

Greenville Band Concert Enjoyed by Large Crowd

Special to The Daily News
KINCOLITH—Close to 300 local residents and visitors from other Skeena villages enjoyed a band concert, staged here May 24 by the popular Greenville Concert Band.

The 50-piece band, conducted by Fred McKay, won warm applause from the appreciative crowd as it swung through a varied program of marches, overtures, waltzes and novelty numbers.

The program included: "The Royal Salute" (march)—J. Ord Hume; "Raymond" (The Queen's Secret) (overture)—Ambrose Thomas; "My Congratulations" (march)—H. L. Blamkenberg; "Old Timers" (waltz)—M. L. Lake; "The Thunderer" (march)—John P. Sousa; "Time Out for a Jam Session" (novelty)—James E. Handelon; "Stradella" (overture)—F. V. Plotow; "Good Luck" (Bonne Chance) (march)—W. Veith; "The Iron Count" (overture)—K. L. King; "Albion" (Grand Fantasia)—(Scottish, Irish and English airs)—Baeten.

Don't Panic Over Rashes Says Doctor

There's no need to panic when the children get a rash, says Greenville Park, M.D., in a recent issue of "Family Doctor," published by the British Medical Association.

"It is a fact," says Dr. Park, "that children can have flat feet, short sight, curvature of the spine or septile tonsils and their parents will remain blissfully happy and unaware of trouble. But a rash always seems to scare them."

"There are only two infectious diseases in which the rash is the first thing to be noticed. These are chicken pox and German measles. It is very very rare for either of these diseases to be serious in a child."

As for measles and scarlet fever, which can be serious, Dr. Park says "In neither case is the rash suddenly seen without warning in an otherwise healthy child. The measles child has already had a cold, a cough, blood-shot eyes and a temperature for several days. And she usually feels better when the rash does come. The child with scarlet fever has a sore throat and a temperature as well as the bluish-rash on the trunk."

Quite often, these rashes which appear suddenly come from nothing more serious than nettles or flea-bites, Dr. Park says. Occasionally a clean child may catch scabies from one who is not so clean. All these rashes are very easily and quickly cured.

"A rash that appears out of the blue with no other symptoms is very unlikely to be due to anything serious. If the child seems well, just put him to bed as usual, and its an even chance it will be gone by morning. If the thing persists, ask your doctor to have a look."

May Payments Set New Record

VICTORIA—With a total of $5,690,349, Federal welfare payments in British Columbia during May set an all-time record, according to W. R. Bone, regional director, Department of National Health and Welfare.

Of this amount $3,458,260 was paid to 85,980 Old Age Security pensioners and $2,232,089 was in the form of Family Allowances. The latter was paid on behalf of 368,472 children in 181,650 families.

During the month 481 families in receipt of Family Allowances left British Columbia for other parts of the Dominion, while 363 families came to this province. One hundred and seven pensioners left British Columbia, while 93 entered.

Village Fears Shark "Devil"

CUTTACK, India (Reuters)—A man-eating "sea-tiger" shark is terrorizing a tiny village near here on the muddy Baitarani river. The shark has already attacked a man and his son. Now mothers in the village refuse to let their children play near the river banks. They fear the shark is a "devil" which will gobble up anyone else venturing into the river.

U.S. To Copy Flying Saucer

NEW YORK—Time magazine says the United States Air Force is interested in a Canadian "flying saucer" and hopes within three years to have a prototype that can take off straight up, hover in mid-air and fly at nearly 2,000 miles an hour.

The magazine, in its Canadian section, says a mock-up, non-working model, of a flying saucer has been built under top-secret conditions at the A. V. Roe aircraft plant near Toronto, the design of John C. M. Frost, 35-year-old Briton.

Frost, who lives in Toronto with his wife and son, helped design wartime gliders and British jet aircraft, the Time story says. Later he worked on Canada's first home-built jet fighter, Avro's CF-100, and "meanwhile, in a top-secret screened area at Avro's Malton plant he designed flying saucers—at least one 40-foot mock-up with a flattened end spindly undercarriage."

