Two Detained After Fires

FORESTVILLE, Que. (C)—Two men were detained here last night by provincial police as "important" witnesses in suspected arson activities in connection with two forest fires at nearby Ste. Therese du Colombier.

Police did not identify the men other than to say they were related and in their 20s. One man was said to be the other's uncle.

Police said the two men made statements which will be checked later. It was understood the statements were alibis.

The men were placed under guard of police of the Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Company on the request of provincial police. Part of Forestville is owned by the company whose timber limits in this area, 100 miles east of Quebec, have borne the brunt of the main fire north of here. An investigation will continue today.

The fire now has been confined in an area of about one square mile although constant surveillance is necessary because of its proximity to the village.

The fire was first spotted Monday while crews of firefighters were battling the main blaze which began Aug. 7.

The two outbreaks almost caused the entire village of Ste. Therese to be evacuated. Only prompt action on the part of fire fighters prevented the flames from spreading into the village.

Ousted Premier Arrested

LONDON (AP)—The royalist-controlled Tehran radio today announced capture of ousted premier Mohammed Mossadegh. It said new street fighting with Mossadegh's supporters broke out in the Iranian capital.

Earlier dispatches said the new premier, Maj-Gen. Fazollah Zahedi, had given the wily old Mossadegh 24 hours to surrender.

Late broadcasts from Tehran said Zahedi had started to form a new cabinet and had messaged the shah to come home at once. Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi is in Rome but is planning to take off tonight.

Tehran radio said Wednesday Mossadegh's right hand man, former foreign minister Hossein Fatemi, had been torn to bits by mob violence in which 300 persons lost their lives. A dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Don Schwind this morning said police still were searching for Fatemi.

The announcement of Mossadegh's capture gave no details beyond saying that the ailing former premier, his wife and children were removed from the Iranian capital under the protection of the new pro-shah government.

Gen. Zahedi said the shah had instructed him to prevent Mossadegh being lynched by the street crowds. Zahedi added that Mossadegh would stand public trial.

"We will wait for the nation to say what should be done with him," Zahedi said.

Whereabouts of Mossadegh was not disclosed.

Tehran radio said some people were injured in the street fighting this morning. There was no elaboration.

The vagueness of the announcement about Mossadegh's capture led to speculation that Zahedi's regime might have made the broadcast in the hope of breaking the spirit of pro-Mossadegh groups.

British informants said the Iranian people now were in such a volatile state that almost anything can happen there in the next few hours or days.

Rupert Planes Set When Weather Good

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP)—An oil slick on an isolated island sound and reports of a wandering plane along the coastal inlets led Wednesday to a stepped-up search in southeastern Alaska for a missing New Mexico plane with five persons aboard.

Today military, private and commercial planes in B.C. and Alaska are awaiting better weather to continue the search.

The clues were the only ones so far in one of the north's largest aerial searches, in which 28 military aircraft of the United States and Canada are participating. Dozens of small-plane pilots yesterday also scanned an estimated 6,000 square miles of southeast Alaska while most of the military planes concentrated on the British Columbia mainland.

DIRECTLY WEST
 An oil slick was found at the mouth of Moira Sound on Prince of Wales Island. That is almost directly west of the Annette Island airport from which Ellis Hall, 54-year-old Albuquerque oil man took off with his wife, two daughters and 17-year-old Patrick Hibben late Monday.

Private and commercial planes based at Prince Rupert are ready to join the search today, as soon as weather conditions permit.

With the Aero Club organizing operations, a large area stretching eastward from Portland Inlet has been laid out as the ground to be covered. Under the plan, a Queen Charlotte Airlines plane operating out of Prince Rupert will cover a section along the Naas river to Lava lake and southward.

Three other aircraft belonging to the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., Nelson Bros. Fisheries and the Aero Club will base their operations at Lakelse lake. They will search the terrain north of Terrace extending from both sides of the Skeena river.

The CM & S aircraft is a Beaver piloted by Neely Moore and the Nelson Bros. plane is a Cessna flown by Bill Tocker. The Aero Club's Taylorcraft is expected to be piloted by various members of the club.

Canadian Pacific Airlines is co-operating in the search by providing exchange of information. Its crews are instructed to keep watch for the missing plane in the course of their scheduled flights.

Kitimat To Surpass Arvida Asserts Editor from Quebec

An outstanding feature of Kitimat is the civic spirit which is already making itself felt in that new community, in the opinion of Aime Gagne, editor of the Quebec weekly "L'Ingot," who arrived here today.

"You can tell people like it there in the friendly way they meet you and their eagerness to help," Mr. Gagne said.

"They also take great pride in their homes and even those living in trailers are planting attractive gardens and making their place look as nice as they can."

