One hears a lot of things around a gathering such as the current annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Take saucepans—one is inclined to regard them simply as saucepans and let it go at that. But if you are the people who make them, they're much more than that.

J. S. Corrigan, of Toronto, expressed it as follows in an address to the manufacturers:

"I frequently wonder how many spring brides getting acquainted with their kitchen-shower saucepans know that the inside radius is a precise compromise between ease of cleaning, the maintenance of proper balance, and the limitations of a draw-press operation in the course of their manufacture.

"Does she know that the contour of the handle is the exact mould of an average woman's clenched grip?"

"That the length and weight of this handle, and the angle of its mounting, are specifically engineered to avoid the over-balance of the smallest size pan—empty and without its cover?"

"That the cover knob is specially designed to prevent her from burning her finger tips on the hot metal? That the fit on the cover to the body is so accurate that condensed steam will form a vapor seal and permit waterless cooking?"

An so on for several more paragraphs until one gets quite a respect for the humble saucepan.

Another thing one might have learned at this meeting is that there must be something to being a diplomat.

Sydney D. Pierce, minister at the Canadian embassy in Washington, was speaker at the annual dinner. It must have been one of the shortest speeches on record for a featured speaker at such a gathering, but he made people laugh, and he made them think.

Big Shakeup Purges Romania

WASHINGTON © — The biggest shake-up and purge among rulers of Communist Romania since that Balkan country became a Soviet satellite, was described Friday in diplomatic dispatches from Bucharest.

Ana Pauker, long-time friend of Generalissimo Stalin and one of the top powers in the Communist hierarchy in Romania, has lost her vital Red party positions and is assumed thereby to be on the political skids.

Seven persons, including Mrs. Pauker, have been eliminated from among 13 regular members of the Romanian Communist party's all-powerful politburo.

The new politburo is composed of nine regular members, it has been announced in the Bucharest press.

Experts here centered their attention on the possibility of a financial scandal, of contest for power between two factions in the party and of failure of the Red regime to press forward Romania's Russian-style collectivization program on schedule.

