LOVELY MARGIE LEE makes a fetching sight as she practices for her part in the Ice Charades in Chicago, but she's just part of the background as far as scholars Neil (left) and Jimmy Waldo are concerned. The Waldo brothers work in the ice show, and attend De Paul University during the day, so they spend every spare moment backstage catching up on homework.

THE HEAT'S NOT THE ONLY THING bothering Madam Elephant Seal of Guadalupe Island, Mexico. By nature she's a very nervous creature—just like her hubby. Both of them have stomach ulcers—and this is nothing unusual. It seems that most elephant seals suffer from ulcers. This strange fact of nature was only recently discovered and is revealed in one of the latest Moody Institute of Science films.
