U.S. Steel Mills Set For Strike Negotiators Still Talking

NEW YORK (AP) — Weary negotiators meet again today in a final effort to avert a country-wide steel strike at midnight.

Meanwhile, furnaces grew cold and silent as mills throughout the United States prepared for the threatened walkout by 650,000 steelworkers.

Representatives of the United Steelworkers of America and companies producing more than 90 per cent of the steel in the U.S. began talks more than a month ago to forge a new contract. The old one expires at midnight tonight.

But the negotiators were still stumped late Friday night with no progress reported.

DIFFER ON LENGTH

The steel companies have insisted on a five-year agreement to succeed the present two-year pact. The union says it cannot bind the steelworkers to so long a contract.

The company later cut its demands to four years and four months.

The steelworkers are "hot-really hot" against acceptance of the industry offer, union president David J. McDonald said on Friday.

The Eisenhower administration, meanwhile, took a hands-off attitude toward the negotiations for the moment.

City Air Cadet To Vancouver For Flying Course

The Gyro club of Prince Rupert today pledged its support toward sending a Prince Rupert swimming pool supervisor to a Canadian Red Cross Society Swimming and Water Safety course at Trail, B.C.

The money for the supervisor's fare will be taken from the Gyro Apple Day fund, a Gyro spokesman said today.

Giving on the course Monday is Stanley Fielding, a supervisor at the Gyro pool in McClymont park and holder of The Daily News annual swimming gala trophy.

He will take a four-day course in life-saving, artificial respiration and general water safety practices.

The move, instigated by Parks supervisor Rusty Thain, will give Prince Rupert the opportunity of having a qualified instructor to train future lifeguards at the local pool.

Establishment of classes here for swimming instructors will

NO CIVIC RECEPTION SLATED FOR MASSEY, MAYOR INFORMED

No civic celebration will be held here when Governor-General Vincent Massey passes through Prince Rupert July 13 and July 16 on his way to and from the Queen Charlotte Islands, Mayor George E. Hills announced this morning.

Mayor Hills said he had been notified by Mr. Massey's secretary that as the Governor-General had paid an official visit to the city in 1953, it was customary to hold no civic reception or other activity in connection with subsequent visits. Mr. Massey's secretary said that the Governor-General extended an invitation to the city's Chief Magistrate to visit him at his railway car on July 16, Mayor Hills said.

Halibut Price Down Slightly; First Salmon Reports Given

Three boats landed a total of 94,000 pounds of halibut from Area 2 yesterday at the Prince Rupert Halibut Exchange, with salmon fish bringing a price of 23 cents a pound down 6 cents from Thursday's average of 24.6 cents.

Large fish averaged 17.7 cents a pound, up a fraction of a cent from Thursday's 17.5 cents while smaller halibut remained at a level price of 14 cents a pound in all cases.

Individual landings, with prices per pound for medium and large fish in brackets are as follows:

Stalin's Dismissal Urged in Lenin Will

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Lenin's will, in which the founder of the Soviet Union urged his dismissal as Communist party secretary, was published today after being suppressed for 33 years.

The will, which described Stalin as "rude" and "capricious," was published by the Communist party in its magazine Kommunist.

The will consisted of a letter from Lenin to the 13th Communist party congress dated December 23 and December 24, 1922.

It had a postscript dated January 4, 1923, in which Lenin recommended the congress replace Stalin with someone "more patient, more loyal, more polite and more attentive to comrades, less capricious."

The letter also contained a number of favorable as well as critical references to Trotsky.

This is the first time any praise of Trotsky—who had been Lenin's close associate—has been published in the Soviet Union since he was exiled by Stalin in 1927.

FEARFUL OF POWER

In his letter, a form of last testament written a year before his death, Lenin said that bad relations between Stalin and Trotsky "make up the greatest part" of the danger of a split in the party which he feared.

"In his estimation of Stalin's character, he said:

"Comrade Stalin, having become general secretary, has concentrated in his hands immense power and I am not sure whether he will always be able to exercise sufficient care in using this power."

Trotsky, on the other hand, although "the most capable member of the present central committee" was "excessively self-confident, carried away by the pure administrative side of power."

Lenin died. These two qualities of outstanding leaders of the party central committee, one of leading industrialists, split, and if our party does not take steps to prevent it could occur unexpectedly."

HOPED FOR CHANGE

Kommunist in a foreword to the document explained the circumstances in which Lenin recommended that Stalin should be dismissed was rejected by the party congress held three months ago. Lenin's will had been withdrawn.

Kommunist said: "This letter, according to the wish of V.I. Lenin was communicated to the delegations to the 13th party congress, which discussed the question of the replacement of Stalin in the post of general secretary. The congress delegation supported the retention of J.V. Stalin in the post of general secretary, bearing in mind that he would take account of Lenin's critical remarks and would be able to correct his shortcomings."

The testament was in fact never read out to the congress as Lenin had wished.

Kommunist said that after Lenin's death, the Communist party "ideologically defeated the Trotskyites, the Zinovievites and Bukharinites" and "insured the building of socialism in our country."

