BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Mr. Meek Makes Hay With Some Spades

Usually, it's your rebid, not your opening, that shows the full strength of your hand. When you open with one of a suit and partner responds with one no trump, you know game is unlikely unless you have opened a very strong hand.

If you have nothing extra and a balanced hand, you pass. If your hand is unbalanced you either make a simple rebid of your first suit or bid two in some biddable suit lower in rank than your first suit.

However, if you have considerably more than the requirements for an opening, you should take more vigorous action. Mr. Meek had a fine hand in today's deal.

He had no second suit to bid and his hand was not suited to no trump play. But he had an excellent spade suit and decided that chances for game were good if Mrs. Keen had more than just a minimum no trump.

He therefore jumped to three spades which told Mrs. Keen a story as outlined. With a "top range" no trump bid, Mrs. Keen went on to game.

Mr. Abel opened the queen of clubs which was taken with dummy's ace. Here Mr. Meek went into a huddle. This irritated Mr. Muzzy, who was kibitzing the game. "What are you waiting for?" he whispered fiercely. "You've got 10 cold tricks. Let's get the rubber over."

"I'm trying to see what could go wrong," replied Mr. Meek with typical caution and pessimism. Finally he decided he could not be beaten unless one opponent held all five outstanding trumps.

At trick two he led a small club and ruffed it. He laid down the king of spades and actually seemed happy when his worst fear was realized. He went to dummy with the ace of spades and ruffed another club.

Then he took his side tricks. When they got by without being

"See?" said Mr. Muzzy, who would not have played the hand this way at all. "I told you there were 10 cold tricks."
