WHILE THEY LAST

I MANAGER GOES THROUGH some pretty trying moments during a baseball game, and Dodgers pilot Walt Alston is no exception. These candid studies of Alston show him sweating out a contest at Ebbets Field. As play progresses, he shows signs of worry and anxiety, flinches at a bit of bad luck, hange his head in despair, tugs at his chin, and finally goes into an I'-can'tlook-any-more pose. Things aren't really that bad for the Brooks. Despite injuries plaguing the team, there's still Don Kewcombe and the Dodgers are way out in from in the National League race.

Have you driven a Ford...lately.?

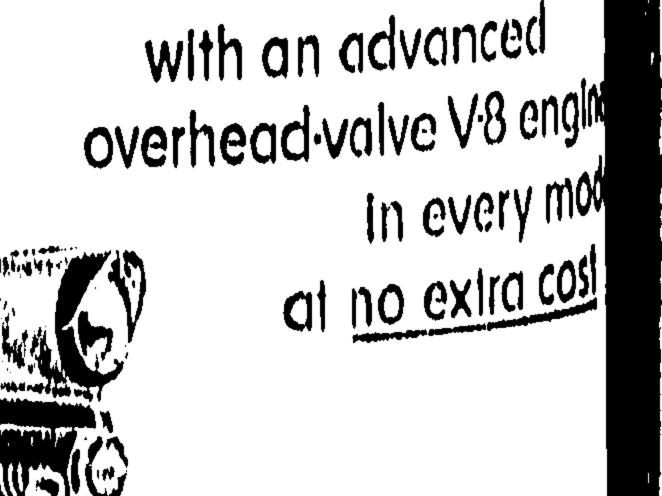

Take. 10 minutes at the wheel... lose your heart to HOrd-the Put yourself in this picture for 10 minutes and enjoy a totally new driving experience, surrounded by the luxury of Ford's fushion-first interiors. You'll know that you're driving a great V-8 engine—an overhead-valve V-8 (162-Hp. or 182-Hp.) with Trigger-Torque power-because it responds like magle to every command. And, be the road rough or smooth -- you'll feel a new kind of riding smoothness, a new kind of steadiness and steering control. That's Ford's famous Angle-Poised ride, at with ball-joint front suspension.

Yes, 10 minutes behind the wheel and you'll know why Canadians coast to coast agree . . . there's no value like Ford V-8 value!
