Vancouver Man To Teach Local Artists In Novel Outdoor Class Near Smithers

An outdoor art course, thought to be the first of its type in western Canada, will be staged this summer in the Smithers area, and already several local artists have planned to take advantage of the novel course.

Mrs. J. T. Harvey, well-known Prince Rupert artist who, with W. H. M. Collison, arranged details for the session, announced today that a Vancouver artist will instruct the outdoor classes. He is Fred Ames, popular head of the Vancouver school of art, whose decision to instruct the classes was termed a "boon to local artists."

The classes, scheduled for July 5 to 14 will be centred around Lake Kathlyn, near Smithers, a summer resort, but students, as well as painting lake and mountain scenes, will travel through the Bulkley Valley seeking other subjects.

The valley was termed a perfect spot for such classes by Mrs. Harvey, who noted that the scenery, varying from rugged mountains to rolling farm land was among the loveliest in the province.

The student artists will visit especially Glacier Gulch on Hudson Bay Mountain and the Indian Village of Morricetown.

The course will be open to both children and adults, and will be designed mainly for beginners, although more advanced artists also may be assisted if they so desire.

The course will cost students only $12 each, but each will arrange his own accommodation. Mr. Collison and Mrs. Harvey are in charge of reservations and persons interested are asked to contact one or the other.

Mrs. Harvey, who hopes to make the course an annual affair, sees the scheme as a sort of miniature of the famed outdoor art classes at Banff, sponsored by the University of Alberta. As far as is known, this will be the first organized outdoor art course in western Canada, aside from those subsidized by universities, and Mrs. Harvey hopes that, if this one is successful, similar courses may be arranged in other B.C. areas.

Presbyterian Church Locale For Missionary Society Tea

The First Presbyterian Church was the scene yesterday afternoon of a delightful afternoon tea and sale presented annually by the Women's Missionary Society of the Church.

Mrs. H. Calderwood, president, and Mrs. E. A. Wright, received guests at the affair for which a gorgeous flowering cactus, and bright spring flowers set the decorative theme.

The huge cactus, covered with large pink blossoms, formed the unusual but striking centerpiece for the serving table, and dainty bouquets of sprightly primroses centered the tea tables.

Mrs. H. Gamblin was in charge of the tea room, and presiding at the urns were Mrs. T. M. Spencer, Mrs. L. W. Kergin, Mrs.

E. J. Smith and Mrs. T. Beattie. Mrs. Gamblin was assisted in the kitchen by Mrs. A. E. Wood and Mrs. J. W. Eastwood while serving were Miss Annie McLeod, Mrs. W. Bremner and Mrs. W. White. Cashier was Mrs. John Bremner.

Featured at the event was a sale of delicious looking home baked products, with Mrs. J. Hadden sr., and Mrs. W. Spark in charge.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS -by Bayne Hope Sanders-

MONTREAL, May 27th—Most of us enjoy doing the laundry... I know that for a fact! Reason is that we enjoy seeing results for our work... One tried a true way of getting results with laundered shirts, starched just right, is by using SILVER GLOSS... And the best of it is that you get beautiful results—with easier work. You'll find that Silver Gloss mixes in a jiffy; that it penetrates the fabric smoothly; that it irons with ease—and before you know it, there's a pile of men's shirts that give you a glow of pleasure because they look so professional. Silver Gloss is wonderful for shirts—for summer cottons of all kinds—for your table linens too!

Just To Remind You... I had forgotten something until a few weeks ago that I wish I had never forgotten. And you may have forgotten it, too. It's Laundry Blue—and the wonderful whiteness it can add to your white wash. Remember this—soaps and detergents—regardless of their colour—take out dirt. Bleach takes out stain. But Laundry Blue puts white in! If you have been forgetting Laundry Blue, you've been missing a surprising amount of whiteness that can be added to your white wash. Your husband's white shirts, your sheets and towels can all be so much whiter if you use Laundry Blue. You can add whiteness to a whole white wash for less than two cents. Get RECKITT'S BLUE.
