Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Williams

Wedding Ceremony Unites City, Windsor Families

Windsor, Ontario, and Prince Rupert shared interest in the wedding rites solemnized here Friday afternoon in which Anita Prime, operating room supervisor at the Prince Rupert General Hospital, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prime of Windsor, became the bride of Arthur Francis Williams, CNR employee of Prince Rupert.

The Rev. L. G. Sieber conducted the ceremony in the First United Church, for which the church was graced with sprays of lovely spring flowers.

Given in marriage by Mr. Charles Roberts, the bride was charming in an informal frock of blue bengaline with tiny veiled hat of navy blue and other accessories also in navy. She carried a white orchid on a white prayer book.

Bridesmaid was Miss Dorothy J. Wade, wearing a champagne-toned afternoon dress with black accessories, and carrying red roses.

Groomsman was Mr. R. A. Knight, and organist Mrs. G. Calderwood.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Nurses' Residence, where more spring flowers decked the rooms. The bride's table held a three-tier wedding cake, with pink candles and flowers, set on a lace cloth.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Roberts, and serving refreshments were Miss G. Bailey, Miss C. Rothwell, Miss M. Williams, Miss B. Cooper, Mrs. P. Spencer and Miss H. Boehme.

Soloist at the reception was Mrs. Joanne Cleo, singing "Because" and "I Love Thee," with Miss Williams as piano accompanist.

The bride added a lovely off-white coat to her costume for her wedding trip to Vancouver and Washington.

Cancer Group Sets $2,000 As 1954 Quota

Further plans for the annual fund campaign and educational projects were made at last night's meeting of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert branch, Canadian Cancer Society, held in the Legion board room.

The Cancer Society will be aiming at an objective of $2,000, one per cent of the $200,000 B.C. objective, in its one-night door-to-door canvass to be staged on Wednesday, April 21.

Campaign committee chairman Ron Allen told the group last night that more canvassers were needed. Several local organizations have named canvassers to take part in the drive but many more were needed.

Working with Mr. Allen on the committee are Mrs. W. Rothwell, in charge of organizing canvassers, and the Rev. F. Antrobus, directing the out-of-town campaign.

Meanwhile, the group planned to intensify its year-round educational campaign during this fund campaign month.

TO SHOW FILM

An interesting film on lung cancer, "The Warning Shadow," was to be shown to high school students by Principal R. H. Davidson, possibly today, and Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher Associations will be asked to show the film at their meetings this month. The film will also be available to any other groups interested throughout the month. Those wishing to see the film were asked to contact Mrs. G. V. Hanley.

Another possible educational project discussed was staging of a public forum on cancer, during the regular visit here of the cancer consultative clinic from Vancouver. Clinic doctors and local physicians would be asked to participate.

A special committee, including Mrs. Hanley, Mrs. W. Wallace and Mrs. A. Holbrook was named to assist with patients at the consultative clinic and to serve refreshments for the patients.

Other committees appointed at the session were welfare, Miss H. Boehme and Mrs. R. Pollock and publicity, Mrs. W. Murdoch, Mrs. F. Hicks, R. H. Davidson and J. E. Taylor.

PTA To Continue Bursaries

Decision to continue awarding bursaries to students planning teacher-training was reached at a meeting of the bursary committee of the Prince Rupert

Parent-Teacher Associations, held at the home of Mrs. A. Carlson.

Friends Fete Nancy Lund

Miss Nancy Lund, whose marriage takes place Saturday here, was honored at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Jackie Moorehead, 1068 Seventh Avenue East.

The many guests enjoyed bingo, with prizes going to the honoree and to Miss Loreen Gordon and Miss Dorothy Hubbard, after which the many useful gifts were presented to the bride-elect in a pretty pink and white box. Pink and white streamers also decked the throne chair for the guest of honor.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Miss Hubbard and Miss Marian Watson.

Other invited guests were Mrs. E. Orme, Mrs. A. Lund, Mrs. R. Watson, Mrs. J. Moorehead, Miss Pat Lemon, Miss Elaine Young, Miss Sandra Waldbauer, Miss Joyce Rhodes, Miss Georgina Mitchell, Miss Karen L. Strange, Miss Catherine Hansen and Miss Dru Patrick.

Warns Against Minimizing Town's Influence on Students

A warning against underestimating the influence of the community on development of children was given by R. H. Davidson, Booth Memorial principal, in an address yesterday to the Gyo Club.

Pointing to the home, school and church as other influences on childhood progress, Mr. Davidson said that none of these by itself can outweigh the effect which the community as a whole has in this respect.

As an example, he recalled an instance when he was talking to members of a class on the importance of making themselves useful and active in whatever positions they held after graduation. In the question period that followed, one boy said that he would be looked upon as trying to gain favor with the boss if he followed this advice.

character is inadequate, you will have to take them all. Whatever the future holds for us depends on these young people. Their future is ours.

LENGTH OF SCHOOLING

Mr. Davidson said that one question which bothers some parents is how long their children are going to remain in school, particularly if they have a low capacity to learn. He said his reply to this was that all should be given the same opportunity in preparing themselves for later life. In the case of those with inferior ability as students, it was especially important that as much as possible be done for them to prevent their being a burden on others.

REDUCE COMPETITION

"In those remarks we see what effect the community can have, the speaker said.

"Unfortunately we have in our society some groups who seem unable to accept the full effort of other people. They will devise means to keep others from making their best effort in order to reduce competition for themselves."

Referring to Future Citizen's Day, Mr. Davidson said that while one day was not sufficient to enable students to learn much about the jobs in which they were placed, it did give them an opportunity to measure their own abilities and aptitudes in the various occupations. In doing so, it brought their work in Effective Living closer to home.

"These are your future citizens and you will have to take them for better or worse," he added. "There will be no picking and choosing. Whether or not there are some whose schooling or

THE POET spent many love-filled months in the Pacific Islands and later went to New Zealand. He call it:

"A sort of Fabian England very upper middle class and gentle and happy (after Canada)."

Well, I suppose it makes all the difference where you sit. The Canada of 1913 was a very happy place indeed to at least one Canadian, who happens also to admire Rupert Brooke.
