

First Native To Enter Anglican stry, To Be Ordained Here Sunday

Services at St. Andrew's Cathedral tomorrow will mark a series of events for the Church of England.

The Very Rev. Northcote Burke, dean and rector of Christ Church Cathedral in Vancouver, will be guest preacher at the service. He arrived here by plane today.

Paul Mercer, a native of Alayash on the Naas River, will be ordained deacon, to serve Miller Bay Sanatorium, Port Edward and the canneries on the Skeena.

Rev. Graham Tucker, MA, BD, of Montreal, will be ordained into the priesthood, to serve the Kitimat and Kemano area.

A beautifully-carved altar rail will be dedicated to the memory of Archdeacon Collison, archdeacon of Metlakahla and the first missionary to the Haida on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Mr. Mercer has been a church leader and lay reader among his own people for nearly 30 years.

Born in Alayash, he received his initial Christian training from the Rev. J. B. McCullagh, pioneer missionary of the Naas River area, and the respective bishops of Caledonia. A few years ago he was lay delegate to the general synod of the Church of England in Canada at Winnipeg, where he met the Archbishop of Canterbury who was a special guest at the synod.

Rev. Tucker will be the first resident incumbent of any church in Kitimat. He has been working there since June of this year and already has plans under way for construction of a church in Kitimat.

Archdeacon Collison was the first clergyman in the diocese of Caledonia. He first came to Metlakahla in 1873, moved to Masset in 1876 and returned to Metlakahla in 1882. He later served at Kincolth.

He wrote a history of the natives of the Charlottes, "In the Wake of the War Canoe," still considered an authority on the Haida.

Archdeacon Collison travelled between Masset and Kincolth in Haida war canoes at least 17 times.

Dr. J. A. Macdonald of Prince Rupert is a grandson of the archdeacon, whose youngest son, J. Maxwell Collison, a retired oil agent, resides at Smithers. Another son, still active in church work, is Archdeacon Henry Collison of Comox. The late W. E. Collison, one time Indian agent lives here by boat Wednesday to present the second concert in the current Alaska Music Trail series at the Civic Centre.

The group will be headed by Earl Mah and Mrs. Wong along with Rolly Miles, secretary.

Mr. See will be taken on a sight-seeing tour of Prince Rupert and district before he returns to give Alaska Music Trail members a concert of the same calibre which won him unparalleled plaudits in Australia.

Following the concert there will be a reception to which everyone is invited in the Civic Centre Teen-Room. Four local Chinese girls in national costume will serve at the reception.

MAN IN NEED

The Editor,
The Daily News—
J. T. Parker, 59-year-old pioneer of this district, lost his Rainbow Lake cabin and all his belongings in a fire Tuesday night.

He was out visiting friends when the fire struck, and when he returned he found the cabin completely razed. Losses included food, clothing and other personal effects, as well as a power chain saw with which he earned his living, cutting poles and fire-wood.

Mr. Parker has no near relatives to assist him, and no funds with which to replace the lost clothing and equipment.

If anyone would be kind enough to help him, would they please leave any contributions of work clothes or money at Hyde Transfer, where Mr. Parker is now staying?

Thank you.
—Mr. and Mrs. Nels Carlson.

Timely RECIPES

Do you get in a dither when unexpected guests drop in just at mealtime?

No need to, with canned salmon in your cupboard.

For the dish that's quick-as-a-flash to prepare, that's delicious, economical and nutritious, serve this bubbling hot casserole. It's truly a salmon delight—a delight to prepare and it will delight your guests as well.

It's a good idea to keep several cans on hand all the time for yourself and for those moments of fast planning when your ability to improvise is challenged.

SALMON-MUSHROOM CASSEROLE

1 tsp. butter
4 cups (2 lbs.) canned salmon
1/2 tsp. salt
Dash pepper
2 medium onions, sliced in rings
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup.

Melt butter in baking dish. Flake salmon, spread half of it in baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and scatter half of onion rings over top; add remaining salmon and onion rings. Dilute mushroom soup with half a can of water and pour over all. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) 20 minutes. Serves 8.

Salmon-Mushroom Casserole is delicious served with baked potatoes and buttered spinach.

Sliced tomatoes with French Dressing, followed by your favorite pie, make this a most tempting meal.
