Graduation Ceremonies Held

Borden Street
Graduating exercises were held at Borden Street School Wednesday afternoon when in the presence of parents, report cards were issued to the Grade Six students and presentation of the Miss S. A. Mills Memorial Trophy was made.

Principal J. S. Wilson, complimenting students on their scholastic achievements, presented report cards to the youngsters, and named Evelyn Rowe and Donald Lewis joint winners of the coveted Miss Mills trophy, given in memory of the former school principal. Each of the youngsters will hold the trophy for six months. They also receive small cups.

Evelyn Rowe gave the valediction and Gail Davidson extended good wishes to the graduates on behalf of next year's grade sixers.

Annunciation

Grade Ten students of the Annunciation School graduated yesterday with an impressive ceremony.

The day opened for the graduates with a mass celebrated by Rev. Fr. O. P. Mohan and sung by the secondary grades of the school. Later, with their parents, they attended a graduation breakfast in Annunciation School Hall. Father Mohan, Father McMahon and Brother Smallcombe were special guests.

The graduation breakfast was arranged by Mrs. P. Lyons assisted by Mrs. W. Pierce and Mrs. J. Rogerson. It was served by the Grade 9 girls.

Father Mohan, in his address to the graduates said: "This is the parting ceremony at Annunciation School. Another link in your chain of life has been completed. Start all future links, with the same principles that have been taught you in Annunciation School and Church and you will live happy useful lives."

The award from the Burns Club for the best all round student was won by Ann Brown. An award from the Home and School Association for outstanding good citizenship was won by Tony Toth, as well as the Name Proficiency award. Charlene Choquette also won a good citizen award and the Grade 9 award for proficiency was won by Anita Rogerson. All graduates received leather bound new testaments and a medal as parting gifts.

Tony Toth, on behalf of the graduating class, thanked the Sisters for their guidance and assistance and Sister St. Martin, principal of the school gave her best wishes to the graduates.

The graduating class consisted of Ann Brown, Charlene Choquette, Connie Basso, Cathy Roos, Tony Toth, Alice Etzertza and Nancy Wood.

They completed their day with a picnic at the Parish Cottage across the harbor.

City Schools Close Today; 22 Quitting Local Staffs

Excited students of all but one of Prince Rupert's schools flocked from their classrooms today, not to return until next September.

The youngsters received report cards, tidied up their desks, collected books and rushed away, looking forward to two happy months of no "readin', writin' and 'rithmetic."

At Annunciation School, youngsters will end their spring term tomorrow, with presentation of prizes and receipt of final report cards.

The day marked the end of the season's work for teachers, too, many of whom will not see Prince Rupert students again.

Fifteen teachers of the Booth Memorial High School are leaving the district, and the board of school trustees have made five appointments for next fall.

In elementary schools in the city, a total of eight teachers are leaving and five appointments have been made. The rural school picture is more complicated with resignations and transfers, but counting moves from one school to another in the district, as resignations, the total is five, with three appointments (or new posts for present teachers) made.

Teachers leaving Booth Memorial High School include Harry Johnson, Tomo Naka, Mrs. Christine Worsley, Frank Moore,

Brenner Posts 6-0 Shutout To Drub Bears

Thanks to a smooth pitching performance by manager Bill Brenner, Vancouver once again has a four-lengths lead in the Western International Baseball League pennant race.

And with a little more than two weeks remaining in the first half of the league's split season, Brenner's Capitanos would appear to be a shoo-in for the bunting. The schedule sends them against second division teams in all but one of their series between now and July 5 when the first half ends.

In other games Wednesday night, Edmonton handed Wenatchee its fifth straight loss, 10-5; Lewiston upended Victoria 10-3, and Tri-City beat Salem 6-1, the first half of a doubleheader but dropped the nightcap 3-2.
