

35th Wedding Anniversary Marked by Eric Martins

Mr. and Mrs. Eric S. Martin, 420 Dunsmuir Street last Friday celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary with a turkey dinner in St. Andrew's cathedral hall and a party in their home afterwards.

Mr. Martin, an employee of the provincial Forest Service has for several years written a fish and game column for the Daily News under the name of "Marty."

The dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Martin was convened by their daughter Betty while master-of-ceremonies was Mel Bussey. Harry Wilkinson proposed the toast to the long-married couple.

Londoners both, Mr. and Mrs. Martin first met in New York City where they were married in the city hall there by New York's famous mayor the late Jimmy Walker. Mr. Martin was at college at the time while Mrs. Martin, the former Maude
