"HOPELESS, HUH?"—It's not that I'm looking for miracles, doc, but could you change the nose a little bit? Oh, yes! Could you possibly build up the ears a bit more, too? I don't expect miracles, understand. Now about the bill. How mu-uh? Never mind, doc. I guess I can stand it for a few more years.

Drydock Issue May Bring Federal Ministers Here

If there is no evidence soon that the drydock is to be sold to a company which will operate it as a going concern here, the city's drydock committee will ask Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier and Fisheries Minister James Sinclair to make a trip to Prince Rupert to examine the whole position.

U.S. May Use Armed Forces On Asian Front

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON—The Eisenhower administration is considering defence commitments for Southeast Asia which "might involve the use of armed force" to block Communist conquest of that rich, strategic area.

But under "present conditions" the administration has no intention of sending United States forces to fight in the war in Indo-China.

This approach to the Indo-China crisis was laid down by State Secretary Dulles Friday night in a broadcast only hours after news of the fall of Dien Bien Phu.

President Eisenhower summoned a special meeting of the national security council today for a purpose not announced, but virtually certain to include discussion of Indo-China.

Dulles expressed confidence that discussions now under way with 10 friendly nations, Britain and France among them, on the defence of Southeast Asia will result in a Free World coalition that will rock Communist aggression there. But he cautioned:

SERIOUS COMMITMENTS
 "This common defence may involve serious commitments by us all. But free people will never remain free unless they are willing to fight for their vital interests."

So far as the United States is concerned, Dulles said that entering into such commitment is possibly only on two conditions:

1. Congressional approval: Congress, he said, "is a full partner" with the administration in any such enterprise.
2. Other free nations would have to join the pledge and share the burden.

Red Attaches Branded Spies In Britain

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain has accused two assistant military air attaches of the Soviet embassy here of attempted espionage and has demanded their expulsion from Britain within 10 days, the foreign office announced today.

Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd told Russian ambassador Jacob Malik Friday that the two assistant military air attaches had "abused their diplomatic status in the United Kingdom by attempting to engage in espionage."

The two men were identified as Major Ivan Pupyshov, born 1918, arrived in Britain in 1951, married with one child, and Major Andrei Gudkov, born 1917, arrived in Britain in 1951, married, with two children.

A spokesman told reporters that atomic secrets were not involved in the alleged attempted espionage.

He did say, however, that Pupyshov and Gudkov attempted to spy on certain unspecified military activities.

The spokesman said the spying was not disclosed as a result of information received from abroad. He denied that information received from either Vladimir Petrov or Capt. Nikolai Khokhlov, Soviet citizens who recently fled to the West, had led to the present charge.

SECOND RECENT CASE

The charge against the two attaches marks the second time in two years that Britain has called for the removal of a member of the Soviet embassy staff on a charge of spying.

The other case was that of Pavel Kuznetsov, a second secretary who was implicated for receiving secret information from a foreign office radio operator.

The operator, William Marshall, was sentenced to five years imprisonment for passing the information to Kuznetsov.

"On May 7 the Soviet ambassador called on Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, minister of state, at the latter's request and was informed that two members of the Soviet embassy, Maj. Ivan Pupyshov and Maj. Andrei Gudkov, both assistant military air attaches, had abused their diplomatic status in the United Kingdom by attempting to engage in espionage."

Mr. Selwyn Lloyd informed the Soviet ambassador that these two officers were consequently no longer persona grata and he requested that they be recalled from the United Kingdom within the next 10 days.

TODAY WARMEST YET HERE, SUNNY WEEKEND FORECAST

Prince Rupert citizens who have enjoyed a three-day sunny spell, have more than an even chance of seeing the fine weather extend through the week-end.

Sportsmen and homebodies alike can take heart from the Dominion Weather Bureau's forecast for continuing mild weather with only a few clouds predicted for tomorrow. Yesterday's high temperature was 66, and today the mercury reached 67 degrees by noon, two degrees higher than forecast, and may easily surpass last year's high temperature for May of 75.

The low temperature forecast for Prince Rupert tonight is 35, while low and high temperatures predicted for Port Hardy are 38 and 63, Sandspit 45 and 55 degrees.

Body of John A. Clausen Found 15 Miles From Shipwreck Site

The body of John Arnt Clausen, captain of the fish packer RAP 1, which foundered off Holiday Island in a storm March 10-12, was found Friday by the United States Coast Guard at Cape Fox, 15 miles due north of the scene of the accident.

The body was released for burial and arrived at Prince Rupert today by plane.

Deputy Coroner George Dawes said that he will be holding an enquiry but not an inquest. An inquest has already been held into the death of Hans Grove who died several hours after the ship first struck the rocks. He was found by RCMP lashed to the mast of the vessel, where he had tied himself to keep above the high tide.

