

Legion WA Bazaar Most Successful in Years

More than $800 was realized yesterday afternoon and evening when the Women's Auxiliary to Canadian Legion Branch No. 27 topped all previous bazaar proceeds since 1950 in its annual "Legion Week" bazaar and bingo night, held in the Legion auditorium.

The money will assist the projects of the hard-working group who will buy new headstones for veterans graves at Fairview cemetery and also fulfill obligations to Shaughnessy, Essondale and Tranquille hospitals.

General convener for the highly successful affair was Mrs. Ronald Morrison, who introduced president Mrs. Robert Montgomery to a capacity filled auditorium. Mrs. Montgomery made the official opening at 2 p.m. and then received the guests.

A profusion of lavish displays in Canadian Legion blue and gold colors were attractively arranged throughout the hall while blue and gold streamers decorated the individual stalls. Eighteen tea tables were centred with fresh cut flowers in tones of blue and gold, which enhanced the pou...g table centerpiece decor of blue and gold tinted flowers, contained in a silver bowl, set with gold ribbon bows. Blue tapers in silver candlesticks completed the table setting.

Presiding at the tea cups were Mrs. William Wallace and Mrs. Daisy Wilson. Servers were Mrs. Keith DeWitt, Mrs. James Ciccione, Mrs. C. F. Simonds, Mrs. Douglas Guyatt and Mrs. Darrow Gomez.

Tea room hostess Mrs. Frederick Barber was assisted in the kitchen by Mrs. Myra Ryan, Mrs. Charles Love, Mrs. Peter McKee, Mrs. Gunwald Waage, Mrs. W. Davis, Mrs. Alice Houston and Mrs. F. Sherwood.

Mrs. R. B. Skinner and Mrs. William Bussey chaired the home-cooking table. Attending the sewing booth were Mrs. Arthur Holbrook and Mrs. J. H. Stannard. Handling woollens were Mrs. Richard Marshall and Mrs. A. G. Timms. Mrs. F. C. Hill convened the grumpy stall which featured home-made preserves, pickles and jams. Mrs. Douglas Kerr attended the hot dog stand.

Christmas candies were sold by Mrs. Douglas McGreish while Mrs. Arthur Berg and Mrs. A. F. Martin sold Christmas flowers.

Toys made by the veterans at Higheroft Veterans Home in Vancouver were sold by Mrs. Frank Graham. Sale from toys sent to the Higheroft Veterans Home.

Mrs. Bruce Love and Mrs. C. J. Walker were in charge of the candy stand and Mrs. James Williams and Mrs. R. J. Bone were in charge of the white elephant stand.

Ticket conveners were Mrs. Harold Anderson and Mrs. William Rothwell. Cashier was Mrs.

J. S. Black. Attending children in the baby sisters pool for members was Mrs. C. E. Carlson.

Members of the Branch No. 27, who contributed their services for the bazaar and bingo, were headed by Douglas Payne, Michael Schwab, Charles Mayo, Darrow Gomez, Harold Anderson, Joseph Rurka and Gunwald Waage.

WA members serving hot-dogs in the evening were Mrs. Thomas Ballinger and Miss Dorothy Ballinger.

Raffle winners were: Heather Baxter, doll; Mrs. J. Clark, blanket; Cathy Hebb, toy Santa Claus; Betty Williams, bouquet of poinsettia; Mrs. A. Fosshelm, child's Indian sweater; W. A. Timms, box of chocolates; Billy Saunders, Nativity scene; Mrs. A. Brunelle, croqueted chestfield set; R. N. Boychuk, cake; Vera Blackstone, dollies; and Charlene Ballinger, many nations dolls.

Bundled-Up, British Women View Beach, Summer Styles

By SYLVIA HACC
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON — While British women are trying to keep warm in chilly October weather, London fashion houses are showing films beachwear and summer clothes.

Constantly working one season ahead, manufacturers are doing their best to woo Britain's women to buy six months in advance. And they're succeeding. Many of the styles shown in recent collections will go into the stores around Christmas. By the end of April, there won't be too big a choice left.

In the past British women waited until warm weather arrived before buying cottons, but nowadays they're so fashion-conscious the tendency is to purchase around February.

COTTON POPULAR
The general trend of three leading fashion houses, Starke, Horrocks and Berklelex Continentals, is for cover-up cotton dresses for town wear in quiet screen prints or dark and pastel shades. All three use bold colors and dashy designs for play and holiday clothes.

Styles favored are the Empire and Princess lines. Bloused backs and slim skirts also are popular.

One innovation is the high-rise line — a full skirt lifted above the waist at the back. For this design the natural waistline is defined by an inner Petersham band.

Starke of London uses this in a brown-sugar dress patterned with black flowers. It has plain black shoulder-straps dipping to a vee at the back which meets the high-rise of the waistline.

This house also introduces gold dusted Indian prints resembling saris. One in mustard flecked with purple is used for a steeple-fitting gown with a sleeve attached.

Starke emphasizes high necks for summer wear. One sleeveless number comes in dark green tulle with high-buttoning shirt collar.

SMART BEACHWEAR
Berklelex Continentals, noted for their use of color, show beachwear and dresses in flamboyant tones. Sunsuits cut in the "bloomer" style or draped like sarongs are featured as part of four-piece outfits.
