H. WELDON STEEL
. . . New bank manager

RONALD J. ALLEN
. . . Going to Vancouver

H. Weldon Steel Named B of M Manager Here

H. Weldon Steel has been appointed manager of the Bank of Montreal's branch in Prince Rupert. Formerly attached to the assistant general manager's department in Vancouver, he succeeds Ron Allen, who becomes a special representative of the banks' business development department, with headquarters in Vancouver.

Mr. Steel is expected to arrive here today.

Mr. Steel was born at Gladstone, Man., and attended Upper Canada College in Toronto. After graduation he returned to his native Gladstone and joined the bank there in 1924. After serving at three Winnipeg branches, he took up duties at the inspection department in that city. In 1941, Mr. Steel was appointed accountant at the bank's Yorkton, Sask., office.

A transfer to Winnipeg followed, and, over a period of almost three years, Mr. Steel served as accountant at a number of branches there. He has also held the post of acting secretary at the superintendent's department in Winnipeg. In 1952, after three years as accountant at the Victoria main office, Mr. Steel went to Vancouver as a credit officer at the assistant general manager's department. It is this post he leaves to come here.

During his stay at Yorkton, Mr. Steel was secretary-treasurer of the Civic Service Club. At Victoria, he was elected a director of the local chapter of the Cosmopolitan International. Golf, curling and bowling are his favorite sporting activities.

Ron Allen, who leaves Prince Rupert, is well known here and has many local ties. Although born at Kamloops, he came here at an early age and attended local schools. He went to England with his parents for five years, but returned to Prince Rupert again in 1910. He entered the bank in 1930 at the local branch, and, in 1953, returned as manager of the same office.

ROYAL CITY
GREEN PEAS

Ever Since Eve

WHETHER THEY'RE FRANKS, weiners or hot dogs—they're wonderful thanks to so many ways of serving them. Especially during the summer months, when we all try to keep cooking of big meals down to an absolute minimum, do we appreciate the many wonderful meals which can be prepared from packaged franks. Here are a few recipe variations which I do hope you will use and enjoy:

✦ ✦ ✦

KIDNEY BEANS AND FRANKFURTERS: Start your oven at 350° F. and get out a 2-quart baking dish or casserole. Chop 1 large onion fine; mash or crush 1 garlic clove and cook both in 4 tablespoons melted butter for about 5 minutes. Drain 2 1-lb. cans kidney beans and cut 1 lb. frankfurters in slices. Mix onion mixture with beans, frankfurters, ½ cup red wine, ½ teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper—thoroughly. Spoon into baking dish and bake 30 minutes or until beans are hot and bubbly. Serves 4 to 6 easily.

✦ ✦ ✦

CURRIED FRANKFURTERS: Chop 1 onion fine and 1 unpared apple in small chunks. Cook in 3 tablespoons melted butter, along with 1 crushed or mashed clove of garlic, until onions are limp. Stir in 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon curry powder and 1 tablespoon all-purpose flour as smoothly as possible. Add 1 cup of stock or 1 bouillon cube dissolved in 1 cup water. Toss in 1 lb. sliced frankfurters and cook mixture slowly for about 10 minutes. Stir frequently. Serve over 2 cups cooked hot rice. Serves 4.

✦ ✦ ✦

SWEET AND SOUR FRANKFURTERS: Cut 1 lb. frankfurters in pieces about 2 inches long and cook slowly in boiling, salted water for 5 to 8 minutes. Chop 1 onion coarsely; cut 1 green pepper in long thin strips; quarter 3 tomatoes. Now heat 4 tablespoons butter in skillet, add onion, green pepper, tomatoes, 1 can pineapple chunks and syrup. Mix 2 tablespoons cornstarch with ¼ cup water until smooth; add to mixture in skillet, flavour with ¼ cup white wine or vermouth and 2 tablespoons vinegar and stir in the drained frankfurter pieces. Cook slowly, stirring frequently for about 5 minutes. Taste to see if salt is needed. Serve over 2 cups cooked hot rice. Serves 4.

✦ ✦ ✦

HOW TO STORE FRANKFURTERS: Keep them in their original package, or wrap them loosely in waxed paper, saran or aluminum foil. Keep in refrigerator. Use within 3 to 4 days for peak flavour.

✦ ✦ ✦

TO HEAT FRANKFURTERS: Simmered: Drop frankfurters in a kettle of boiling water. Cover. Remove from heat or keep heat so low that water never boils. Heat 5 to 8 minutes. Remove with tongs. Never break skins with a fork.

Pan-broiled: Melt a tablespoon of fat in skillet or griddle. Add frankfurters and heat over a low temperature until brown on all sides. Use tongs as a turning tool.

Broiled: Rub each frankfurter with butter or salad oil. Arrange on broiler rack and broil 3 inches from broiling unit until evenly browned.

Four Hitch-Hiking Girls Give Advice To Sisters

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hitch-hiking this summer, girls?

Four young women who gave up their jobs here for a low-cost trip to Alaska gave this tip before they left:

The way to win rides is not to thumb down passing motorists. Instead stop, turn around and smile nicely at drivers.

"You have to go about it in a nice way," explained Eve Hickey of Oxford, England.

With Joy Chandler of London and Joyce Loomb and Valda Hudson of Auckland, New Zealanr, she headed for Prince George and along the Alaska highway to Fairbanks.

MIDNIGHT SUN

"We're fascinated by this midnight sun business," says Joy.

They plan to stay in the North about three months, then head for Mexico. The English girls are going on to Malaya while the New Zealanders aim for London, where they all hope to meet again some time.

Other tips the experienced hitchhikers, gained from earlier travels in Europe, Canada and the United States:

Get on the road early.

Don't frighten proud owners of new cars with large packs.

And never accept a lift from people who own red cars. They drive fast.
