Thimayya Threatens To Halt PoW Interviews Unless Reds Speed-Up

JOHN RANDOLPH
MUNJOM (AP)—The Indian chief of the Korean war commission indirectly—warned the Communists today to speed up their dragging interviews with anti-Red PoWs or "I may have to throw up my hands."

VERSATILE MAYOR WHALEN PATCHES-UP PHONE SYSTEM

It was Mayor Harold Whalen to the rescue at noon today when the city's telephone system blew a main fuse and put all lines in Prince Rupert out of commission. The fuse blew at 12:05 p.m. today and when frantic calls were made for wire chief Doug Hague it was found that he had stepped out of the city hall. An RCMP dragnet was put out for the missing wire boss and at that time Mayor Whalen stepped to the telephone room he strode, casually mentioning 20 years ago he had worked for the Dominion Government phone and Telegraph system. After locating the trouble maker he completed the circuit with a pair of insulated pliers and them in position for 10 minutes, returning the telephone system to normal. Mr. Hague then returned and repaired the system permanently.

Chan Remanded For Sentence Cheque Forgery Count

Neil Chan was remanded yesterday after he had been found guilty by Magistrate W. D. of retaining stolen property.

Prosecution evidence showed that during a party the two women had left Sedore asleep in his room and taken eight $100 cheques and two $50 ones with them when they left.

Free Escape from Oakalla

DOUGLAS (AP)—Prison farm here are looking for escapees—two who made it last week and one they let go by mistake.

McGuire, a 34-year-old man, was released Thursday and that his card was pulled from the file by mistake.

Two others, who made it out, are Edward and Kenneth Hupe, who vanished from a work party during a rainstorm Friday.

Michael O'Brien was sentenced to five years for kidnapping a woman.

DOUGLAS (AP)—Daniel O'Brien, 33-year-old former union organizer, was sentenced by Mr. Justice H. W. to five years for kidnapping a woman.

He was convicted of kidnapping a middle-aged woman who lives across the street from him and keep her in her house against her will.

Police Kill Six In Trieste Riots As General Strike Grips City

10,000 Parade In Guy Fawkes Celebrations

By HAL COOPER
LONDON (AP)—Thousands of celebrating students battled police for more than seven hours Thursday night in one of the most riotous Guy Fawkes nights London has seen in many years.

More than 120 persons face police charges as an aftermath of the wild outburst, climaxed by a march of 10,000 university students and others on the Houses of Parliament.

In Piccadilly Circus, 65 bobbies stood shoulder to shoulder against assaults on the famous statue of Eros—Greek god of love—which dominates the traffic circle. Climbing the statue is a favorite stunt of celebrating Britons.

The annual celebration in honor of the 17th-century plotter who tried to blow up the Houses of Parliament started off calmly with millions of Britons dancing around bonfires, burning effigies of "the Guy" and drinking ale.

The rioting erupted, spokesmen claimed, after police had refused them a permit for a big procession through London streets and a bonfire. A police spokesman denied such permission had been withheld, and said the only restriction was an old one forbidding processions or meetings within a mile of Parliament while the House is in session.

The mob surged out of Piccadilly Circus with the cry: "On to Parliament." The students fought their way through a mile of streets to the locked gates of Parliament Yard.

Some marchers detoured en route into Downing Street and tossed firecrackers against the windows of No. 10, Prime Minister Churchill's official residence.

Unable to penetrate the police cordon at the Parliament Buildings, the crowd then tried to march to Buckingham Palace. But mounted policemen gradually restored order—seven hours after the outbreak began.

Supplying Charge Brings $50 Fine
Murray Thomas Vague was fined $50, costs or in default one month in jail, when he pleaded guilty before Magistrate W. D. Vance in police court this morning, to a charge of supplying an Indian, Katherine White, with liquor.

Meanwhile, Allied and Communist diplomats today handed a team of staff advisers the tough job of ironing out disputes which have stalled efforts to arrange a Korean peace conference.

U.S. envoy Arthur Dean and top Red negotiators have recessed indefinitely while their aides try informally and probably in secret to break the deadlock.

Pulp Union Delegates To Meet in Vancouver

Three executive officers of the pulp workers' union at Columbia Cellulose plant on Watson Island left last night for Vancouver to attend a meeting of union representatives from nine B.C. pulp and paper mills.

The trio—Pat O'Neal, president of Local 708 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers (AFL-TLC); Peter Lester, corresponding secretary, and Angus Macphie, financial secretary—are travelling aboard the Prince George.

They will meet in Vancouver Sunday with delegates from other unions.

Two members of the international from Tacoma, Wash., John Sherman, vice-president of the pulp workers' union, and A. E. Brown, vice-president of the paper makers, also will attend.

MAY SET DATE
The delegates are expected to set a strike date and draw up policy to be followed at each plant in the event of a work stoppage.

The union voted 72 per cent in favor of strike action in a government-supervised strike vote throughout the industry last week-end. The vote followed their rejection in a referendum of a five-cents-an-hour across-the-board increase offered by the companies. Basic rate at the present time is $1.50 an hour.

