

COUPLE LEAVES—A sightless couple, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Pilon of Montreal, and their two normal children, leave to take up residence in England. Pilon was blinded when a bomb exploded inside his tank in the Second World War and his wife's sight, poor for a number of years, finally was lost. Their children, Jeanne, 5, and Robert, 3½, accompany them.

Teacher 34 Years Finds Pupil Like Father

Jones is due to retire after 34 years of teaching French and English, at the time of the last 34 years.

In the modern student is outspoken and enjoys a understanding with the teacher.

Five years ago pupils have been a trifle more serious about study, she said more inclined to do their own initiative, but it does not mean that they were better fitted for the battles.

Jones likes to recall the time she was hopelessly confused in an examination, who submitted a single sheet of paper, drawn a goose with all the details scattered about. Being the drawing was a single sheet, not plucked, but alive.

What student? Miss Jones is reluctant to answer that question, she recalled several members for particular.

A pupil arrived late for class and then interrupted proceedings by gathering a hasty departure.

To explain his actions he said: "Don't stop me now, I'm going to join the army and I'll be back."

Prominent Royal Menage

PRINCE RUPERT—Since the Queen's residence at Buckingham Palace there's an increased number of royal brogues to be seen in the royal apartments.

The Queen Mother, Queen Elizabeth, has many Scots on her staff.

One of the Clarence House staff is a Scot, and for the first time the palace kitchens are run over by a woman—Sue, Miss Alma McKee, wife of a Scot, p. personal m. d. of an Aberdeenshire man.

Miss MacDonald, is an Inverclyde girl who, as an auburn-haired 16-year-old, became nursemaid to baby Princess Elizabeth and has stayed with her.

Well known that Helen Macdonald, nannie to Prince George and Princess Anne, is a Scot lass, and her assistant, Mabel Scott, also comes from Scotland.

McGregor is the canny Scot in charge of domestic arrangements in the royal apartments and the chauffeur who drives the royal children on afternoon drives may well be James Macdonald of Montrose. He's one of the Scots engaged in royal news.

Three New Members For IODE Chapter

Three new members, Mrs. W. McLean, Mrs. J. Dexter and Mrs. G. E. Miller, were welcomed into the Duchess of Edinburgh Chapter, IODE, at the regular monthly meeting.

Plans were made for a home cooking sale and raffle to be held at Gordon & Anderson's on June 28.

The meeting was the final one before the summer recess but members felt they would like to have two social evenings on the regular meeting nights in July and August.

Winner of the raffle was Mrs. George Fowle.

Terrace May Queen Crowned

Special to The Daily News

TERRACE—Lovely in formal attire, May Queen Marilyn de Kergommeaux was presented with a gold wrist watch and locket at the dance last night sponsored by the Kinsmen for the Royal party and teen-age friends.

The Queen's attendants, Miss Gerry MacDonald and Miss Marlene Dempster, also in formal dress, each were presented with a gold locket.

Presentations were made by Oliver Baxter on behalf of the Kinsmen.

Dancing was enjoyed to recordings at the Civic Centre. Refreshments served were hot dogs and soft drinks.

The pupil was Fred Portsmouth, Petrolia's mayor, who served in Canada's permanent army for 23 years.

Other former pupils include Lt.-Col. John Rider of the Veterans Affairs Department at Ottawa; Donald Ferguson Brown, Liberal member of parliament for Essex West; Fred Fitzgerald of the Comstock Company, St. Catharines; and Roy Cox, a distinguished oboe player who performed with the Vancouver and Toronto Symphony Orchestras.

Among the girls Miss Jones remembers are Ellen Ewart, now director of nurses at Mountain Sanatorium, Hamilton and Lucy Germain, director of nurses at Harper Hospital, Detroit.

Pro-Rec Training Plan For Terrace

Special to The Daily News

TERRACE—Keith Maltman, regional director of Pro-Rec Society of B.C., outlined a plan here this week by which the community could select some one for summer courses of Pro-Rec instructions.

Society will contribute $2.50 a day to help with expenses. Should the selected individual show marked interest or talent in Pro-Rec he can obtain further training at a special winter course of 44 sessions.
