TOMCRROW is Gyro Tag Day.

This is a fact which may be accepted without any particular interest and tags may be bought without a great deal of thought of the purpose bewhind them.

But for the record it is worth noting that the arnual sale of these tags has had an important part in the life of this city.

A few weeks ago, for example, hundreds of Ecitizens gathered around the pool at McClymont Park to watch youngsters compete in Swim Day. It was a lively and enjoyable occasion which left a bright memory of summer. But it was only made possible by the determination of the Gyros to build the pool in the first place and by the generosity of the public in replying to the Club's appeal for financial help.

That, however, is an isolated and not particularly representative instance. Day by day and year by year children enjoy the McClymont Park pools and the many other recreational facilities which the Gyros, with public support, have made available to them.

In common with other service clubs in the city, the Gyros have made it their duty to provide some of those things which cannot be included in the municipal program but which add so much to community pleasure. It is a duty which can never be completely fulfilled for there is always something delse to be done. The Gyros are looking ahead to other needs and, with the help of everyone, tomorrow will come that much closer to meeting them.

Tea Party

TEA party predicament was once met in novel fashion by the locomotive department of England's Great Western railway. During the year of Queen Victoria's golden jubilee, 1887, the city of Swindon decided to stage a mammoth fete and tea in New Swindon park as its part of the empirewide celebration. A problem promptly arose. But how could tea be made for the 15,000 people ex-/ pected to attend.

The Great Western came to the rescue. Four old locomotive tenders were shunted on to a siding well. Time and again he has stand up officially for world gov- the Kicking Horse Pass, and said to have purged his offence dumped into the tanks and the water was brought to a boil by live steam pumped in by a near-by locomotive, so that hot tea was served as fast as her majesty's loyal subjects could swallow it.

LONDON, England—There are MPs and Senators here from more than a score of countries and every human color skin is represented.

After listening to several of Mr. Gbedemah's speeches, and also chatting with him privately, do not wonder that this little country of Africa has become the focus of so many eyes, not only in Africa, but all over the world.
