Two Teachers, Once of Rupert Wed in South

Two teachers, both formerly on the staff of Booth Memorial High School here, were wed Thursday in Canadian Memorial Chapel, Vancouver.

They are Enid Dora Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Ball of Victoria and Elwyn Leslie Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Matthews of Vancouver.

The bride has been teaching at Abbotsford and the groom at Chilliwack.

Seed pearls were embroidered on the bride's Chantilly lace and satin gown, which fell to a slight train. A cap of satin petals held her fingertip veil and she carried white and mauve orchids.

Identical dresses of ballerina-length blue shantung, with matching hats, were chosen for Miss Margaret Dunbar of Chilliwack, maid of honor, and Miss Shirley Matthews, sister of the bride, bridesmaid.

Carmel Aldridge, flower girl, wore a frock of pink nylon sheer over taffeta and carried a basket of flowers. All carried spring flowers.

Arild Dalsvaag was best man and Ronald Nielson and Anthony Aldridge were ushers.

Harry Sedman was soloist.

Among the guests at the reception was Mrs. E. Bridgewater of London, Eng., aunt of the groom.

The couple will spend their honeymoon in points in California, returning to make their home in Chilliwack. The bride's going-away costume was a grey-blue suit with navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

WOMEN DEMAND RELEASE OF MEN HELD IN RUSSIA

VIENNA (AP)—About 1,000 Austrian women staged an orderly torchlight parade through Vienna's inner city in a demonstration for release of some 900 husbands and sons held in Russia.

Carrying banners such as "Amnesty for the last prisoner," "Where is humanity?" and "Bring our suffering to an end," they filed past the Austrian federal chancellery.

Son of Pioneer City Man Weds Prince George Girl

One of the prettiest weddings of the spring season to date in Prince Rupert was solemnized at the First United Church Thursday night, uniting a pioneer Chinese family of Prince Rupert with a well-known Prince George family.

The bride was Jean Bow Eng, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eng Fook Young of Prince George and the groom Jone Kim Dong Lee, son of Mr. Charles Hew Lee of this city.

Baskets of spring flowers graced the church for the rites conducted by the Rev. L. G. Sieber. Mrs. G. Calderwood was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a beautiful gown of white net and lace over satin. The strapless bodice of shirred net and lace flared into a lace V-pointed peplum over a bouffant skirt of double nylon net poised over gleaming satin. The matching lace jacket featured stand-up collar and lily point sleeves.

Her net veil, en train, was trimmed with appliqued lovers' knots and cascaded from a pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and wore jade earrings and pendants and a dainty gold bracelet, a gift from her sister in Hong Kong.

Attending the bride were Miss Janet Wong, bridesmaid, and Miss Marcia Mah, junior bridesmaid, gowned in pink and blue respectively. Miss Wong's gown of pink net with all-over silver embroidery over taffeta featured a shirred bodice with portrait neckline and a full skirt. She wore a matching Queen Ann headress and carried a colonial bouquet of carnations. Miss Mah's gown was of blue taffeta with a white nylon net overskirt and white flower buds outlining the butterfly sleeves. A wreath of white flowers in her hair and a spray of carnations completed her ensemble.

Mr. Eugene Mah was bestman and ushers were Mr. Daniel Shiu of Ladner and Mr. Chuck Yee.

The Legion auditorium was the scene of the large reception at which the beautiful Chinese gowns of the serviteurs and bouquets of flowers added to the colorful affair.

The groom's sister, Mrs. Daniel Shiu assisted in receiving the many guests, wearing a ballerina length gown of red lace with red and black accessories and white carnations on corsage.

The beautifully decorated nine-tiered wedding cake was set on the bride's table covered with lace over green damask. White tapers in silver holders completed the table appointments.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Edward Ghee Mah in both the Chinese and English tongues, with the groom responding, also in both languages. Master of ceremonies was Mr. Peter Wong who read telegrams of congratulations from Al Mah and the groom's brother, Kim Yuen of Montreal.

Assisting throughout the evening were Mr. Ling Bo Shon, Mr. Dick Wong, Mr. Earl Mah, Mr. Joe Wong, and serviteurs Mrs. Yet Wong, Mrs. Earl Mah, Mrs. Ghee Mah, Mrs. Chuck Mah, Mrs. A. Bon, Mrs. Ling Bo Shon, Mrs. Chuck Yee, Mrs. Bob Ing, Miss Patricia Wong, Miss Mae Fong Wong, Miss May Oi Wong and Miss Pat Mah.

For her wedding trip to San Francisco and Honolulu, the bride donned a dressmaker suit of grey topped by a muskrat coat, with black accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

The newlyweds plan to make their home at 817 3rd Ave. West.

Witnesses Plan Three-Day Meet

Board Hits Hospital Controls

Provincial government "control of hospitals" came under fire last night as members of the Prince Rupert General Hospital Association board of directors called for "retaining our local autonomy."

Members unanimously turned down a proposal that B.C. hospitals take part in a group purchasing plan in order to get supplies at a cheaper rate by buying in large quantities.

The proposal will be discussed at a hospital conference in Vancouver next week which will be attended by Prince Rupert's hospital administrator, D. C. Stevenson.

Under the proposed plan, purchasing would be done through B.C. Hospital Insurance System with distribution centres named throughout the province, explained Mr. Stevenson.

Dr. A. W. Large, medical representative to the board, said the proposal "sounds like another thin edge of the wedge by which the government seeks to control our hospitals."

Members agreed that Mr. Stevenson should press "for local autonomy" when attending the conference, including demands for "realistic rates" for B.C. hospital.

Presen. rates allowed by B.C. HIS were inadequate to meet ex- penses, yet hospitals have been told they must adhere to the 1952 level of operation, said R. G. Moore, board president.

Women Gassed

ERZERUM, Turkey (AP)—Ladies Day at the Turkish bath in this eastern Turkish city nearly turned into a tragedy Friday. Carbon monoxide gas from an im- properly stoked fire seeped into the bath and made seven women unconscious. Five were taken to hospital.

Norwegians Hold Brothers' Eve

Men of the Sons of Norway roamed the kitchen and served the food last night when the annual Brothers' Eve was staged in the Sons of Norway Hall.

In charge of the committee that staged the banquet for the Sons and Women of Norway and Sonja Ladies, was O. K. Olson assisted by A. Jensen, Gunnar Selvig, J. Friedheim, H. Helland, J. Pederson, O. Andreassen, B. Bakken and Tony Martineussen. Nels Gunnerson was master of ceremonies. Following the banquet the large crowd enjoyed dancing.

Of 14,000 medicinal chemicals tested for anti-malaria, only two were found satisfactory and only four antispas- modic drugs out of hundreds tested and classified now are widely used.