"This model, quickly nicknamed the 'praying mantis' was designed to take off at a 40-degree angle after a short run."

"But Frost wanted a vertical take-off—which is quite a trick. Frost finally found what he thinks is a solution in an aerodynamic principle known as the 'Coanda effect.'"

The magazine says the Coanda effect, named for Romanian inventor Henri Coanda, involves the principle he discovered that curving one side of a nozzle will deflect a jet blast to follow the curved side.

Trail Man Jaycee Head

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—A Trail man, Philip Filibelli, was elected president of the B.C. and Yukon region of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the wind up of their convention Saturday in Penticton.

It was decided that the 1955 convention will be held in Victoria.

Bill Elders of the North Vancouver unit became a two-way winner when he won the championship in the Jaycee western oratorical finale. He also won the B.C. and Yukon championship during the regional finals Thursday.

Mail Order Liquor System In Kitimat Assailed by MLA

Special to The Daily News
KITIMAT—Lack of a liquor store in Kitimat is "providing fertilizer for what is already a breeding ground for bootleggers," said Frank Howard, MLA for Skeena in an address here yesterday.

Blasting the Liquor Control Board for its failure to provide an outlet in the community, Mr. Howard said, "I know of no other municipality in B.C. where people have to buy liquor by mail order. Almost 4,000 people are forced to pay up to 25 per cent more than people in other communities for the same type of drink."

Referring to the granting of liquor licences, Mr. Howard said that the board should, without delay, establish Kitimat as a licensing area.

"Hotel builders and cafe men are reluctant to build in Kitimat now, because they are not able to apply for liquor licences."

He said he couldn't understand why the area had not been designated a licensing zone. Prospective businessmen in Kitimat should be given equal treatment with what they would receive elsewhere in British Columbia.

"In order to develop this community, as fast as is humanly possible, we must have proper hotels and restaurants. And, with the province's new liquor laws being what they are, we won't get those hotels and restaurants until liquor licences are granted."

Mr. Howard spoke in Kitimat in the course of a tour of north-western B.C., during which he is reporting on activities at the past legislative session and discussing local problems in the various centres.

This has been another busy week for your Museum. Thanks to Mr. J. B. Scott of the Forestry Department, we are to have a very attractive Forestry display, also Mr. Scott is arranging other exhibits for us and we are most grateful. It gives the upstairs of the Museum a new look. Also others have been kind and thoughtful and we have promises of more exhibits to come.

The steamship companies have been most co-operative with the Tourist Bureau (with offices in the Museum). Also a meeting of the executive of the Chamber of Commerce was held in the new office this week.

We have had interesting visitors this week. About 50 tourists off the C.P.R. boat visited the museum May 24. All seemed impressed with our exhibits. They were from Denver, Col., Kansas City, Mo., Los Angeles, Calif., Inglewood, Calif., Iowa, Ottawa, Orden, Utah, Rawlins, Wyo., Compton, Calif., Berkeley Calif., Moricetown B.C., Long Beach, Calif., East Orange, N.J., Seattle Wash., Philadelphia, Pa., Winnipeg, Man., Victoria, B.C., Burns Lake, B.C., Ketchikan, Alaska, Jasper Alta., San Diego, Calif., Tacoma, Wash., Edmonton, Alta. Also there were a great number of local people, which is very encouraging.

Mr. John Currie paid us a visit and told us he had lived in Prince Rupert 46 years and had never been in the Museum, but he remembers Sir Wilfred Laurier making a speech from the Museum steps in the old days. We enjoyed his visit and hope he comes again.

Mr. Senour of Seattle was an interested visitor. He is head of the Alaska Tourist Bureau and was heading for his office in Ketchikan where Miss Euc operates the bureau.

Mrs. Josephs of Victoria was a charming guest and although she was in our city for a sad occasion, the funeral of her son, she had time to visit us, admire

You can't go ALL-OUT
If you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "fired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.
