MacDougall-Zogas Vows Heard at Annunciation

The Church of the Annunciation was the scene Saturday morning of a wedding ceremony, uniting in marriage Miss Mary June Zogas, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Williams, of 141 Second Avenue West, and Mr. Donald John MacDougall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. MacDougall, 1085 Ambrose Avenue.

Baskets of brightly-hued tulips and spring flowers banked the altar of the church. Rev. Father O. P. Mohan officiated at the pretty double ring ceremony.

The bride, in traditional white, was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. John Nicolichuk. Her floor-length gown of nylon tulle and lace over satin featured a strapless bodice and lace jacket, with Peter Pan collar and long point sleeves. A tatra of seed pearls and silver sequins held her fingertip veil of illusion net edged with lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of Pink Delight roses.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Lawrence Valentin, was attired in a pale blue gown of net-over-tulle with tiny bolero and matching blue headpiece. She carried a bouquet of pink and yellow carnations.

Mr. James MacDougall, brother of the groom, was best man. Mr. Melvin Murphy and Mr. William Cormier acted as ushers. Mr. John Currie was organist and Mrs. Matthew Burn, soloist.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the Canadian Legion auditorium.

Receiving the guests was the bride's mother who chose for the occasion an afternoon dress of navy blue with white accessories and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore an afternoon dress of navy with white accessories and corsage of pink and white carnations.

Bridal toasts were proposed by Father Mohan and Mr. James MacDougall. Mr. W. D. Smith was master of ceremonies.

A two-tiered wedding cake placed on an arrangement of green fern and flanked by flowers and candles centred the bridal table.

Servers were Miss Christine MacDougall, Miss Shirley Pierce, Miss Annett Windle, Mrs. James Glasier, Mrs. Louis Campagnolo and Mrs. A. T. Marshall.

Following the reception, the newlyweds left by car for a brief honeymoon trip to the interior. For going away the bride wore a knitted boucle suit of dusty rose topped with a white nylon short-sleeved coat and white accessories.

Upon their return to the city, the couple will take up residence at Seal Cove.

Rev. J. Roskam New Minister For Baptists

Members of the First Baptist church will have the opportunity this Sunday of hearing and meeting for the first time their new pastor Rev. J. A. Roskam formerly of Pentecost.

Mr. Roskam replaces Fred Anstros who left last December. The new minister and his wife arrived last weekend but a bout of the prevented Mr. Roskam from meeting his congregation as soon as he would have liked. They will be living at the Manse at 503 Green Street.

A member of the clergy for more than 25 years, Mr. Roskam was born near Sheldon, Iowa and first came to Canada in 1920. He is a graduate of Northern Baptist Theological Seminary, Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Roskam said he was injured to any type of weather, cold or hot, but was reserving judgment on the climate here. In Grand Prairie, Alta., where he served as pastor of McLaurin Baptist Church, he said it had on several occasions been as cold as 65 degrees below zero. In Pentecost from where he was just arrived, he said they have only 10 inches of rain a year.

He made no comment on statistics which show Prince Rupert's rainfall averages eight feet a year.

Joseph J. Gallant, Mary Rena Basso Wed in Church of Annunciation Rites

Father F. J. Rayner of Smithers officiated April 21 for the spring morning wedding, at the Church of Annunciation which united in marriage Miss Mary Rena Basso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Basso, 315 Ninth Avenue West, and Mr. Joseph James Gallant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Gallant, of Pictou, Nova Scotia.

Baskets of spring flowers formed an attractive setting when the bride wore a full-length original creation of diaphanous white sheer nylon over felle taffeta made bouffant with many edging. A jacket of leaf-patterned lace, featuring a stand-up lace collar and epauletted lace sleeves complemented her gown, while a crown of lily of the valley gracefully caught her veil of illusion net and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. John Hamilton as matron of honor, wore an afternoon length gown of blue nylon sheer topped with a sapphire-blue velvet jacket, a crown of hyacinths, white accessories and she carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Best man was Mr. John Basso Jr., while ushers were Mr. Stanley Wozney and Mr. Jack MacIntosh.

"Ave Maria" and "On This Day" were sung by Mrs. William J. Schaeffer with Mrs. D. J. Rowse as organist.

A luncheon followed at Club 27. At a reception in the Canadian Legion auditorium in the evening, the bridal table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake with the top layer in the shape of a heart and topped with a tiny crystal vase holding pink and white flowers. Blue and white tapers completed the picture.

Father Rayner proposed the toast to the bride and Mr. Basso Jr. proposed the toast to the matron of honor.

Mr. Tommy Boulter Jr. was the master of ceremonies.

For the occasion the bride's carried a bouquet of spring flowers. Little Miss Olanna Campagnolo as flower girl wore a frock similar to that of the matron of honor, featuring a ballet skirt and white accessories and bouquet of spring flowers.

Another wore a navy blue dress with grey accessories and a corsage of white and red carnations.

Mrs. T. J. Boulter, representing the groom's mother who was unable to attend, wore a black and white dress and a corsage of pink carnations.

Servers were Mrs. Stan Wozney, Mrs. Jack MacIntosh, Mrs. Arne Lien, Mrs. Harry Basso, Mrs. Louis Campagnolo Jr., Mrs. John Basso Jr., and Miss Ben Dumais.

The newlyweds left the following morning on a honeymoon trip to Lake Katchewan and for going away costume the bride wore a rose-grey suit styled with waist-length jacket and a tiny matching hat, shoes and gloves and a corsage of pink roses.

Upon their return they will make their home at Killas Christopher Apartments.

Swedish Actress Peeved At Hollywood Censors

HOLLYWOOD — Anita Ekberg, a blonde Venus from Sweden, today lamented that Hollywood covers up a girl's best assets.

Miss Ekberg, who played Miss Sweden of 1952, is the latest of a long line of actresses being broadcast in a volume "Hollywood: The Early Days of Marilyn Monroe." Unlike Miss Monroe, she is a talkative type and expresses easily. Her latest passion is what she considers an unfair cover-up.

"It's ridiculous!" she exclaimed. "When a girl comes to Hollywood, the first thing she is asked is her measurements. If she happens to have a good figure, the men whistle and carry on. The wardrobe women marvel about how great it is to have such a fine figure to dress."

"So what happens? You come on the set with an attractive costume that has a nice line of cleavage. The censor sees you and make you cover up, right to the neck!"

"I think that's wrong. If a girl has a beautiful bust with a nice curve to it, she shouldn't be covered up. She should be allowed to show her beauty. I don't mean that we should go around with nothing on above the waist. But she shouldn't be completely hidden, either."

The 24-year-old actress, who said her own measurements are 39 inches, said this over-zealous censorship is due to the American attitude toward sex. She declared that Swedes have a different viewpoint.

"The whistle at a pretty girl is an international language," she said. "But in this country men whistle at girls with more of an evil intent."

"It is different in Sweden. The body is considered a thing of beauty. Its beauty is to be enjoyed, not considered in an evil light."

"That's why nudity is featured in some of the movies made in Sweden. Boys and girls appear nude on the beaches up to the age of 3 or 10. I think it's ridiculous to see two-year-old girls at the beaches here wearing pun's and little strips of cloth across their chests."
