Improvements For Pool

IT IS encouraging to know that the parks-board is considering plans to develop facilities at the McClymont Park pool.

In particular, the proposal to erect a diving tower there merits attention. Although the pool quarters. And surrounded there is less than standard size, this is no handicap to divers. Their concern is depth not length, and in. this respect the pool meets requirements.

Besides being the most graceful of all sports, diving is wonderful training in physical coordination. It also helps youngsters feel at home in the water. Those who have attended the Kelowna Regatta and seen small fry by the score plunge without feaf or injury from the high-board will appreciate how much it means to have such facilities avail-

Bleachers are less important but if a set can be installed at reasonable cost, the undertaking would be worthwhile. The recent Swim Day was proof that occasions do arise when suitable seating accommodation is needed. If bleachers are installed, perhaps they will serve as an encouragement to stage more events at the pool which an audience can

The possibilities of making the pool a real summer attraction are unlimited.

CHODDY goods turned out by Russia's state-run Industries cost the hapless taxpayers of that country $800,000,000 in 1953, according to Soviet Finance Minister Zverev. Inefficiency, according to Comrade Zverev, is the biggest bugbear in Russia's planned economy.

Worth noting is the fact that in Russia, where all industry is nationalized, it is the taxpayer who has to bear the loss occasioned by inefficiency and poor workmanship. In countries where industry still functions in a free economy, the penalty of inefficiency and poor production falls not upon the