In the vote at the Columbia Cellulose plant, 288 workers favored strike action and 99 were against.

The executive of Local 708, in a statement today, said they considered the strike vote majority at the plant "as a conscientious expression of the need for a more liberal settlement of their requests."

The union demanded a 10-cents-an-hour increase and a northern differential. A conciliation board recommended a four-cent increase, which the union turned down, and the firms followed with an offer of five cents an hour.

AWARE OF ACTION
The men are aware of the action they have taken," the statement said, adding that "the pulp and paper manufacturers in B.C. have refused to acknowledge the widely-accepted fact that this is a high-cost area."

"It is only in wages that standardization is in effect to any extent."

"We have no pension plan as they have in other mills and, while the present medical

Italians Blame British Soldiers

By WEBB MCKINLEY

TRIESTE (AP)—Bloody violence broke out anew in this disputed Adriatic port city today as clashes between rioters and police took a two-day toll of possibly nine killed. United States troops moved in fast in full field gear with bayonets fixed to try to quell the disturbance.

Unofficial reports said six pro-Italian demonstrators were killed in rioting today as the city was gripped by a general strike. A hand grenade tossed from the milling thousands exploded in the midst of a squad of police, wounding two of them gravely. Reports said one of these may also have died. Two persons were killed in rioting Thursday and 18 were injured.

It was the first time American troops had been called in to help quell the bitter demonstrations. British and American forces, which occupy this city, had previously been posted merely as guards around buildings where their personnel were working.

Police first opened fire today after they were outnumbered in a clash near the waterfront and were forced to give ground.

Police fired on the demonstrators. One demonstrator slumped to the ground next to this correspondent. Others appeared to have been hit.

Rioting here followed Thursday's bloody events in which the British-trained territorial police fired on demonstrators, killing two and wounding another 18.

The Trieste riots were followed by similar outbreaks in other Italian cities—notably industrial Milan and Rome.

In the Italian capital, thousands of demonstrating students stoned the British consulate in downtown Rome.

Italian newspapers bitterly blamed British Gen. Sir John Winterton for the order to fire which turned the flag-waving and later stone-hurling demonstration in Trieste into a national crisis.

Management will give no guarantee that this condition will last even for the contract year.

NOT ONLY WAGES
Throughout B.C., more than 4,200 workers at nine mills cast ballots. Pulp workers at one mill voted against strike action and papermakers at Powell River also voted against a work stoppage.

Mills involved, besides Columbia Cellulose, are: Alaska Pine and Cellulose at Port Alice and at Woodfibre; Elk Falls Company, Duncan; Howe Sound Pulp Company, Port Mellon; MacMillan & Bloedel at Nanaimo and Alberni; Ocean Falls and Powell River.

Since results of the strike vote were announced, no move has been made by either the companies or the union to discuss the "situation," but W. C. R. Jones, mill manager at Columbia Cellulose, has announced that the management "is always open for discussion."

Gouzenko Sues Paper For Libel
TORONTO (AP)—The law firm of Robinson and Haines said Thursday it has been retained by Igor Gouzenko, the Russian embassy clerk who exposed his country's wartime espionage in Canada, in a libel action against the Toronto Star and one of its reporters, Gwyn Thomas.

The action will allege that Mr. Gouzenko was libelled in a Star story Oct. 30.

Famous Santa Claus Critic, Dr. Brock Chisholm Retires

TORONTO (AP)—Dr. G. Brock Chisholm, in the past an outspoken critic of morals, laws and Santa Claus, plans to retire to a small house on Vancouver Island to "sort out his thinking."

The eminent Canadian psychiatrist who recently resigned as director-general of the United Nations World Health Organization said he doesn't like what has been happening to himself.

Dr. Chisholm, 47, whose views over the years have raised storms of protest, also doesn't like Hollywood's gangster movies, the press that plays up international discords and "sacred cows."

The dissatisfaction with himself, he explained in an interview Thursday, arises from the fact that he has "become a compromiser." He said he is seeking "a sort of reorientation" by taking to the woods and physical activity.

Dr. Chisholm said the United States' gangster movies are doing the West a great deal of harm.

"It's simply impossible to explain they don't represent Western democracy," he said. People in Eastern Europe could not accept that such things would be allowed out of the country if they were not authentic and government-approved.

It was his remarks in 1945 on Santa Claus that drew critics' fire from all sides. Then Canada's deputy minister of health said children should be told the literal truth about everything and should be taught Santa Claus is not real.

MODERN SCHOOL at Bella Coola in its picturesque setting is shown just before official opening when department of education officials handed over school to District 49, Ocean Falls, board of school trustees. Three-room school with teacherage, built at cost of $85,000, serves both native and white children and removes necessity for two school systems in Bella Coola Valley.

NOT KNOWING BETTY'S QUALIFICATIONS, it's hard to say whether she deserves such bad publicity. Nevertheless, she's the object of these pavement printers' scorn, and, incidentally, they seem to consider "Sibbie a nice boy." The street-writers' campaign took place in the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn, N.Y.