Largest Sea Cadet Group In Five Years Off to Camp

The largest contingent to go to camp in five years of Prince Rupert's Captain Cook Sea Cadet Corps, RCSC, sailed early this morning on the Union Steamship Camosan to begin two weeks of adventure, fun and training at HMCS Quadra, Coose Spit, Comox, Vancouver Island.

For two weeks on the Spit the boys will take courses in sailing, navigation, gunnery as well as swimming and other sports. They will be under the command of Sub-Lieut. M. E. Thompson, corps divisional officer, as far as Vancouver where he will turn the party over to Lieut. Ronald Murdoch of New Westminster.

Also sailing this morning were three cadets who are to take a seven-week course at HMCS Naden, Esquimalt. Cadet Petty Officer 2nd Class Charles Lindstrom will take a quartermaster's course while Leading Cadets Robert Duncan and Joe Kraupner will take leadership courses.

Starting at 10 a.m. there will be a parade of decorated cars, floats, bicycles and doll carriages from First Avenue to Algoma Park. Eight candidates for the Miss Prince Rupert contest will ride their sponsors floats and be introduced to the public at Algoma park.

Also at the park there will be children's sports, women's sports, a children's zoo, a tug-of-war and greasy pole contest and a barbecue.

Hugo Kraupner, parks commissioner and member of the Elks who has donated 250 pounds of beef for the barbecue said that conditions of the park had made it impossible to dig a proper barbecue pit. He said the meat would be processed at a locker plant, pre-cooked at a restaurant and weather permitting would be placed over a small pit similar to a barbecue in Algoma Park. If it rains, he said, the beef will be served in sandwiches at the two grand windup dances in the Civic Centre Monday night.

At 3 o'clock in Roosevelt Park the third game of a Rupert All-Stars-Ketchikan series will be played.

In the evening, outside the Civic Centre on the Centre's portable stage, the eight beauty queens will be introduced to the public by Canadian Broadcasting Corporation commentator Eliezer Lauri. Also slated for the outdoor show is a jitterbug contest and a square dancing exhibition.

At 10 p.m. before the start of the modern and oldtime dances in the auditorium and gymnasium respectively, the winner of the Miss Prince Rupert contest, or in default sentenced to three months in jail, will be announced in the auditorium. The two dances will complete the day's festivities.

Peter Montchal Funeral Held

Funeral services for Peter Montchal, veteran of the First World War, camp cook and former janitor of The Daily News, were held yesterday afternoon from St. Andrew's Anglican cathedral. Mr. Montchal died Tuesday at the age of 70. He is survived by his widow Madge in Prince Rupert and two sons in Eastern Canada.

At the service conducted by Canon Basil S. Proctor the hymns "Breathe on Me Breath of God" and "Onward Christian Soldiers" were sung.

For the interment in the Canadian Legion plot took place, pallbearers were M. D. Montesano, Robert Parks, James Parks and R. J. Pollock. Bugler W. J. Rance played the "Last Post."

Monaco Heir Report Not Denied

NEW YORK (AP)—Rev. Francis Tucker said Friday he had no reason to disbelieve reports that Princess Grace of Monaco, the former actress Grace Kelly, is expecting a child. The Roman Catholic chaplain to Prince Rainier III of Monaco and a leading figure in the romance of the prince and film actress, said "I have heard the good news and I share the hopes of the Monaco people for the birth of a boy." There has been no direct word from the couple that they expect a child.

Reports of salmon catches in the Skeena show 1,450 springs netted last week, a fraction of a cent from Thursday's 1.75 cents while chinook salmon remained at a level price of 14 cents a pound in all cases.

United States vessels: Sunbelt 30,000 pounds (23.7; 18.0) sold to Pacific Fishers.

Group May Join Storage Workers

About 800 B.C. salmon tendermen have threatened to join 700 fresh fish and cold storage workers in a strike against coastal fishing companies in July, it was learned from Vancouver today.

Homer Stevens, secretary of United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, said the tendermen have applied for a government-supervised strike vote.

He said the men "overwhelmingly" rejected conciliation board recommendations in their dispute with 13 packing companies.

Fresh fish and cold storage workers will take a strike vote

July 6 and have a fixed July 14 as a tentative strike deadline. The vote will be conducted simultaneously in fish plants scattered from Vancouver to Prince Rupert.

The conciliation board recommended wage increases of $14

to $20 monthly for this year and $17.50 and $16 next year in a two year contract.

The union demand was for a

$40 monthly increase under a one-year contract and a minimum of $30 or 18 per cent for a two-year contract.

Other union demands were for more days off, compulsory check-

and a maximum 12-hour day

on ship.

Prince Rupert tendermen desiring to vote on the conciliation board report are asked to get in touch with Thomas Parkin, US

AWU northern representative at the Metropole Inn, Third Ave-

ue.

of inflicting a knife cut in her husband's back during an altercation at 6:45 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Paton told the court that at the time of the stabbing she was trying to break up a fight between her husband and another man.

Mr. Paton, who was taken to
