armistice terms;
- Recover 27,000 anti-Communist North Korean war prisoners set free on orders of President Rhee last month;
- "Shoulder absolute responsibility" for seeing that none of 8,000 anti-Red prisoners remaining in Allied stockades escape.

The Communist letter said "our side agrees that delegations of both sides meet at an appointed time to discuss the question of implementation of an armistice agreement and the various preparations prior to the signing of an armistice agreement."

"Date for the meeting will be discussed and decided by senior delegates of both sides through liaison officers."

First Game of Little League Gets Away at Algoma Tonight

Prince Rupert's first Little League Baseball game gets underway this evening at the newly renovated Algoma Park when Mayor Harold Whalen tosses in the first ball.

The league opener will see the Conrad Street Wildeats matched with Section 2 Chums in a regulation six-inning game. Joe Le-tourneau, official umpire for the Prince Rupert senior baseball league will officiate at the game and players will be using regulation Little League equipment.

Work at Algoma Park has proceeded despite scanty support of parents and interested citizens. Request for helpers to get the park in shape failed to rally one parent other than those on the league executive and members of the Carpenters' union from Northwest Construction Company.

Members of the league executive were disappointed last night at the failure of parents of players to turn out and voiced the hope that they would at least turn out to see the game.

Last night cinders were spread, raked and rolled on the playing field and the back stop erected. Those faced with getting the field in shape for tonight's game had an almost impossible task with the lack of equipment and work- ed until nearly midnight.

Members of the league executive who were on the job getting the neglected city park ready also expressed disappointment in the lack of interest and support forthcoming from the city. The league was unable to get the park graded and requests for help were to no avail.

Game time tonight is 7 o'clock.

Applewhaite Speaks at Island Meet

Special to The Daily News

QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY.—A well-attended and interested meeting last night heard Ted Applewhaite speak on behalf of his own re-election as a supporter of the Liberal government.

He dealt with the record of the government over the last four years and outlined the many facilities provided for the Queen Charlotte Islands since his election.

Bob Parker of Prince Rupert paid a warm tribute to the candidate's ability.

William J. Davies was chairman and Gordon H. Jolliffe closed the meeting with an expression of thanks to Mr. Applewhaite for his services.

Foresters Probe Fire Reports

Forestry officials left this morning to investigate reports of two forest fires in the Prince Rupert area.

One fire is believed to be near Kildala on the Alcan power right-of-way and the other is on the South Bentuck in the area of Bella Coola.

District Forester Percy Young and other foresters left by provincial government plane and will check the extent of the fire damage and the amount of control. As both blazes are believed to be industrial fires the Forestry department will defer action until such time as aid is needed.

A B.C. Forest Service official said that the humidity in the woods near Prince Rupert is still high but it has dropped in isolated areas to the south due to local conditions and terrain.

Play Begins In Canadian Open Tourney

TORONTO.—What some of the American pros called a "nice little course" invited an international field of 188 to do their darndest today in the opening round of the Canadian Open Golf Championship.

The rolling Scarborough course, to the northeast of the city, is a 6,807-yard layout with nines of 36-35.

Guesses range all the way from "under 270 will take it" to 274.

There was no consistency at all in guessing the winner.

Johnny Palmer, who took the 1952 title at Winnipeg St. Charles with a Canadian open record of 263 is back. So are Big Jim Ferrier, transplanted Australian from San Francisco, who won in 1950 and 1951; E. J. (Dutch) Harrison from Ardmore, Okla., 1949 winner and veteran Lawson Little of Pebble Beach, Calif., 1936 winner.

NEVER QUESTION the lengths to which man's best friend will go to prove his devotion to his master—especially when his master is a freckle-faced lad of three. The "best friend" in this case is Butch, a rust-and-white cocker spaniel, which leaped from a 15-foot balcony in a vain attempt to keep Chukle McDonnell of Denver from running in the path of a moving car. Both boy and dog sustained broken legs as a result of their respective accidents and each now wears a cast.

First Impressions Remain For Life With Some Geese

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The trouble with some silly geese has been diagnosed at last. The poor creatures may think (A) that they are human beings, or (B) that human beings are geese.

The National Geographic Society has been looking into the goose situation, and its report is surprising indeed.

It seems goslings are extremely impressionable little rascals, so impressionable that the first thing seen or heard by them may be identified forever after as one of their own species.

So if a human being quacks around a day-old gosling, that gosling may go through life convinced he and the human are from the same nest.

This is known as imprinting.

A National Geographic news release says:

"A newly-hatched goose looks upward when it first sees the light of day. Anything that moves and then draws away in a certain manner will imprint the gosling, be it bird, beast, or human kind."

Fortunately, the first thing seen by most geese is their ma or pa. Otherwise, things would come to a pretty pass.

For once a goose is deluded, it is deluded for keeps. It ignores its own species, and later falls in love with members of the family to which it thinks it belongs.

There even have been cases, the National Geographic says, of ducks who thought they were motorboats, and then tried to carry on what must have been among the most discouraging love affairs of all time.
