

Russian Win No Fluke

Returning Dutchies Praise Dynamo Play

MONTREAL (CP) — Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, whose defeat at the hands of Russia in the Olympic hockey tournament stunned Canadians, returned to Canada early today praising the Russians' ability.

Jimmy Dunn of Winnipeg, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, and coach Bobby Bauer of the Dutchmen agreed that every credit should be given the Russians for their win over Canada at Cortina, Italy.

However, they added, a few breaks in favor of the Dutchmen might have made a difference in the outcome of the game.

Bauer said the Russians were marvellous skaters, fast and well-trained, and lacked only deception in comparison with the Canadians.

As far as future Canadian Olympic hockey teams are concerned, in view of the steady improvement of teams overseas, Dunn and Bauer said the nucleus of a Canadian team should be made up of six or seven players from the Allan Cup winner and the rest of the team filled in with top players from other senior clubs.

For the world championships, professionals reinstated as amateurs might form the nucleus of future Canadian teams.

WRONG IDEAS

PICTON, Ont. (CP) — The average United States citizen thinks Canadians spend most of their lives on sleds or fishing through the ice, said Capt. R. McCord, U.S. Army officer here on exchange duty with the Canadian artillery. Canada, he said, is still "a strange place" to many in the U.S.

$8 Collected In Tax Fund For Joe Louis

YUMA, Ariz. (AP) — Five men who don't like to see Joe Louis crowded by the tax collector have started a drive to get the former heavyweight champion out of his income-tax jams.

Results haven't been sensational but the five sponsors did get $8 Thursday, their first day in business.

They deposited it in a special bank account they've opened under the name of the "Joe Louis Income Tax Fund."

The idea was born in the Sunshine barber shop. Three of the sponsors, Alex Gross, Cecil Huling and Henry Hernandez, work there as barbers.

Their associates are Henry Evar, a former boxer who works in a clothing store, and Roger Hoskins, who sells cars.

Hernandez and his colleagues figure Joe is about $1,000,000 behind on his taxes. Gross said the internal revenue bureau has informed them that if the money collected is sent directly to the treasury department, and not to Louis, the gift tax won't be levied on it.

They haven't been in touch with Joe yet to see what he thinks of the idea.

Remember When

By The Canadian Press

John L. Sullivan, last of the bare-knuckle world heavyweight champions, died at Abington, Mass., 38 years ago at age 59. His 10-year reign as champion ended in 1892 when he lost to James J. Corbett in the first title fight under Marquis of Queensberry rules. Sullivan, who spent much of his ring earnings on liquor, turned teetotaler in 1905.

Hockey fans in British Columbia's interior have it tougher than most—they have to keep a closer eye on their favorite teams when they aren't playing than when they are.

So far this season some of the best fights in the Okanagan Senior and the Western International Leagues have taken place off the ice, with the executives doing the fighting.

The latest fight blew up in the middle of the week when Ed Benson of Trail, president of the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association, ruled defenceмен Joe Conn off the ice for three games.

Conn, a Calgary-born 28-year-old with Trail of the WIHL, was suspended for striking a referee Feb. 2.

He was allowed to play one more game because Smoke Evers had run out of defencemen.

Glen Mason, president of the Trail club, said rookie Harry Smith broke a leg in practice.

Don Fletcher is still out with a three-week ankle injury and Yogi Kraiger has been suffering from severe charley horses.

Mason charged in an open letter Thursday Conn was suspended in "a spirit of vindictiveness."

Emile (The Cat) Francis turned aside 19 shots for his third shutout of the season while Boisvert kicked out 26.

Action tonight sees Seattle at Vancouver, New Westminster at Victoria and Saskatoon at Winnipeg.

Chadwick Goes Back to WHL After Gala Debut in Majors

By The Canadian Press

In three days Ed Chadwick travelled from the minors to the big time and back to the minors. But don't wager a cent that he'll stay there.

Ed's stay with the National Hockey League Toronto Maple Leafs was short. But it was also sensational.

Chadwick turned in another great game as substitute goaltender for Leafs Thursday night as they battled to a 1-1 tie against Bruins at Boston.

After the game, it was reported that Harry Lumley would be back in the nets for Leafs against New York Rangers Saturday. Chadwick headed for his regular job with Winnipeg Warriors in the Western Hockey League.

The 22-year-old native of Toronto showed the poise of a veteran as he stopped all but one of 36 Bruins shots.

It was the only game of the night and the result lifted Leafs back into fourth place with 43 points, one ahead of Boston and Chicago Black Hawks, who share fifth spot.

Chadwick was called up to Leafs Wednesday to replace Gil Mayer, who in turn was substituting for the injured Lumley. Chadwick responded with a spectacular effort that night as Leafs held the league-leading Montreal Canadiens to a 1-1 deadlock at Toronto.

In Thursday's game rookie centre Billy Harris gave Toronto a 1-0 lead in the first period and Real Chevrefils scored the tying marker five minutes later.

COOLER THAN LUMLEY

With Bruins buzzing about him, Chadwick patrolled his best like the policeman he is in the off-season at Keswick, Ont. He seldom went down and appeared much cooler than Lumley, who fidgeted and yelled from his press-box seat.

"I'd rather play," Lumley said at one point. "I'm going nuts."

Chadwick was at his best in the second period when he had 16 drives to handle. He blocked 10 in the first and nine in the third. Terry Sawchuk made 21 saves.

Canadians, who have 74 points 15 more than second-place Rangers and 16 points more than Detroit Red Wings, travel to Chicago for tonight's only game.

Athletic Director Resigns

SEATTLE (AP) — The man who fired four University of Washington coaches in 10 years gave himself the axe Thursday night in a bid for harmony at the troubled institution.

Stepping out of his reported $15,000 a year position as athletic director was Harvey Cassill, centre of an ever-growing storm of complaint and protest since he gave the boot Jan. 27 to Cowboy Johnny Cherberg, the football coach.

Cassill's departure, accompanied by lengthy expressions of regret from top university officials, followed by less than a day a closed session of the university's board of regents.
