

Presbyterian Tea Success

The First Presbyterian Church hall was bedecked with spring flowers yesterday afternoon for the well-attended spring tea and sale sponsored by the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid.

Mrs. Norman Moorehouse, vice-president, received guests at the successful affair which included sales of home cooking and aprons.

Mrs. H. C. Halliday, president, was convener of the tea, at which Mrs. W. D. Vance, Mrs. Robert Cameron, Mrs. W. H. Taylor and Mrs. M. Stewart presided at the tea table.

Serving were Mrs. Robert Parker, Mrs. Martin Erickson and Mrs. T. W. Brown while in the kitchen were Mrs. William White, Mrs. W. W. Bowes and Mrs. Harry Robb.

In charge of the apron sale were Mrs. Albert Wood and Mrs. Ray Fossum and at the bake table were Mrs. William Bremner, Mrs. Ed Saunders and Mrs. John McLeod.

A lovely silver vase holding bright daffodils, Japanese irises and pussywillows, centred the serving table while miniature sprays of daffodils and pussywillows with green leaves graced the tea tables.

FROGWOMEN'S FASHIONS include these shallow-water diving suits worn by Lucille Cain and Elinor Emeldi (right). The form-fitting suits are made of unicellular foam neoprene and are designed to keep the wearer warm and protect him against abrasions of coral and rocks. Called a Sub-Mariner, the suit comes in the forms shown, with helmets, gloves and socks also available.

SEAWAY LEGISLATION FACES FURTHER DELAY

WASHINGTON — Supporters of United States St. Lawrence seaway legislation faced a new delay today in bringing the controversial measure to the floor of the House of Representatives for final action.

The House rules committee, after a lengthy hearing on Thursday, decided to postpone further consideration of the bill until the House returns from its Easter recess April 26. The committee decides which legislation shall go to the House floor.
