Journing For King Over, But Reporter's ity Has No Picture of Queen Slander Suit

A perplexing problem confronts Prince Rupert city council. Who buys, sends or gives the city the picture-or pictures

With the termination of the official mourning for King George coming to a close on Saturday, council discovered to amazement this morning that they have no picture of he present monarch—Queen Elizabeth II.

Black ribbon now draped over the picture of King George to be removed and members feel a picture of Queen Elizabeth should be hung in its place in the council chamber . . . but hey haven't got a picture.

Dismissed

VOL. XLI, No. 127

VANCOUVER (CP)-Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker Thursday dismissed with costs a slander action brought against Police Chief Walter Mulligan by Ronald Haggart, Vancouver Sun re-

Haggart claimed statements attributed to the police chief impaired his usefulness as a newspaper man and reflected on his personal integrity.

The Supreme Court jury decided in favor of the judgment or the dependant after deliberating 45 minutes. Mr. Justice Whittaker then dismissed the action and ordered Haggart to pay costs.

Action was the outcome of newspaper stories carried a year ago on so-called jail thefts at police headquarters here.

Haggart's counsel D. A. Sturdy said that following reports on
