INABILITY IO DRIVE CAR NO BAR TO SCOOTER OWNER

A person seeking a licence to drive a motor scooter does not have to be able to drive a car, H. W. Harding, government agent made it clear this morning.

He was commenting on a Daily News story yesterday which recorded the plight of Theresa Pfeiffer who had a scooter but couldn't immediately get a test. The News was told a driver of a scooter had to have a car-driver's licence, and Thereasa couldn't drive a car.

Mr. Harding said that providing a person with a motor scotter can pass a test to the satisfaction of an examiner, they can have a licence. The same regulation applies to a motor-

Later yesterday, followed by a police car, Theresa demonstrated that she was able to drive a motor scooter and got her licence.
