

CIVID TURNED HIS BACK on four of Hollywood's most-glamorous women last week when, within a few days of each other, four movie queens flopped in real-life love roles. Dr. Lew Morrill walked out on Rhonda Fleming (top left); Zsa Zsa Gabor (top right) tearfully told a divorce court that George Sanders would rather be a bachelor; pixie-ish Leslie Caron (bottom left) was divorced by wealthy George Hornel; and Corinne Calvert (bottom right) confessed that she accidentally took four sleeping pills because she was so upset over her divorce for John Bromfield.

WITH A HUFF AND A PUFF, five-year-old Christine Clark horns into the proceedings during a recent Brass Band Championship contest at Westminster in London. She probably didn't squeeze much sound from the big B-flat bass—but don't worry. There was plenty of noise as 54 bands struck up in competition.

A GOLDEN CAGE with birds on a green one-piece swim suit was an eye-catcher at a recent bathing suit show at the George V Hotel in Paris. The three bottom rows and the bars running down from the neck band are braided with golden threads. The white birds give a "three-dimensional" look.

MRS. HEDVIG WALLIN, who observed her 90th birthday on April 4, proudly boasts that she tops five generations. She has eight children, 20 grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren, and four great-great-grandchildren. She is also proud of the fact that she can still crochet without the aid of spectacles.