At the time of the accident the RCMP boat conducted a search of the area and fellow fishermen put out to sea to comb the waters off Holiday Island.

Mr. Clausen, who was 67 years old, came to Prince Rupert from Norway more than 40 years ago. He was well-known among fishermen and had been a buyer for Atlin Fisheries here for many years.

When the mishap occurred, Mr. Clausen was on a trip to inspect his floats near Goose Bay.

He is survived by his son Elmer of Prince Rupert and three brothers and four sisters in Norway. He was predeceased by his wife Anna in 1952.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. H. O. Olsen Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Fear Woods Fires This Weekend

VICTORIA—A warning of a possible "rush of fires" this week-end in British Columbia forests was given Friday by an official of the B.C. Department of Forests.

Recent warm weather and continuing dryness, he said, have increased the danger of fire outbreaks.

The official said conditions are not serious enough to warrant closure of the forests.

Bitter People Blame Government For Loss

PARIS (AP)—The loss of Dien Bien Phu on the eve of Indo-China negotiations at Geneva plunged France into bitter gloom, mourning over dead heroes and raised speculation today that Premier Joseph Laniel's government might fall.

French Ask Cease-Fire

GENEVA (CP)—France today proposed an immediate cease-fire in Indo-China to be guaranteed by nations taking part in the Geneva conference. The truce would be supervised by international commissions.

The proposal was submitted by Foreign Minister Georges Bidault at the opening session of the Indo-China peace talks.

Britons Ban "Lilibet Rose"

LONDON (Reuters)—An American-bred rose named Lilibet has been banned by a British floral society.

"Lilibet" is the family name by which Queen Elizabeth was known as a child. The National Rose Society has warned its 40,000 members the Lilibet rose cannot be displayed at any of the society's exhibitions as it has advised them not to grow it.

The name, the society explained, is "unsuitable." Their indignation was aroused by reports the Lilibet has been advertised in the United States as having all "the charm and loveliness of England's beautiful young Queen."

Churchill To Receive Order in June

LONDON (Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill will be installed as a knight of the Order of the Garter June 14 in a solemn and brilliant ceremony more than 600 years old.

On the day after St. George's Day, April 23 last year, Queen Elizabeth called Churchill to Windsor Castle and in a brief ceremony bestowed upon him the most exalted honor his country can offer.

There he received the insignia of the order—a collar of 24 gold pieces each in the shape of a garter; the George, an enamelled figure of St. George on horseback encountering the dragon; the lesser George, a gold badge which bears the same figure; the blue velvet garter on which is inscribed the motto "Honi Soit Qui Maly Pense" (Shame to Him who Thinks Evil of It); and the broad blue ribbon.

In June he will be the star in his own right.

The ceremony consists of two parts: the investment, when the Queen will once more present the prime minister with the insignia, and the installation, a religious service in St. George's chapel Windsor. For the occasion all the knights of the garter are mustered from all parts of the world.

The ancient words which the Queen will read for the first time in the new Elizabethan reign have come down six centuries from the days of Edward III, founder of the order.

City Man Pays For Axe-Job On Rowboat

Stipendiary Magistrate H. F. Glassey ordered $20 damages be paid by Robert Brown, who pleaded guilty in police court this morning, to smashing an axe through a rowboat belonging to Mrs. M. Velle last night. Brown was also fined $20 and costs or in default seven days in jail on a charge of intoxication.

Prankster Rings False Alarm Here

Members of the Prince Rupert Fire Department do not share the same enthusiasm for false alarms as the person who tripped the handle on the fire alarm box at Hays Cove Avenue and Sixth Avenue last night.

Called out at 12:50 a.m. today, firemen report no one on hand to view the results of their prank when the department arrived on the scene.

Soft Spot Derails Freight Train, Delays Passenger

Soft track is blamed by CNR officials for the derailment of a freight train near Hazelton last night which detained the regular west bound passenger nearly 12 hours.

The passenger, due in at 9:50 p.m. last night arrived at Prince Rupert at 9:15 this morning. Passengers spent the night in the train at Smithers until the track was cleared.

All told, seven cars in the freight train were dragged off the track, which has softened as the warmer weather brings out the frost.

Prankster Rings False Alarm Here

VANCOUVER (CP)—A four-day-old baby, flown to Vancouver Thursday night from Prince George is reported in "fairly good" condition in hospital here today.

The 2½-pound boy, born prematurely May 3 to Mrs. D. R. Tracey at Prince George, made the 400-mile trip in an incubator aboard a Canadian Pacific Air Lines plane.
