Popular Couple Leaves To Settle in Kelowna

One of the north country's most popular policemen is leaving Prince Rupert tomorrow morning.

Sergeant Lance A. N. Potterton and Mrs. Potterton are driving to Kelowna to establish their home. They plan a leisurely auto trip and probably will stay in Smithers for a couple of days enroute. Sgt. Potterton is perhaps the most liked and best known officer in the law in northern and central B.C. He has patrolled throughout this hinterland for 32 years, the last two as a five-star sergeant in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The six-foot, two-inch officer, now at 58, still walks at a fast pace, returned only a fortnight from his last patrol at court.

Sgt. Potterton, who said "good-bye" to the force here at Saturday, was the only named non-commissioned officer in this district to wear gold stars on his left sleeve—each for five years' service.

In order to see the "boys" before leaving, the sergeant strolled the Court House police office at Saturday afternoon and to his amazement walked into a new party.

To the cheers of the more than 100 members of the force in attendance, Sgt. Terry Stewart presented Sgt. Potterton with a new tea service.

Sgt. Stewart, who has worked with the retiring officer for 17 years, expressed the wishes of all men when he said Sgt. Potterton will be missed by everyone in this part of B.C.

LONG CAREER
In 1920, Sgt. Potterton joined the Prince Rupert police force and when the provincial police took over in 1926 he joined that force, until August 15, 1951, when the RCMP absorbed his services in the provincial change-over.

Since that time, he has been patrol sergeant for the Prince Rupert sub-division. He is well known throughout this section of the province as a policeman who was always willing to help.

Sgt. Potterton is going to Kelowna to buy a little place, maybe a farm, and will continue his hobby of taking pictures and probably play a little golf. He was a member of the Rotary Club in Prince Rupert and takes with him the good wishes of all members on his new "assignment."

Both he and Mrs. Potterton, who is well known for her social work here, will be missed by the city, but their two daughters, Mrs. A. Husoy and Jessie, a member of the staff at the Royal Bank, will remain in Prince Rupert.

Mr. and Mrs. Husoy will occupy the Sergeant's home on Fifth Avenue East until their new house is completed.

Mrs. Marcia E. Kissick, president of the B.C. Women's Liberal Association, will speak here on Thursday in support of Jack McRae. Mrs. Kissick lives in West Vancouver. Her address will be made in the Ladies' Lounge at the Civic Centre.

Money derived from the sale will be used for church improvements.

The sale went at a fast clip in the morning and then a large crowd turned out to enjoy tea in the afternoon.

MISS DOROTHY J. KERGIN

Leading Nursing Student Appointed to Princeton

Dorothy J. Kergin, leader of the class receiving degrees in nursing at the University of B.C. this year, was due home by plane this afternoon.

Miss Kergin, 23-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Kergin, 320 Second Avenue West, placed second in B.C. in the registered nurses' examinations last year at Vancouver General Hospital.

For coming first in the class for BSN this year, Miss Kergin won the university's nurses' prize.

After a vacation at her home, she will go to Princeton, B.C., as the public health nurse.

Miss Kergin was born in Prince Rupert and received her early schooling here. She received her senior matriculation at Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, Ontario, and began her six-year course between Vancouver General Hospital and UBC to receive her nursing degree.

Her plane was due to touch down at 6:30 p.m.

Twenty-one years ago 64 per cent of B.C.'s pulp and paper production was newsprint and 36 percent was pulp. By 1952 these figures were exactly reversed.

Mrs. Zetta L. Latimer of Toronto, national convenor of the National Post War Service Committee, said in one of the reports prepared for delivery at the annual meeting that value of food parcels sent to Britain alone was $15,928 greater than in the previous year.

Clothing and nursery bags worth $7,462 were sent to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital for Children in London and the Royal Hospital for Sick Children in Glasgow.

New and used clothing worth $15,084 was sent to soldiers' sailors' and airmen's families association which cares for British veterans of both world wars and their families.

HELP FOR AGED

A similar allotment valued at almost $10,000 went to the Women's Voluntary Services for distribution among Britain's aged.

In urging chapters to continue collecting new and used clothing, Mrs. Latimer said such clothing valued at $56,299 was sent last year to Greece.
