

Bateman Makes Clean Sweep at 'Spiel'

Scores Six-Ender To Win "A" Final

Alma Bateman's rink made a clean sweep at the Third Annual Bonspiel of the Prince Rupert Ladies' Curling Club, taking two firsts, the Grand Aggregate and one of the special prizes yesterday as the four-day 'spiel' wound up with a presentation of trophies after the finals last night.

Curling their fourth game of the day, the Bateman entry, skipped by Alma, with Olga Newton, third, Mary Brown, second and Kay Smith, lead, were six down coming home in their match with Lil Thom for the Grand Challenge. The weary quartet built up a house and skip Alma drew in the last rock to score a six-ender and tie the game. It was the third six-ender the rink had scored during the 'spiel' and the second that day.

The extra end saw the Bateman rink score one to take the match 11-10. It was the 10th win in 11 games for the rink and gave them the Grand Aggregate and the W. F. Stone Trophy.

Europe is estimated to have five-sixths of the whole world's supply of motorcycles.

IF FIVE-YEAR-OLD Bruce Grissom were willing to change places with any other small-fry, he'd get offers from all over the world. Uniform and all, he works out with his father, New York Giants' star relief pitcher Marv Grissom, in a situation which is a dream for most boys. Note that Bruce doesn't hide his grip behind his glove. He probably figures the ball is big enough to take care of that.

Rookie Scores Clincher To Give Habitants Win

BOSTON — The first playoff goal in the career of a Montreal rookie brought his club close to another Stanley Cup final Tuesday night as Montreal Canadiens twice came from behind to score an overtime 4-3 decision over the rugged Boston Bruins.

The goal by Don Marshall, scored at the expense of veteran Sugar Jim Henry, whose NHL career began when Marshall was nine years old, gave the Canadiens a commanding 3-1 edge in their best-of-seven semi-final in which they will have the advantage of home ice for the next game Thursday night.

Marshall's breakaway at 3:05 of the sudden-death overtime session was a heart-breaking finale for Henry, who had withstood a fluke goal and a two-stitch gash near his eye from a flying puck to play outstanding hockey in the Boston nets.

Tom Johnson's blue-line shot bounded in off the shin pad of Boston defenseman Bill Quackenbush early in the second period after the sturdy Bruins defence allowed the Canadiens only three shots at Henry in the scoreless opening session.

DEFLECTS LONG SHOT
Boston rookie Don MacKenzie tied the score by deflecting Quackenbush's long shot into the net with his back to the goal at 6:15 and the Bruins began to apply the pressure on the favored Montrealers.

Leo Labine finally lifted a 35-footer past Jacques Plante, a 60-minute performer in the Montreal cage as Canadiens coach Dick Irvin abandoned his two-platoon goaltending after his club's 4-2 defeat here Sunday night.

Floyd Curry tied the count with a short backhand with the Bruins shorthanded and

Sugar Ray To Continue Comeback

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, the man who gave up dancing in an attempt to regain the world's middleweight boxing championship, says he is going to keep right on the comeback trail.

That was the word from Sugar Ray Tuesday night after he had won a split decision over Johnny Lombardo of Mt. Carmel, Pa., in a 10-round bout at the Cincinnati Garden before 5,124 paying customers.

It was the third bout for Robinson since he came out of retirement. He won one and lost one but there had been some doubt as to how serious his comeback attempt was in view of his failure to meet a commitment to battle George Small in Boston three weeks ago. He claimed illness prevented that fight.

"If I have it, I will continue," Robinson said. "If I don't, I'll give up. This was the kind of fight you have to have to find out what you can do."

Through the early rounds Robinson did not look good. But he came along late, just when most of the ringsiders thought he would fade. He showed only an occasional flash of his one-time speed and hitting ability. There were no knockdowns. Robinson weighed 162 and Lombardo 153.

Red Wings Take Leafs In Four Straight Games

TORONTO — Detroit Red Wings have swept into the Stanley Cup final without really playing the explosive power that has made them National Hockey League champions for the last seven years.

They whipped, and sometimes toyed with, Toronto Maple Leafs Tuesday night for a 3-0 shut-out that gave them the best-of-seven semi-final series in four straight games. It knocked Leafs out of the running for big-league hockey's most prized award and sent the Detroiters into the final against either Montreal Canadiens or Boston Bruins.

In a word, it was class: the kind that prompted Detroit general manager Jack Adams to call this team possibly the greatest in Red Wing history.

LEAFS DISORGANIZED

Seldom were the Leafs, who finished third during the regular 70-game schedule, able to do anything about it. They dropped the first game 7-4, the second and third by 2-1 scores and were pitifully disorganized and frustrated in Tuesday night's engagement.

"We lost to a good club," said Toronto coach King Clancy, still

All-Alberta WHL Final Seen Likely

By The Canadian Press

The Western Hockey League finals are shaping up as an all-Alberta affair for the first time. Edmonton Flyers and Calgary Stampede, each sporting 3-1 leads over their coast opponents in the best-of-seven semi-finals, need only one more win to enter the finals.

Edmonton could wrap up their series tonight in Vancouver, where they meet the Canucks in the fifth game.

Calgary took a commanding lead in their affair with Victoria by whitewashing the Cougars 5-0 in the lone playoff game Thursday night.

Fifth game of the series will be played in Calgary Thursday night, with the sixth, if necessary, in Victoria Sunday.
