

Mrs. O. R. Green Renamed Head of King Edward PTA

Mrs. O. R. Green was re-elected president of the King Edward school Parent-Teacher association last night when the group held its regular meeting and election of officers in the school auditorium.

Other elected were Mrs. J. S. Greer, secretary and Mrs. J. C. Wells, treasurer. Committee chairmen elected were Mrs. Graham Alexander, member; Mrs. Stan Veitch, magazine; Mrs. Lloyd Bowman, publicity; Mrs. Lloyd Rice, hospitality and Mrs. R. G. Moore, school education and bursary. Representatives appointed to local organizations were Mrs. R. Spiller, P.T. council and Mrs. Nell McLean, Dental Clinic.

Mrs. Myrtle Sidal was appointed historian and Mrs. Robert Player in charge of program. The meeting expressed the hope that the office of vice-president and a delegate to the Prince Rupert and District Music and Drama Festival association will be filled next fall. In reference to Dr. William Blenderleith's recommendations on the school accommodation within the city, the meeting voted in favor of a separate junior-senior high school.

Mrs. Player, delegate to the Prince Rupert association of Retarded Children, reported on the association's meeting last month and suggested that a letter of commendation be sent to the local branch for its work to date.

Following the business, a film "Peter and the Potter" was shown to conclude the evening.

Teen Talk

By SHANNON PALLANT

Friday night was the scene of boots and rollers and billowing skirts as we were whirled through square dances, jives, and waltzes. I think you'll all agree that our first dance was a great success and foretold a shining future for our local club. About 160 teens signed our registry book. We are certainly grateful for the wonderful music that Freddy Lang and his boys gave us. I'm sure they helped make our dance so successful. Chester Stewart and Leona Dominato won the jive contest, two're going to have to get Chester to teach us some of his jive steps. The door prize was won by Bob Mitchell and Charlene Choquette.

I haven't heard too much about the suggestion box. I guess we'll argue that out at our next mass meeting—May 25—(don't forget that date).

I guess the teenagers in this town just don't want to show up the adults. I see the adults are still leading in the Teen versus Adults nights. Saturday night the score was 40-20 in favor of the adults. Just give us another chance.

Too bad it rained Sunday. we sure could have kept hopping cleaning up Salt Lakes. I imagine we'll be going over this Sunday (weather permitting) so keep your eyes open. The cleanup should be fun as well as beneficial.

Tonight two Naval officers, from down South will be inspecting the Woodies and Sea Cadets. All those taking part should be all "slicked up," for you may have to parade through town, if the rain stops.

Remember this week is "Save A Life" week. There are lessons on artificial respiration every night this week at the City Hall. An hour of our time may make you able to save a life-time of somebody else!

Already, almost a year ago, started by and on Friday 49 stations will go through the recreational program. Commencement exercises, Bill Birch will give the valedictory and Dr. J. K. Frieson, head of the UBC Extension department, will be guest speaker. Later on in the evening the Graduation Dance, big as and best, will take place. Saturday there's the big banquet and Sunday, a picnic.

I'm sure all the teenagers will agree that the graduation class deserves hearty congratulations. Best of luck for the future.

Bishop de Blank, Bishop of Stepey, will be the speaker Friday night when the Prince Rupert Catholic club holds its annual meeting in the Civic Centre.

Bishop de Blank in the city at present to attend the Synod of the Diocese of Canada, currently being held at St. Andrew's cathedral.

The meeting, to be the last of the 1955-56 session, will see the election of officers for next year. The nominating committee is chaired by Mrs. T. Norton Young.

MARGARET S. STRACHAN HEATHER MACKENZIE BREWER
TWO NURSES WHO RECEIVED their diplomas at recent graduation exercises in Victoria and Vancouver are Margaret Stephen Strachan, daughter of former city residents Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Strachan of Victoria and Heather MacKenzie Brewer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Brewer, 738 Fourth Avenue East. Miss Strachan won three awards when she graduated from Royal Jubilee hospital in Victoria while Miss Brewer was one of the largest graduating class in the history of the Vancouver General hospital.

Jaycee-Ettes Enjoy Tour At Museum

A tour through the Museum of Northern British Columbia Monday night followed the regular business meeting of the Prince Rupert Jaycee-Ettes.

The group's main project this year is to aid the operation of the Museum in any way possible and members pledged assistance to Museum curator Mrs. Jocelyn Bolton during the tourist season.

Guided through the Museum by Mrs. Bolton, members reported that they were particularly impressed by the Indian display.

During the business session, a letter of resignation was accepted with regret from vice-president, Mrs. J. H. Jeffries. Mrs. Gordon Poffenroth was appointed to succeed her.

Mrs. Melvin Wells was appointed to the treasurer's position vacated by Mrs. Poffenroth.

Delegate to the Salt Lakes provincial park development board Mrs. Derry Roos gave her report on the board's last meeting Friday night.

Following the report, the meeting decided to continue its efforts in helping to clean up the Salt Lakes area.

Mrs. Arthur Williams was hostess for the evening.
