

City Girl Wed in Rites At Annunciation Church

Prince Rupert and Vancouver families were united April 28 when Miss Joyce Ertzert, daughter of Mrs. Mary Low of Prince Rupert became the bride of John Angus Loring Gillis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Gillis, Vancouver, in the Church of the Annunciation.

Father H. E. Tugney officiated for the early morning wedding ceremony.

For the occasion the bride chose a pink cocktail-length gown fashioned of dotted nylon-net and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Miss Alice Ertzert attending her sister as bridesmaid wore a blue nylon-net cocktail-length gown and pink carnations.

Groomsman was Carl Ertzert, brother of the bride.

At the reception held at the home of the groom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Campbell, Vernon Dexter proposed the toast to the bride.

Receiving the guests the bride's mother wore a two-piece grey suit while Mrs. Campbell wore a two-piece blue suit.

Serving from the bridal table, centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, were Mrs. Robert Simonds and Mrs. Harry Campbell.

Reception music was supplied by Harry Campbell and Herbert Carlick.

Newlyweds are making their home in Prince Rupert.

The hat is decked with egret feathers which are under a Canadian Import ban. Mrs. Ross, who didn't know feathers were illegal, bought the hat in Montreal for $750. She voluntarily turned the hat over to the RCMP who said no charges would be laid against her. (CP Photo).

In The Centre

By RUSTY
The Centre has been really hopping the past few weeks and this Friday and Saturday will be no exception.

On Friday night everyone should be tapping their toes to the music of local artists at the "Hillbilly Hoedown." This is no ordinary Ozark like show, as this one will not only have a stage setting as back drop, designed and painted by Shirley Hill but the boys from the hills will be all decked out in their southern costumes. The hoedown starts at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

Saturday evening at 8 p.m. in the gym, the Teens will be out to capture the title the adults won at the last Adult versus Teen competition about a month ago. In the last competition, the adults proved that they were not as old and decrepit as most teens think they are by capturing both basketball games. Saturday's competition will include basketball, relay races, basketball throw, table tennis and mixed badminton doubles.

Don't forget—The Jay-see written Teen Road—6-0 ex-rn, Saturday afternoon, May 12, Hillbilly Hoedown, May 11; Teen vs Adult Night, May 12; Folk Festival, May 18.

See you in the Centre!

Garages, Driveways Need Clean-Up, Too

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

WHILE YOU'RE BUSY with your "Spring cleaning" inside the house, why not have the man of the family extend the clean-up campaign to the garage and driveway? Debris in these areas presents serious safety hazards to everyday living.

In addition to being a shelter for the family car, the garage is frequently a convenient storage area for lawn equipment, plant sprays, insecticides, old rags used for cleaning the car, a spare can of oil, an extra gallon of gas (just in case), anti-freeze drained from the car, a few cans of old paint, rubbish and wastepaper. In fact, there's often no room for the car.

If this condition exists in your garage, you're asking for trouble—particularly if there are small children in the family.

Naturally inquisitive youngsters love to snoop and play in garages. And they could injure themselves seriously by starting a fire, falling on stray sharp objects, or sampling insecticide.

Paul Jones, National Safety Council consultant, has a few "do-it-yourself" suggestions for eliminating these safety hazards. First, provide adequate storage space, divided into convenient sections, for all loose, and subsequently dangerous items. If necessary, increase the width of the garage by a few feet. This additional space will solve most of the storage needs for an average family.

One section can house heavy lawn equipment such as the lawn mower, rakes, hoes, spades and shovels. Another section, constructed with shelves, will keep plant sprays, anti-freeze, insecticides, etc., away from children's curious hands. Doors on this section, along with a lock and key, will assure their safety.

Small objects that clutter up a garage (nails, hammers, trowels, grass shears, etc.) might be kept in the drawers of a work bench, conveniently built into another section of the storage area.

Next, throw away all greasy rags. Just a small spark could start a fire. For further protection, keep the garage floor free from grease and gasoline—a grease receptacle under the car motor will help.

Safety in the driveway is also an important Spring project. Trees, bushes and other obstacles which block the driver's view of approaching traffic in the street should be cleared. Backing out of a driveway "blindly" is extremely hazardous.

True, "Spring cleaning" can be a chore. But keeping in mind the safety benefits to your family will make the task much easier.

Ever Since Eve
HAVE YOU EVER HAD trouble getting grease spots out of cotton dresses? New finishes that prevent wrinkles and give material other special qualities may be the reason. The special finishes are put on with a resin. The resin collects and holds the grease and makes it more difficult to wash out spots. When this happens, it is suggested you start with a warm concentrated solution of the soap or detergent that you use for washing cottons. Rub this into the stained area, from the back of the material if you can. Then wash the garment in the usual way.

FRANCOIS LAKE NEWS

Ferry Making Daily Trip Across Lake
By AGNES H. NEAVE
Daily News Correspondent
FRANCOIS LAKE—The ferry came across for the first time this year on Tuesday afternoon. It took nearly an hour and a half to make the crossing as the ice was holding it back, and at one time it nearly stopped. Only men were allowed on board on the trial trip, and more than 20 came across just for the ride and to watch the boat push through the ice. The ferry is now coming across several times a day but will probably not be on schedule for several days, until the ice has gone. The people living south of the lake are surely happy to be able to get out without having to drive around the lake.

One lone swan is spending its time swimming in the water at the edge of the lake and in the cleared space where the ferry turns and the ice has broken up. It seems fairly tame and we are all getting a lot of pleasure watching it. It spends some time near the Gals ranch as they have a flock of geese, and they seem to attract the swan.

M. A. Carrico, industrial relations officer for the department of labor, called in on Wednesday on his way across the lake in connection with his work.

Mrs. Calder has been having a miserable time with a silver in her finger which drove in when she was cutting wood. She was unable to get it out and thought that it would work out. The finger swelled alarmingly and turned blue and her wedding ring was almost out of sight. She had to go to Dr. Thompson in Burns Lake who cut out a huge silver which was driven in so securely that he said it would never have worked loose.

When Cliff Routley and Jim Partington were driving to the Landing past the Church corner they surprised a yearling moose on the highway beyond of running up the bank and into the trees. It turned over the high-top and ran ahead of the truck. It landed right past the store and it was a magnificent thing to see it trotting past at such a pace with so little effort.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Walker called in for a visit with their friends Mr. and Mrs. Gibson of Quilbeam Beach. Mr. Walker who has a lodge at Goldfish Lake is anxious to buy several pack horses, but horses are scarce now as hardly anyone is raising them any more.

The monthly Women's Institute meeting was at Mrs. Kay Chapple's home in Burns Lake on Thursday. Plans were made for the forthcoming May celebration at the hall here.

But these days you can face fifty with many interesting and active years ahead.
