set ant for Newfoundland where Discarding Trump Opens Way to Avoid Squeeze

"Discarding" a trump sounds like complete folly. And yet that play is sometimes necessary to avoid being squeezed later in the hand.

In today's deal Mr. Muzzy led Luiu island mink-breeder of a the queen of diamonds against? the grand slam contract. Dummy's ace won, and Miss Brash saw that the hand was not a laydown. This was no surprise to her, as she is usually at least one trick too high.

SQUEEZE MIGHT WORK

However, there were several plays for the contract. It could be made if the jack of clubs dropped in three leads; and if that didn't happen, a squeeze might be developed if one opponent held his side's only guards for the clubs and hearts.

. Beginning at trick two Miss Brash cashed the ace, king and i queen of spudes. Mr. Muzzy discarding two small diamonds. Next she played the king of diamonds, led her last diamond and 1 car fulled it with dummy's jack of 3 miles

Here Mr. Champion made an unusual play. He dropped his last trump. Mr. Muzzy frowned of hearts, he let go the ten of
