Study Chances Of Benefits

OTTAWA (CP)-Labor department officials are investigating the possibility of bringing commercial fishermen and farmers within the scope of the unemployment insurance commission.

However, Labor Minister Gregg said Thursday night he could not say whether they will become eligible until the report is received and studied by the gov-

Thomas Barnett, CCF-Comox-Alberni, said the difficulties against bringing fishermen and farmers under unemployment insurance are not insurmountable. Many workers in other fields have come under the plan, including piece workers, longshoremen and share-workers in other fields.
