THREE CANADIAN WIVES admire a silver teapot in a German handicrafts shop in Hannover during a shopping tour. Left to right: Mrs. Dorsey Reed, Toronto; Mrs. Joan Howey of Leaside, Ont., and Mrs. Peggy Murray of Edmonton. A medical officer with the 27th Canadian Infantry Brigade at Hannover, commenting on the life led by Canadian troops in Germany, said "with a Canadian society, provided by the wives and families of the married men, the (moral) tone would be improved. The single men would settle down to decent standards and the married men would have their normal outlet."

Plans For Air Cadet Week Completed By Committee

An active program for celebration of Air Cadet Week, April 12 to 18, was finalized last night at a meeting of the sponsoring committee of the Prince Rupert air cadet squadron.
As a preliminary to activities, the squadron will hold a formal dance at the Canadian Legion tomorrow night to which members of the Navy Cadet League are invited. Films will be shown and refreshments served.
Commencement of Air Cadet Week will be marked by a church parade on Sunday. The squadron will form up at the Canadian Legion at 10:15 a.m. and proceed to the First United Church to attend the service there.
On Monday night open house will be held at the squadron's regular weekly parade in the Armoury. Here the public will have an opportunity to see the cadets go through their paces in rifle drill and precision march-

46 Senior Citizens Enjoy Social At Civic Centre

A social at the Civic Centre provided by the Women's Coordinating Council for the 'Over 70 club' proved to be an enjoyable affair for 46 senior citizens who attended.

The president, Mrs. A. L. Haines, assisted by Mrs. W. W. Bowes, received the guests and Mrs. Haines made a short speech of welcome.

Proceedings got under way by the singing of "O Canada" with Mrs. J. S. Black at the piano. Mrs. Black was also in charge of the program.

Then Miss Olive Strand played a beautiful piano solo, "Trees."

Following this, the meeting was turned over to the Over 70 Club to discuss additional gatherings through the year. A committee was chosen, consisting of Mr. Jack MacIntosh, Mr. George Casey, Mr. H. Walker, Mrs. E. Moorehouse and Mrs. H. Killin. They retired with the officers of the club, President Mrs. M. Viereck, Mr. H. F. Glassey, vice-president and Mrs. P. W. Anderson, secretary to form plans.

Mr. Jack MacIntosh, chairman of this committee, later reported that it was decided that the Over 70 Club would meet quarterly for socials and entertainments.

They formed two committees: One for visiting the sick, consists of Mr. MacIntosh, Mrs. Moorehouse, Mr. Walker and Mrs. Killin. Mr. Geo. Casey and Mr. Glassey are on the Old Age Pension committee. Mr. MacIntosh paid tribute to the Women's Coordinating Council.

Many Attend St. Andrew's Annual Bazaar

The Annual Spring Bazaar of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Cathedral was opened promptly at 2:30 p.m. yesterday by the Rt. Rev. H. G. Watts, Bishop of Caledonia, who welcomed the many guests.

Receiving were Mrs. R. E. Mortimer, president of the afternoon branch, and Mrs. Basil S. Prockter who introduced the guests to Mrs. H. G. Watts.

Mrs. C. C. Mills was convenor of the tea room, assisted by Mrs. N. A. Beketov, Mrs. F. E. Anfield, Mrs. E. Paulding and Mrs. F. N. Gladish.

The lace covered tea table was centred with a profusion of spring flowers encircled by tiny egg candies. Mrs. H. L. Holtby, Mrs. K. Greer, Mrs. H. G. Watts and Mrs. Basil S. Prockter poured while Mrs. C. J. Currie, Mrs. G. E. Moore, Mrs. B. J. Bason, Mrs. P. Bird and Mrs. St. J. Madeley served.

Expressions of admiration were exchanged over the novel crocus and eggshell table decorations of Mrs. H. L. Holtby.

The gaily-decorated booths held a varied display of useful and interesting articles.

In charge of sewing, knitting and fancy work were Mrs. T. B. Black and Mrs. G. H. Trapp; plants, Mrs. B. Pavlikis assisted by Miss Sena Pavlikis; candy, Mrs. T. M. Christie assisted by Miss Julie Prockter; white elephant novelties, Mrs. J. Fournotis and Mrs. H. E. Faure.

The wee tots were fascinated by the fish pond conducted by Mrs. H. J. Marchant.

The popular home cooking table was in charge of evening branch members Mrs. A. G. Bartlett, Mrs. C. S. Foreman and Mrs. R. G. Farmer.

Mrs. Shelford Darton was cashier.

District News TERRACE

The hospital wards were made gay at Easter by lovely spring flowers placed there by the Auxiliary members. Small bouquets were placed on each bedside table.
Arrangements for this were made at the monthly meeting of the Auxiliary in the Credit Union Hall which was presided over by Miss E. Head.
More members are needed to carry on the work. Mrs. Chadwick, a member of the local Dorcas Society attended the meeting and said that on one afternoon each month the members will do the hospital sewing and mending.
Four bassinets, ordered by the Auxiliary for the hospital will be delivered in about 10 days.
The matter of how the hospital board could be best assisted by the Auxiliary in the installing of the new diet kitchen is being held over until there is more information. Apparently the Terrace Volunteer Firemen have made the Diet Kitchen their project and it is now almost completed.
Plans are advancing for the Coronation Ball.
A request had been made for the use of the Auxiliary's tea-cups and plates for afternoon teas and it was decided that these would be lent to the various organizations and checked over by an Auxiliary member and breakages replaced by the borrowing organization.
Mrs. Norrington turned over to the Auxiliary $3.50, the proceeds of some marmalade she made and sold for the cause.