Arvida, where Mr. Gagne's paper is published, has something in common with Kitimat in that it was also developed by the Aluminum Co. of Canada.

"It is the most modern town in Canada, but Kitimat is going to surpass it," Mr. Gagne said. "After all, Arvida is 25 years old and many of the town-planning ideas going into Kitimat had not been developed that far back."

Mr. Gagne said that almost everybody he met during his four days in Kitimat, wants to stay there and to have relatives and friends live there, too.

"I met one French-speaking Canadian from Quebec like myself who wants to bring out all his brothers to go into business with him," he remarked. "And he has plenty of brothers."

Four Rescued By Helicopter

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Four injured hunters, including two prominent Detroit businessmen, were snatched to safety Wednesday by a United States Air Force helicopter from a 5,500-foot peak where a downdraft had dashed their twin-engine plane.

The helicopter ferried the four marooned men from the Brooks range peak to the village of Bettles, about 80 miles south.

The most seriously injured man, identified as Albert LeClerc of Detroit, remained at Bettles for treatment.

MAN REGRETS KINDNESS OF OBLIGING "NEPHEW"

MANSFIELD, La. (AP)—A young man walked into the Desoto parish court house Wednesday and asked Sheriff Harmon Burgess if an uncle could sober up on a jail cot.

Burgess said the man put his uncle to bed and left, saying he would be back later for him.

When the older man sobered up, the sheriff related, he said he didn't have a nephew, then discovered he didn't have a car either.

An alert was out today for a young man driving an automobile loaded with luggage, a television set and several small appliances.

Completely Communized Romania Miserable and Drab

First time in five years...
 NATIONAL RESTLESSNESS
 But deeply hidden, there is national restlessness and even a little organized resistance.

As feudal princes and Fascists before them, the Communists have substituted murder for life and dictatorship for liberty. If there ever was real happiness or gaiety in a land of hungry peasants and wealthy landowners, westerners who know the past say there is less today.

"Nowadays, when we want to celebrate and be happy, we have a party when a friend comes out of jail," said a former middle-class woman.

Life has been communized to the smallest detail of existence. Individuality, which despite oppression always marked the national group of Germans, Hungarians, Greeks and Romanians, seems to have disappeared.

SAME CLOTHES
 Men wear the same shirts and shabby trousers and women identical cotton prints from the machines of the Gheorghiu-Dej ready-made clothes factory. The necktie has been abolished except for the new Communist aristocracy and costume jewelry is a rare, luxury item.

To remain unshaved is the mark of the "new man." "Tovaras" is the new greeting.

Recreation has been mass-organized to the extent where even a Communist worker said: "I have to get away for a few hours on my bicycle to escape the street radio." But he can't go far without police checks.

Hour after hour, insistent, nerve-shattering and deafening loud-speakers on the streets mix propaganada with Russian music. Radiofication—as it is called—pipes controlled programs into loudspeakers which cannot be adjusted in thousands of town and village homes, factories and farms.

NO INDIVIDUALISM
 No time is allowed for individual thought or action. If not attending political lectures or "cultural" events, the Romanian today is rushed in buses to take part in parades.

"Only the party big-shots can see the parades," explained a Western diplomat. "The public is forced to march in them."

With its own peculiar morality, communism cut out completely Bucharest's once-gaily night life. Golf courses have been made into military training grounds, gambling casinos

Five Fined Total of $350

Fines totaling $350 were levied in police court this morning by Magistrate Vance when he adjudicated the cases of five persons charged after an accident and resulting fracas in front of the Totem theatre, Saturday, July 18.

Found guilty on charges of impaired driving were George Turner and Kenneth Bruce Harris both of whom were fined $50 and costs; Turner and Harris were also found guilty of obstructing a police officer and fined $50 each. Vina Turner was fined $15 and costs for intoxication under the Indian Act and Henry Tait and Andrew Derreck were found guilty of assaulting a police officer and both were fined $100 and costs.

The affray occurred after an accident at the corner of Third Avenue and First Street, when a car driven by Harris knocked down Titus Campbell of this city, who was crossing Third Avenue with his ward, Judy McCartenay.

Harris changed seats with Turner who parked the car and according to evidence when police officers attempted to place Turner and Harris in the police van resistance was offered. During the struggle Derreck and Tait came to the aid of the arrested pair.

Stroke Fatal To Local Man

Charles Morris, 57, collapsed and died in the Ross Brothers billiard hall, Second Avenue, at about 5:45 last night. The Prince Rupert fire department rushes its inhalator crew to the scene but were unable to help the stricken man. Dr. L. W. Kergel and deputy coroner George J. Dawes attended.

It is believed that Mr. Morris suffered a heart attack.
