Service for Immigrants

Canadian News
In Foreign Languages

TORONTO — Immigrants who cannot read English can find out what is going on in Canada from Canadian Scene, a foreign-language news service distributed free to 59 foreign-language papers in Canada and the United States.

The service now translates 3,000 words of Canadian news a week into 11 foreign languages. At the end of last year, Canadian Scene articles were being published in Czech, Estonian, Finnish, German, Latvian, Lithuanian, Ukrainian, Polish, Hungarian, Serbian and Russian-language journals. Plans are under consideration for services in Italian, Dutch and Croatian. Hugh Newton, Toronto public relations man, is editor of the service.

Canadian Scene estimated that 250,000 newcomers to Canada are reached by papers using the service.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By FASLEY BLACKWOOD

This Hand Shows One Way Defenders Can Break Declarer's Trump Bulwark

A vital part of declarer's play is his handling of the trump suit. And on many hands the defenders are successful in defeating declarer by attacking his trump bulwark. If the defenders prevail in their attack, they can break the backbone of the declarer's hand.

First, let's look at some of the ways the defenders can attack declarer's trumps. In today's hand, it appears that Mr. Champion will have no difficulty in bringing in 10 tricks. What is he going to lose?

With the king of spades under the ace, it seems that the defenders can win only a heart and two diamonds. Do you see how they can possibly win the fourth and deciding trick for the defeat of the contract?

KEY PLAY

Mr. Masters made the key play that broke Mr. Champion's trump suit wide open. The opening lead was the eight of diamonds and Mr. Masters won with the king over dummy's queen. He cashed the ace of diamonds, on which Mr. Abel played the trey.

At this point it was clear that the nine of diamonds was left in Mr. Champion's hand because if Mr. Abel had started with 9-8-3 in the suit, he would have opened the nine spot.

Mr. Masters thought about what Mr. Champion could have had for his opening bid. He had no honors in diamonds. He undoubtedly had the ace of spades and might have the queen of clubs. He would have to have the ace-king or the ace-queen in hearts.

MADE HIS PLAY JACK

Therefore it was hopeless to think about winning two heart tricks, although it was possible that Mr. Abel could win one trick in that suit.

In any case, at the third trick Mr. Masters led another diamond. To make sure Mr. Abel trumped, he returned the deuce of that suit. Mr. Champion played the nine and Mr. Abel ruffed with the four of spades. It took dummy's jack to win the trick. After this play, it was impossible for Mr. Champion to avoid the loss of a trump trick and the subsequent loss of a trick to the king of hearts assured the defeat of the contract.