ALTERNATIVE VOTING AND HOW TO MARK YOUR BALLOT IN THIS PROVINCIAL ELECTION

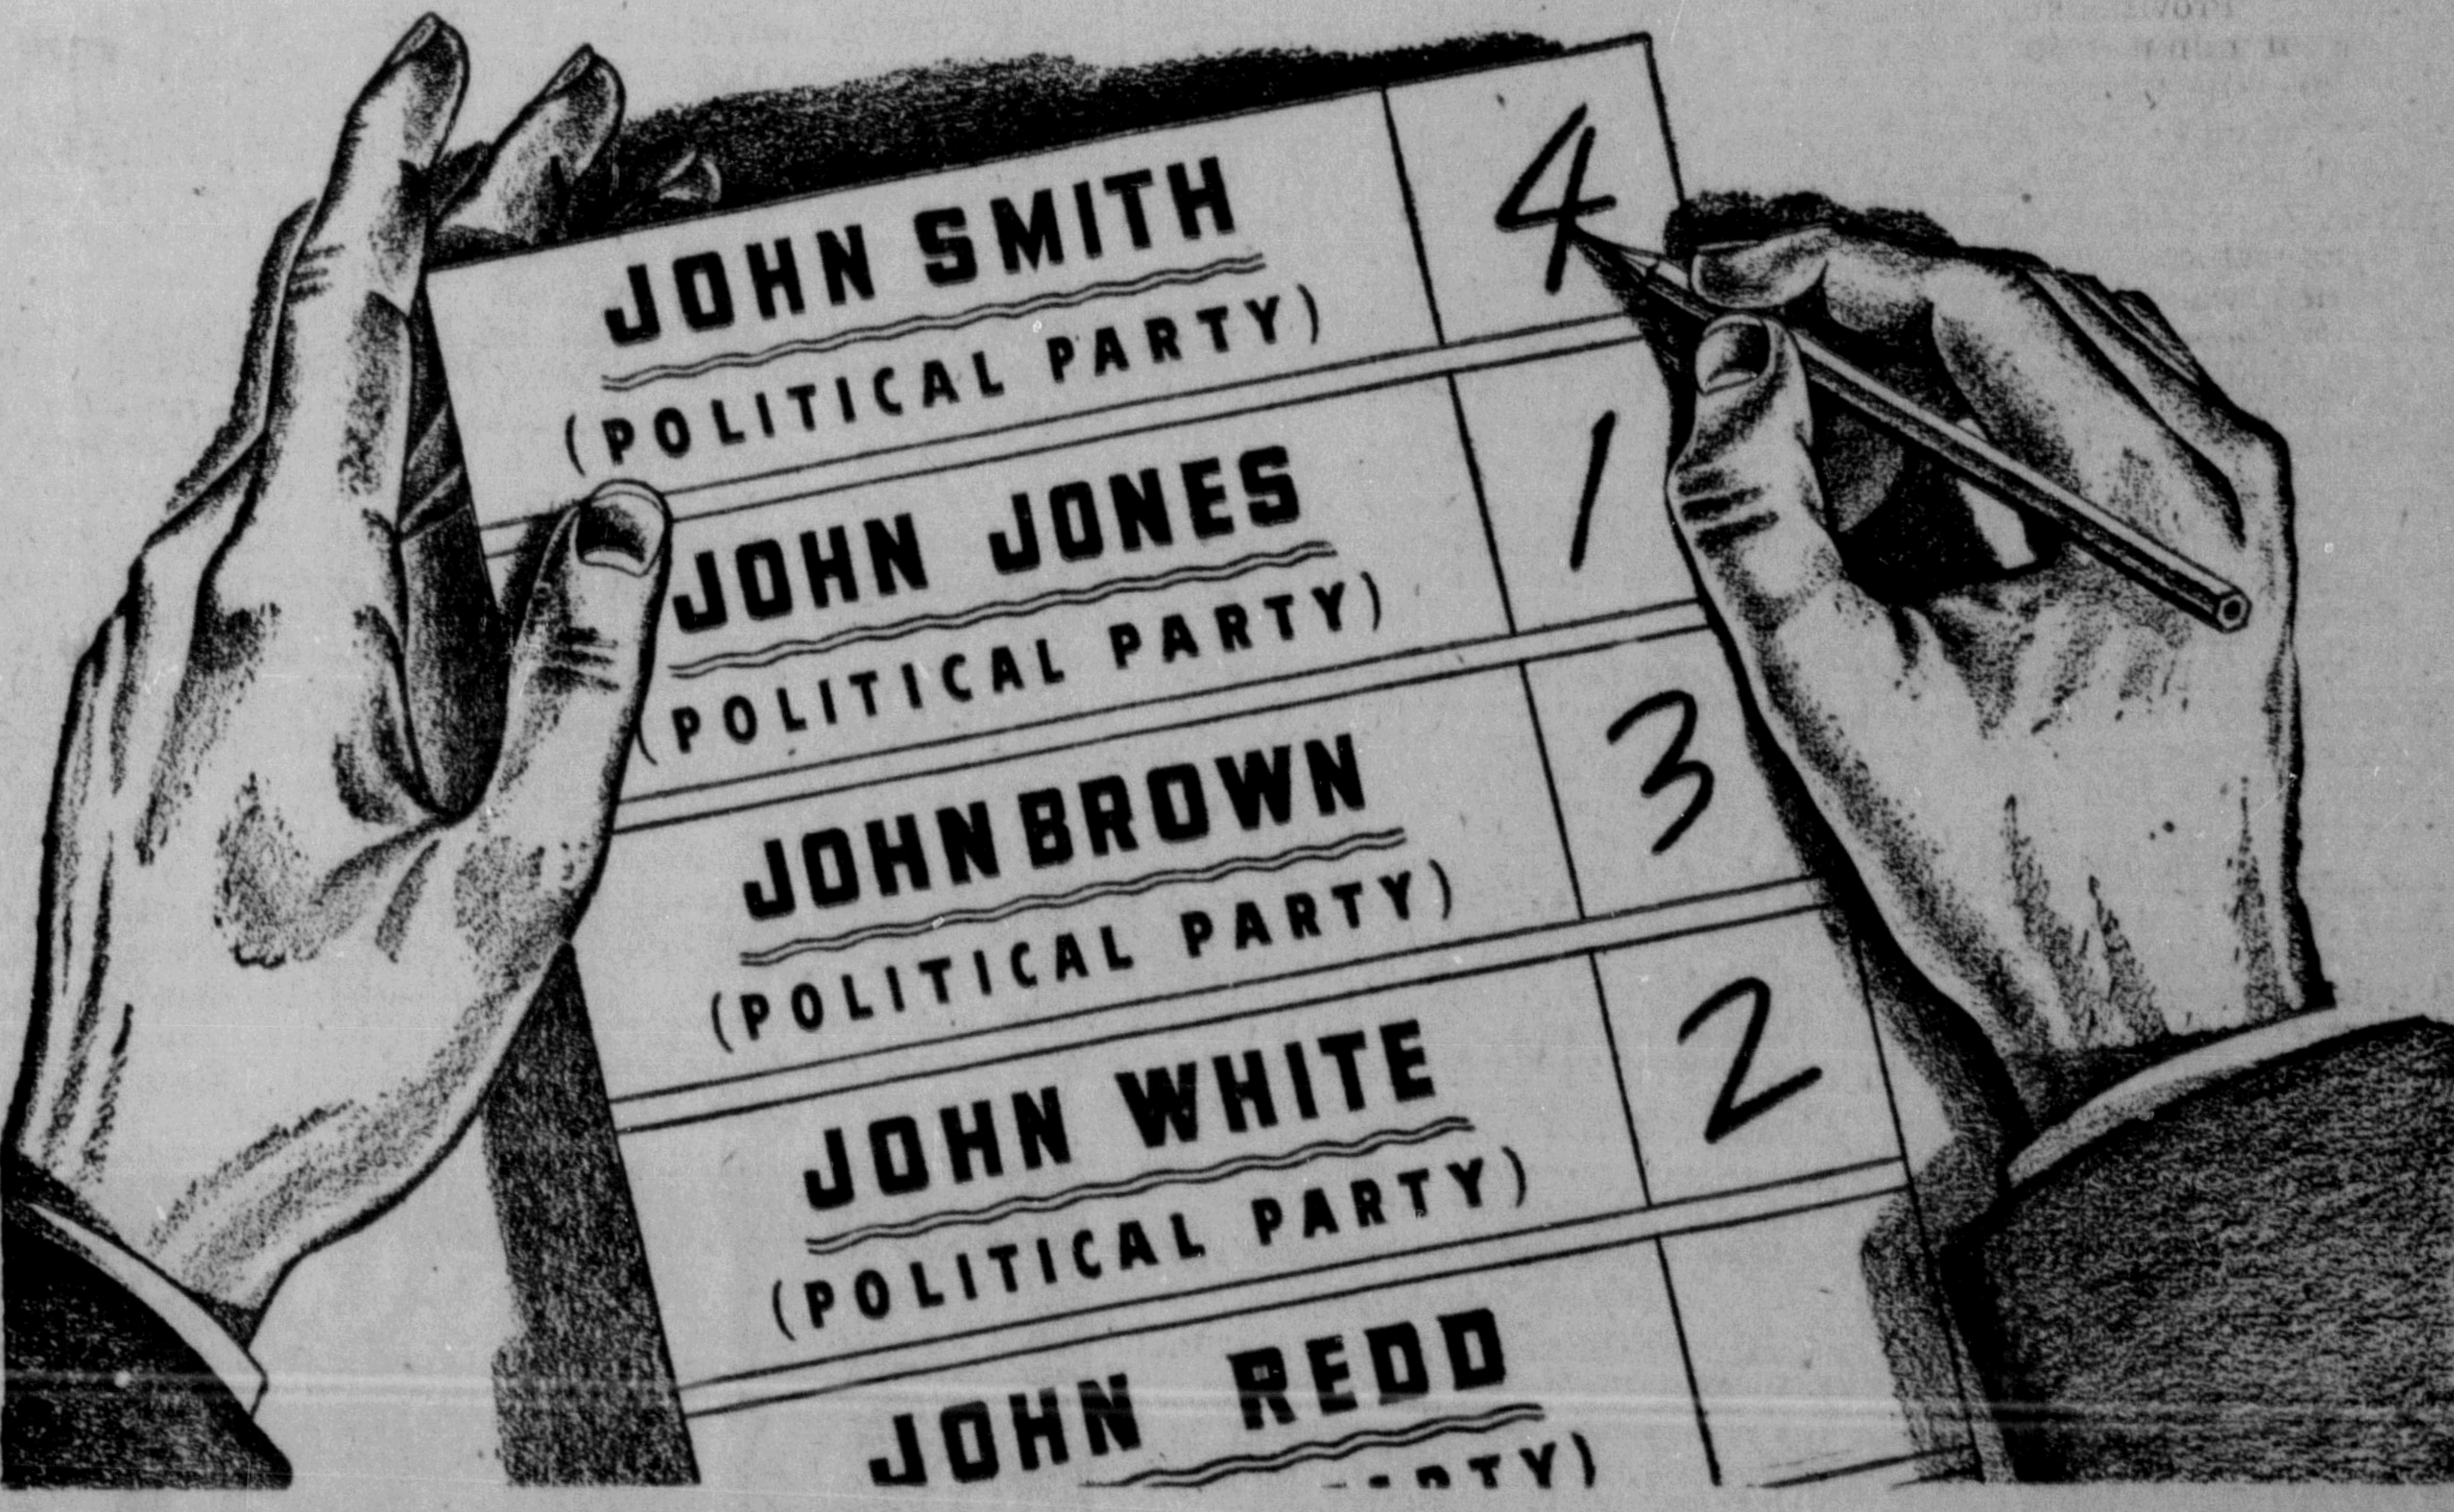

HERE'S WHY THE NEW SYSTEM IS BEING USED

The Voting system has been changed to enable every voter to cast his ballot for more than one candidate in order of his preference.

When you vote under the Alternative Vote system YOU GET MORE THAN ONE CHOICE. This will prevent any candidate being elected on a minority vote as has happened in the past. The candidate so elected in each riding will have received an absolute majority over all other candidates combined.

HERE'S HOW YOU VOTE WITH ALTERNATIVE VOTING

The Alternative Vote is as simple as the voting system used before only, instead of marking an X against your one choice only, you can mark 1-2-3-4 with your first choice as number one, your second choice as number two and so forth in order of your preference.
