PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Eddie Sawyer, fired last June as manager of Philadelphia Phillies, announced today he is quitting baseball in favor of private busi-

Sawyer, former Ithaca, N.Y., college professor, who directed the Phillies to the 1950 National League pennant, was removed in mid-season this year as manager and given a job in the club's front office. He was succeded by Steve O'Neill. His retirement from baseball leagues dispelled rumors that Sawyer would succeed Fred Haney as pilot of the Hollywood club in the Pacific Coast League, Haney recently was named manager of Pittsburgh Pirates, a post for which Sawyer also had been mentioned.

"I wouldn't be interested in minor league job," Sawyer said at his home, where he is recup erating from a grippe and virus

Sawyer was in the first year reported $35,000 a year, plus bonuses based on attendance. when he was dismissed. He has at least $70,000 coming to him under the contract even if the bonuses were voided.

He said he expected to reach an amicable adjustment of the contract with club president Bob Carpenter.

Muzzy Can Throw Away

Mr. Champion had a sad lot of choices for his opening lead in today's hand. He finally decided on the 10 of clubs and, while this was as good as any, it was unfortunate as it gave Mr. Muzzy a chance to give the contract away at the very first trick. The trey was placed from the board and Mr. Muzzy unhesitatingly went up with the ace. If he had played low on this trick Miss Brash would not have had a chance to bring home her optimistic contract.

At trick two Mr. Muzzy returned a club and dummy's king won. Miss Brash took three rounds of trumps, ending on the board. She led the queen of diamonds, Mr. Muzzy covered with the king and the ace won.

Two small diamonds were now discarded from dummy on the queen and jack of clubs. Miss Brash then cashed the jack of son diamonds, returned to her hand 1 H with the ace of spades and ruff- 2 NT ed her last diamond. She then spread the hand for six-odd.

"A very nice catch you made with your ace of clubs, Muzzy," sneered Mr. Champion. snared the trey from dummy and the four from the closed hand. Didn't you ever hear of using an ace to kill a king?" "How did I know Miss Brash didn't have a singleton?" asked Mr. Muzzy lamely. Mr. Champion snorted in disgust. "She bid no trump, didn't she?" he growled. "Even she doesn't bid no trump with a worthless singleton in an unbid "I resent that word 'even'."

smiled Miss Brash. "Well, you might have had a lone club," went on Mr. Muzzy desperately. "That would give Miss Brash a six-card club suit which she never mentioned," barked Mr. Champion. "I couldn't see in her hand, said Mr. Muzzy. "I can't read the backs of the cards,"

"The fronts either," said Mr. Champion. BLONDIE

Mr. Champion was mean-but right. The ace of clubs certainly, should have been saved to capture dummy's king. In that case. Miss Brash could have discarded only one diamond from dummy and would have had to lose a club and a dia-
